

TWO RACE BALLOONS STILL MISSING

FATE OF PRESIDENT HOOVER'S REQUEST REMAINS DOUBTFUL

Poll Shows Close Vote
On Flexible Tariff
Clause

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The fate of President Hoover's appeal for retention of the flexible provision of the tariff bill, which would give him authority to change duties on the recommendation of the tariff commission, is in doubt in the senate, a poll by the United Press today revealed. Vice President Curtis may be called in to break a possible tie.

The poll showed that of the ninety-two senators expected to be recorded when the vote is taken this week, forty-five are opposed to the flexible tariff, forty-three are in favor of it and four are not recorded either way.

The four doubtful votes can throw the decision either way. They are: Johnson, Republican, California; Thomas, Republican, Idaho; Hendrick, Democrat, Wyoming; Dill, Democrat, Washington.

With ninety-two senators voting, the president's supporters will have to muster only forty-six votes.

In the case of a tie Vice President Curtis would vote with them; while to defeat the president his opponents will have to get forty-seven votes.

The United Press poll revealed thirty-two Democrats and thirteen Republicans will vote against the president. They follow:

Republicans: Blaine, Wisconsin; Borah, Idaho; Brookhart, Iowa; Cullum, New Mexico; Frazier, North Dakota; Howell, Nebraska; La Follette, Wisconsin; McMaster, South Dakota; Norbeck, South Dakota; Norris, Nebraska; Nye, North Dakota; Pine, Oklahoma; and Schall, Minnesota.

Democrats: Ashurst, Arizona; Barkley, Kentucky; Black, Alabama; Blease, South Carolina; Bratton, New Mexico; Brock, Tennessee; Caraway, Arkansas; Connally, Texas; Copeland, New York; George, Georgia; Glass, Virginia; Harris, Georgia; Harrison, Mississippi; Hawes, Missouri; Hayden, Arizona; Herlin, Alabama; King, Utah; McKellar, Tennessee; Overman, North Carolina; Pittman, Nevada; Robinson, Arkansas; Sheppard, Texas; Simmons, North Carolina; Smith, South Carolina; Stephens, Mississippi; Swanson, Virginia; Thomas, Oklahoma; Tydings, Maryland; Wagner, New York; Walsh, Massachusetts; Walsh, Montana; Wheeler, Montana.

Thirty-nine Republicans and four Democrats will vote with the president to retain the flexible tariff, the poll indicated. They are:

Republicans: Allen, Kansas; Bingham, Connecticut; Capper, Kansas; Couzens, Michigan; Dale, Vermont; Deneen, Illinois; Edge, New Jersey; Fess, Ohio; Gillett, Massachusetts; Glenn, Illinois; Goff, West Virginia; Goldsborough, Maryland; Gould, Maine; Greene, Delaware; Hatfield, West Virginia; Herbert, Rhode Island; Jones, Washington; Keen, New Jersey; Keyes, New Hampshire; McNary, Oregon; Metcalf, Rhode Island; Moses, New Hampshire; Eddie, Nevada; Paterson, Missouri; Phipps, Colorado; Reed, Pennsylvania; Robinson, Indiana; Sackett, Kentucky; Shortridge, California; Smoot, Utah; Steiwer, Oregon; Townsend, Delaware; Vandenberg, Michigan; Walcott, Connecticut; Warren, Wyoming; Waterman, Colorado; and Watson, Indiana.

Democrats: Broussard, Louisiana; Fletcher, Florida; Ramsdell, Louisiana; and Trammel, Florida.

FOUR PEOPLE KILLED

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—Four persons, including two unidentified negroes, were killed by autos here over the weekend. Mary Ingle, 14, was killed by a hit-skip motorist and Frank Anderson, 70, when he was crossing the street.

Represents Australia

A new portrait of Herbert Brookes, who arrived in Washington recently to represent Australia as commissioner general.

CAPTURE "KEY" MAN IN CLEVELAND GRAFT SCANDAL IN CHICAGO

NEW CATERPILLAR

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—The embarrassment of falling from an airplane had turned into a prison today for Captain Jack Butterfield, 34, air corps reserve officer, who qualified for membership in the Caterpillar club when he was forced to use a parachute to save his life while flying over Lunken Field, yesterday.

Butterfield was hurtled from an army Pt-1 biplane while on the underside of a "barrel roll" at a height of 3000 feet. After dropping 200 feet, Butterfield opened his parachute and landed in a cornfield.

SHEARER CALLED TO TESTIFY AT SENATE NAVAL LOBBY PROBE

Mystery Man Will Be Quizzed About Activities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—William B. Shearer, who called himself the big bass drum which made discordant noises at the unsuccessful Geneva disarmament conference, was summoned before the senate's naval lobby investigating committee today for examination about his activities for American shipbuilders.

Before Prime Minister MacDonald arrives here the end of this week to discuss with President Hoover a resumption of disarmament negotiations broken off at that conference, the committee hopes to learn from Shearer just what the shipbuilders had him do at Geneva and later in Washington.

Shearer marches to the witness chair as a dramatic and somewhat mysterious character. He was seen much in Washington in 1926 and 1928 when merchant marine aid legislation was under consideration in congress and when the shipping board was planning to aid that same branch of commerce. He brought a taxpayers suit in court here after the Washington arms conference seeking unsuccessfully to stop battle ship scrapping. He turned up at Geneva later, his purse amply filled and his brief case bulging with statements containing many figures he says were known only secretly in the navy.

No one seemed to know who was paying him until a month ago he filed a suit in a New York court asking a judgment against three American shipbuilding companies for about $240,000 which he contended was due him in addition to the $52,000 he had already received. The suit was lodged against the New York shipbuilding company, the Bethlehem shipbuilding corporation and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, whose officials have told the committee Shearer was employed at various times as an observer and consultant.

Never claiming to be unassuming Shearer with a booming voice, is a double for Wallace Berry, the motion picture actor. He served in the navy briefly during the Spanish American war and for ten days during the World War. He claims to have invented a one-man torpedo boat during the war, but tests were not wholly successful. He is well known by the personnel at the navy department, but there the available record of his activities ceases.

IDENTIFY SLAIN MAN

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—Edward Moorehart, 28, slain here last week by a patrolman when found coming out of a Kroger grocery has been identified as Neville Crowe, Rome, Ga., by two men who say they were with him four or five years ago that he once cut the throat of a policeman in Detroit.

APPRECIATION

FOR RENT—6 room house on Hivling St. Gas and electricity. See E. A. Sanz.

Mr. Sanz fully appreciates the quick results he obtained through his CLASSIFIED AD carried for a few nights in THE GAZETTE. Daily, you come into contact with users of GAZETTE CLASSIFIED and learn of the satisfaction obtained through a small investment in this type of advertising. Learn for yourself.

CALL 111

COSTES MISSING

DIEUDONNE COSTES, French flyer and his companion, Maurice Belonte, have not been heard from since starting on a mystery flight toward Siberia.

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND PREMIER WILL PLAN CONFERENCE

Meeting At Capital Will Determine Size Of Meet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Whether the forthcoming naval conference is to consist of representatives of three or five powers probably will be known to President Hoover and Premier MacDonald before the latter returns to London. The premier today was at sea aboard the Berengaria and is due here Friday.

A fortnight ago Secretary of State Stimson revealed general terms of the naval understanding reached by the United States and Great Britain after a summer of negotiation. They had failed to agree upon material reduction of cruiser tonnage. A subsequent London announcement indicated the United States planned slightly to increase instead of to reduce its present cruiser program. The currently authorized American construction would amount to fifteen additional cruisers of 10,000 tons each.

London and Washington were agreed, however, upon substantial reduction of destroyer tonnage. Both sides endorsed abolition of submarines as desirable although it is acknowledged in Washington and London that abolition is impossible at this time.

Anglo-American naval questions are not finally adjusted. The American cruiser tonnage will be fixed somewhere between 285,000 and 315,000. Great Britain will possess about 340,000 tons of cruisers. The tonnage disparity is to be equalized by allowing the United States from three to five more large 10,000 ton cruisers than Great Britain. But this near approach to agreement was sufficient to enable the calling of a five power conference.

France, Italy and Japan with the United States and Great Britain comprise the world's major naval powers. Satisfactory adjustment of the world's naval problem can be had only if all five powers participate in the adjustment and bind themselves by the result. Since an understanding of the attitudes of France and Italy have become of primary importance. These governments refused President Coolidge's invitation to discuss naval limitation at Geneva in 1927.

Entertained "Wets"

Walter J. Fahy, New York broker, who it is alleged gave the "Wall Street Dinner" to at least ten congressmen, who it is further rumored did not live up to their reputations as adherents of the "bone dry" delegation. It was Fahy's dinner that started things boiling in Washington from a prohibition standpoint.

ADEQUATE DEFENSE URGED BY SPEAKERS AT LEGION MEETING

Veterans In Annual Meeting This Week
At Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 30.—Adequate defense on land and sea for the nation whose colors they followed in World War was urged before some 45,000 legionnaires by army and navy leaders at the opening session of the eleventh annual convention of the American Legion here today.

After spending Sunday parading the city behind gayly caparisoned drum corps and bands and larking under the tutelage of the Forty and Eight detachments, the legionnaires today listened to Admiral Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., retired, compare a second best navy to a second best poker hand and Gen. Peyton C. March, former chief of staff of the U. S. army, urge a highly trained army, a navy equal in strength to the strongest and a strong merchant marine.

Admiral Rodman declared the United States needs in both peace and war times an adequate navy on a parity with that of any other nation.

"There is little or no use in having an inferior navy," he said, "no doubt the world court, the league of nations, treaties and arbitrations are all contributory in preventing wars, but there still are national jealousies, resentments and deep human emotion to be controlled, which burst into flame at some real or fancied injury or aggression and for the control and prevention of which there has not as yet been found any universal panacea."

"The American Legion has always been in favor of an adequate national defense. This should consist of a small but highly trained army, adequately paid and properly housed, and capable of rapid expansion in case of necessity; and a navy the equal in strength of any on the globe; and a merchant marine available for the transportation of men, material and munitions in case of a national emergency."

Others scheduled to speak were National Commander Paul V. McNutt, National Adjutant James F. Barton, Mrs. Boyce Ficklen, Jr., national president of the American Legion auxiliary, and Gov. Flem D. Sampson of Kentucky.

The day's pleasure program included horse racing at Churchill Downs, a flying circus, wrestling matches, boxing, dancing and the golden jubilee of light tonight.

Boston and Los Angeles are seeking the 1930 convention and O. L. Bodenhimer, of Arkansas, A. L. Cox, North Carolina, and Ralph T. O'Neil, Kansas, were most prominently mentioned as candidates for the national command.

HURRICANE IS FELT ON COAST

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 30.—The tropical hurricane, raging through the Gulf of Mexico after sweeping the Bahamas Islands and Southern Florida, produced gale like winds on the gulf coast as far as New Orleans, where a reading of 29.77 at 5 a. m., was a two point drop in two hours.

CONGRESS TODAY

Continues debate on flexible provisions of tariff bill. Naval affairs sub-committee hears William B. Shearer in propaganda investigation. Agriculture committee continues hearing on members of farm board. Judiciary committee considers bills on calendar.

Meets for introduction of bills to adjourn for three more days.

STATE TROOPS ASSUME CHARGE OF CRIME-RIDDEN TEXAS TOWN

BORGER, Tex., Sept. 30.—A chastened Borger citizenry went to its tasks in the oil fields today while state troops were en route to take charge of the town, described by high state officials as criminal and corrupt.

The city jail was in the hands of

SHEARER'S DAUGHTER IS WRITER

Sonia Shearer, daughter of William B. Shearer, admitted "big navy" propagandist and central figure in "big navy" lobby investigation by senatorial sub-committee, is snapped in her Stamford, Conn., home. Miss Shearer is a short story writer and was socially prominent in Washington.

BABB HARDWARE STORE WILL GO OUT OF BUSINESS IS REVEALED

The C. L. Babb Hardware Store, 16 S. Detroit St., one of the oldest established firms in Xenia, is announcing a closing out sale to start Friday morning and the business will be discontinued, according to Elbert L. Babb, who with his brother, Karl R. Babb, have been associated together in the operation of the store since 1913.

The store will be closed Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and the sale of all merchandise will begin at 9 a. m. Friday. The firm has engaged C. B. Smith, Columbus, retail sales promoter, to have charge of the disposition of stock.

The hardware store has occupied its present location in a building owned by Miss Clara Allen for the last thirty-two years. The building, it is understood, has been leased by the S. S. Kresge Co., which operates a chain of 5 and 10 cent stores, and the hardware company's lease recently expired.

The business was founded January 1, 1885 when the late C. L. Babb entered into a partnership with John C. Conwell and engaged in the hardware and farm implement business under the firm name of Conwell and Babb in a building on E. Main St., now occupied by the Greene County Hardware Co.

The store was conducted at that location for thirteen years and in 1893 the firm opened a second store on S. Detroit St., almost directly opposite the present location. In 1898 the firm was dissolved and C. L. Babb retained possession of the S. Detroit St. store, which was still owned by him until his death, although operated by his two sons, Elbert and Karl.

The store was operated on the east side of S. Detroit St. from 1893 to 1897 and has since been conducted at its present location at 16 S. Detroit St.

FIGHT OVER PULPIT WILL BE APPEALED

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 30.—The troubled congregation of the First United Brethren Church here has not accepted the Rev. L. H. Higelmire, Akron, as its new pastor and intends to appeal his appointment to Bishop A. R. Clippinger.

Although the new pastor was pleasantly received for his sermon here Sunday, members of the official board assert they still regard the Rev. J. W. May as their pastor. Rev. May absented himself from the city late last week and is not expected to return until Tuesday.

"The Bishop must hear our side of the case before we will call it a closed incident," one member of the board said in discussing the pulp fight which resulted from the Ohio board's appointment of Rev. Higelmire to succeed the Rev. Mr. May.

"The official board does not intend to rescind its action of naming Rev. May a supply pastor and it will not accept Rev. Higelmire."

BURIAL OF HUGGINS HELD MONDAY AFTER FUNERAL ON SUNDAY

Baseball Manager
Eulogized By Rev.
McMillin

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—With only members of the immediate family and close friends present, the body of Miller Huggins was lowered into a grave in Spring Grove Cemetery today.

In the small group were Myrtle Huggins, sister of the former Cincinnati and manager of the New York Yankees; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huggins, brother and sister-in-law; Clarence Huggins, brother; Miss Mathilda Reid, aunt; Misses Edna and Alice Vosmer; Cliff E. Martin, Herb Pennock, Charles O'Leary, Charles McManus, George Perry, Morris Isaacs, Ernie Diehl, Horton Shedd, newspapermen, and a few other close friends or former associates.

Services were held yesterday at the Walnut Hills Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Frederick N. McMillin officiating.

Dr. McMillin was a baseball player of note in his college days. The Huggins family, too, have been members of his church for many years. Miller attended Sunday School there.

Dr. McMillin eulogized Huggins' life. He told of his devotion to his family and to his loyalty of "the game of games," which he said, "ministers to a distinct need of human nature."

Borglum Indicted

Gutzon Borglum, internationally known sculptor and formerly in charge of the Confederate Memorial at Stone Mountain, was indicted by an Atlanta Grand Jury charged with malicious mischief and larceny in connection with his destruction of his models of the Stone Mountain work, when he was replaced by another sculptor.

BELIEVE GOODYEAR IS WINNER; STORMS FORCE PILOTS DOWN

Belgian And Denmark
Entries Not Found;
Van Orman Wins

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Two balloons, the Denmark and Belgica alone remained aloft in the Gordon Bennett international race today, after storms forced down the other seven bags which left here Saturday.

Unofficial figures indicated the three United States entries had traveled the greater distances of the seven bags grounded. The order was: Goodyear VIII, 325 miles, down near Troy, O.; the army balloon, 310 miles, down near Celina, O.; the navy balloon, 300 miles, down at Dixon Township, Pa.

The seven were forced to land Sunday at scattered central western spots.

This year's race, for the ground at least, was cut short when storms swooped down upon them as they were sailing over Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The two unreported balloons may have avoided the storm, army meteorologists here believe, and if so were probably still aloft, somewhere over Ohio or West Virginia.

Only one accident occurred during the Sunday landings. Pilot D. Eduardo Bradley of the Argentinean suffered a broken leg and bad bruises when the basket of his balloon caught in a tree near Fairbanks, Ind., and threw him and his aide, Lieut. Francisco Cadaval to the ground. Cadaval was bruised.

The following entries have landed: (Distances unofficial).

1.—The Barmen, Germany, Dr. Hugo Kaulen, Jr., pilot, Fritz Ebenert, aide, 7 a. m. yesterday at Melvin, Ill., 165 miles.

2.—The Stadt Essen, Germany, pilot, Erich Leimkugel, aide, George Froebel, 9 a. m. yesterday at Catlin, Ill., 170 miles.

3.—The Argentinean, pilot, Eduardo Bradley, aide, Lieut. Francisco Cadaval, 11:38 a. m. yesterday at Woodward, Ind., 180 miles.

4.—The Lafayette, France, pilot, Georges Blanchard, aide, Howard School at Stinesville, near Bloomington, Ind., 1:10 p. m. yesterday, 210 miles.

5.—The United States Navy, pilot, Lieut. T. W. L. Settle, aide, Lieut. Winfield Bushnell, 2:30 p. m. yesterday at Dixon Twp., Ohio, 300 miles.

6.—The United States Army, pilot, Capt. William E. Kepner, aide, J. E. Powell, 3 p. m. yesterday, near Celina, Ohio, 310 miles.

7.—Goodyear VIII, pilot, Ward T. Van Orman, aide, Alan McCracken, 5:45 p. m. near Troy, Ohio, 325 miles.

The Belgica was piloted by Capt. Ernest DeMuyter of the Belgian army, four times winner of the Bennett trophy. His aide is Frans Lecharlier.

The Denmark's course was being guided by George Schenstrom and his aide S. A. Rasmussen.

The Belgica was flying after hitting a tree near Paoli, Ind., according to unconfirmed reports which said that the bag gained altitude when the crew jettisoned equipment.

If the Belgica and Denmark are flying low, Lieut. Milton Hawkins, army meteorologist here explained, they will be blown south. If sailing high, they will probably go toward New York state.

Van Orman, whose Goodyear VIII came down near Troy, Ohio, told the United Press that the weather here encountered was the "worst I have ever flown in." He told of ice forming on his balloon which forced him to throw over all but three bags of ballast. He also encountered snow, he said.

TWO RACE BALLOONS STILL MISSING

FATE OF PRESIDENT HOOVER'S REQUEST REMAINS DOUBTFUL

Poll Shows Close Vote
On Flexible Tariff
Clause

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The fate of President Hoover's appeal for retention of the flexible provision of the tariff bill, which would give him authority to change duties on the recommendation of the tariff commission, is in doubt in the senate, a poll by the United Press today revealed. Vice President Curtis may be called in to break a possible tie.

The poll showed that of the ninety-two senators expected to be recorded when the vote is taken this week, forty-five are opposed to the flexible tariff, forty-three are in favor of it and four are not recorded either way.

The four doubtful votes can throw the decision either way. They are: Johnson, Republican, California; Thomas, Republican, Idaho; Hendrick, Democrat, Wyoming; Dill, Democrat, Washington.

With ninety-two senators voting, the president's supporters will have to muster only forty-six votes. As in the case of a tie Vice President Curtis would vote with them; while to defeat the president his opponents will have to get forty-seven votes.

The United Press poll revealed thirty-two Democrats and thirteen Republicans will vote against the president. They follow:

Republicans: Blaine, Wisconsin; Borah, Idaho; Brookhart, Iowa; Cullin, New Mexico; Frazier, North Dakota; Howell, Nebraska; LaFollette, Wisconsin; McMaster, South Dakota; Norbeck, South Dakota; Norris, Nebraska; Nye, North Dakota; Pine, Oklahoma; and Schall, Minnesota.

Democrats: Ashurst, Arizona; Barkley, Kentucky; Black, Alabama; Blease, South Carolina; Bratton, New Mexico; Brock, Tennessee; Caraway, Arkansas; Connally, Texas; Copeland, New York; George, Georgia; Glass, Virginia; Harris, Georgia; Harrison, Mississippi; Hawes, Missouri; Hayden, Arizona; Hefflin, Alabama; King, Utah; McKellar, Tennessee; Overman, North Carolina; Pittman, Nevada; Robinson, Arkansas; Sheppard, Texas; Simmons, North Carolina; Smith, South Carolina; Stephens, Mississippi; Swanson, Virginia; Thomas, Oklahoma; Tydings, Maryland; Wagner, New York; Walsh, Massachusetts; Walsh, Montana; Wheeler, Montana.

Thirty-nine Republicans and four Democrats will vote with the president to retain the flexible tariff, the poll indicated. They are:

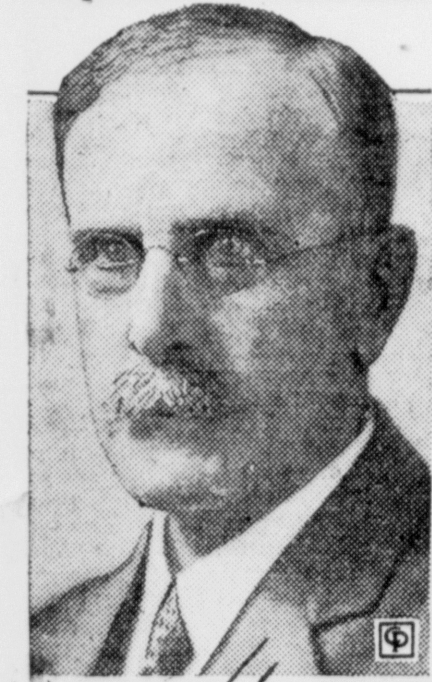

Republicans: Allen, Kansas; Blinn, Connecticut; Capper, Kansas; Couzens, Michigan; Dale, Vermont; Deneen, Illinois; Edge, New Jersey; Fess, Ohio; Gillett, Massachusetts; Glenn, Illinois; Goff, West Virginia; Goldsborough, Maryland; Gould, Maine; Greene, Vermont; Hale, Maine; Hastings, Delaware; Hatfield, West Virginia; Herbert, Rhode Island; Jones, Washington; Keen, New Jersey; Keweenaw, New Hampshire; McNary, Oregon; Metcalf, Rhode Island; Moses, New Hampshire; Eddie, Nevada; Paterson, Missouri; Phillips, Colorado; Reed, Pennsylvania; Robinson, Indiana; Sackett, Kentucky; Shortridge, California; Smoot, Utah; Steiwer, Oregon; Townsend, Delaware; Vandenberg, Michigan; Walcott, Connecticut; Warren, Wyoming; Waterman, Colorado; and Watson, Indiana.

Democrats: Broussard, Louisiana; Fletcher, Florida; Ransdell, Louisiana; and Trammel, Florida.

FOUR PEOPLE KILLED

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—Four persons, including two unidentified negroes, were killed by autos here over the weekend. Mary Ingle, 14, was killed by a hit-skip motorist and Frank Anderson, 70, when he was crossing the street.

Represents Australia

A new portrait of Herbert Brookes, who arrived in Washington recently to represent Australia as commissioner general.

CAPTURE "KEY" MAN IN CLEVELAND GRAFT SCANDAL IN CHICAGO

NEW CATERPILLAR

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—The embarrassment of falling from an airplane had turned into pride today for Captain Jack Butterfield, 34, air corps reserve officer, who qualified for membership in the Caterpillar club when he was forced to use a parachute to save his life while flying over Lunken Field, yesterday.

Butterfield was hurtled from an army P-1 biplane while on a "barrel roll" at a height of 3000 feet. After dropping 200 feet, Butterfield opened his parachute and landed in a cornfield.

SHEARER CALLED TO TESTIFY AT SENATE NAVAL LOBBY PROBE

Mystery Man Will Be Quizzed About Activities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—William B. Shearer, who called himself the big bass drum which made discordant noises at the unsuccessful Geneva disarmament conference was summoned before the senate's naval lobby investigating committee today for examination about his activities for American shipbuilders.

Before Prime Minister MacDonald arrives here the end of this week to discuss with President Hoover a resumption of disarmament negotiations broken off at that conference, the committee hopes to learn from Shearer just what the shipbuilders had him do at Geneva and later in Washington.

Shearer marches to the witness chair as a dramatic and somewhat mysterious character. He was seen much in Washington in 1926 and 1928 when merchant marine aid legislation was under consideration in congress and when the shipping board was planning to aid that same branch of commerce. He brought a taxpayers suit in court here after the Washington arms conference seeking unsuccessfully to stop battleship scrapping. He turned up at Geneva later, his purse amply filled and his brief case bulging with statements containing many figures he says were known only secretly in the navy.

No one seemed to know who he was until a month ago when he filed in a suit in a New York court asking a judgment against three American shipbuilding companies for about $240,000 which he contended was due him in addition to the $52,000 he had already received. The suit was lodged against the New York shipbuilding company, the Bethlehem shipbuilding corporation and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, whose officials have told the committee Shearer was employed at various times as an observer and consultant.

Never claiming to be unassuming Shearer with a booming voice, is a double for Wallace Beery, the motion picture actor. He served in the navy briefly during the Spanish American war and for ten days during the World War. He claims to have invented a one-man torpedo boat during the war, but tests were not wholly successful. He is well known by the personnel at the navy department, but there the available record of his activities ceases.

IDENTIFY SLAIN MAN

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—Edward Moorehart, 28, slain here last week by a patrolman when found coming out of a Kroger grocery has been identified as Neville Crowe, a Ga. by two men who said he confessed to them four or five years ago that he once cut the throat of a policeman in Detroit.

APPRECIATION

FOR RENT—6 room house on Hivling St. Gas and electricity. See E. A. Sanz.

Mr. Sanz fully appreciates the quick results he obtained through his CLASSIFIED AD carried for a few nights in THE GAZETTE. Daily, you come into contact with users of GAZETTE CLASSIFIED and learn of the satisfaction obtained through a small investment in this type of advertising. Learn for yourself.

CALL 111

Nation-Wide Search In Playground Probe Is Ended

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 30.—Harmon G. Atwater, hunted as the "key" man in the Cleveland playground graft scandal, arrived here today under arrest following his capture in Chicago.

After a nation-wide search of seven months, Atwater was arrested last night in a South Chicago apartment by a party from Cleveland headed by county secret service officer, John Toner.

Atwater is wanted in connection with the scandal that may involve other politicians and already has sent Councilman Liston G. Schooley to the penitentiary and his son Liston G. Schooley, Jr., to the reformatory. That Atwater is ready to talk and tell full details of the transactions in which $30,000 graft was taken, was indicated by the long missing real estate dealer when arrested last night.

Atwater was caught through the efforts of County Prosecutor Miller and the Cleveland Press, which had offered a $10,000 reward for his arrest.

Prosecutor Miller and Louis R. Seltzer, editor of the press, went to meet the returning party. With officer Toner at the time of his seizure were Ben B. Williamson, city editor of The Press, and James P. Kirby, reporter.

News of Atwater's arrest caused much excitement among certain politicians at city hall here. What Atwater is likely to disclose is greatly feared by a political faction that following revelation of the land graft, took two measures intended to block the investigation. The first was to get Atwater out of the city and keep him in hiding; the second, to have the Schooleys plead guilty, assume responsibility and go to jail maintaining silence.

That Atwater has had financial aid from certain Cleveland persons became apparent when it was found that he maintained two apartments in Chicago and Chicago supposedly selling auto insurance said he spent most of his time playing the races and the stock market.

Prosecutor Miller had been closing in on Atwater's hiding place since Saturday. Offer of a $10,000 reward for the captured man brought results from two sources.

On Saturday morning an informant came to the Press office. He said Atwater was in Chicago and that almost daily could be found at a bus station where busses from Cleveland arrived.

Then Sunday night came a telephone call from Chicago. A party, claiming to be a friend of Atwater, called Seltzer. The information given by the caller checked with that furnished by the earlier informant. The friend of Atwater said that the missing man had revealed his identity and that negotiations were under way to share an apartment.

Secret Service Officer Toner, Williamson and Kirby left Cleveland for Chicago Saturday night.

A watch was kept all day Sunday. Sunday evening the trio was called by the informant who said he was a friend of Atwater.

The neighborhood in which Atwater sought refuge was quiet and residential. It resembled the many residential streets in East Cleveland.

The party entered the apartment building and went directly to the apartment occupied by Atwater. The hunt that began last February 20, following revelation in the press of the land scandal, was at an end.

"We've come to arrest you," said Toner.

"I'm glad," replied Atwater. "yes, I'm glad it's over. I have been considering giving myself up. Many times I have thought of going into Cleveland and surprising everyone by surrendering."

"I have been made the goat in this matter, and I am tired of it all. I have been persecuted, and convicted and tried before being arrested. I am ready to go back with you as soon as I pack."

Throughout the talk, Atwater was far from depressed. He laughed and joked, saying that often he has dined with policemen in Chicago.

He explained, as Toner was aware, that he had been using the name "Gordon Root" in Chicago, and that when he went on the street he wore heavy shell-rim glasses.

"I came to Chicago," Atwater continued, "because no one thought I would have the nerve to hide in so large a city. They figured I would go to a small town."

Then Atwater turned out the lights in the apartment, locked the door and turned in the key and directed the way to his original abode to get his clothing.

He appeared much younger than

COSTES MISSING

DIEUDONNE COSTES
Dieudonne Costes, French flyer and his companion, Maurice Belhonte, have not been heard from since starting on a mystery flight toward Siberia.

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND PREMIER WILL PLAN CONFERENCE

Meeting At Capital Will Determine Size Of
Meet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Whether the forthcoming naval conference is to consist of representatives of three or five powers probably will be known to President Hoover and Premier MacDonald before the latter returns to London. The premier today was at sea aboard the Berengaria and is due here Friday.

A fortnight ago Secretary of State Stimson revealed general terms of the naval understanding reached by the United States and Great Britain after a summer of negotiation. They had failed to agree upon material reduction of cruiser tonnage. A subsequent London announcement indicated the United States planned slightly to increase instead of to reduce its present cruiser program. The curiously authorized American construction would amount to fifteen additional cruisers of 10,000 tons each.

London and Washington were agreed, however, upon substantial reduction of destroyer tonnage. Both sides endorsed abolition of submarines as desirable although it is acknowledged in Washington and London that abolition is impossible at this time.

Anglo-American naval questions are not finally adjusted. The American cruiser tonnage will be fixed somewhere between 285,000 and 315,000. Great Britain will possess about 340,000 tons of cruisers.

The tonnage disparity is to be equalized by allowing the United States from three to five more large 10,000 ton cruisers than Great Britain. But this near approach to agreement was sufficient to enable the calling of a five power conference.

France, Italy and Japan with the United States and Great Britain comprise the world's major naval powers.

Satisfactory adjustment of the world's naval problem can be had only if all five powers participate in the adjustment and bind themselves by the result. Since announcement of an Anglo-American understanding, the attitudes of France and Italy have become of primary importance. These governments refused President Coolidge's invitation to discuss naval limitation at Geneva in 1927.

Entertained "Wets"

Walter J. Fahy, New York broker, who it is alleged gave the "Wall Street Dinner" to at least ten congressmen, who it is further rumored did not live up to their reputations as adherents of the "bone dry" delegation. It was Fahy's dinner that started things boiling in Washington from a prohibition standpoint.

ADEQUATE DEFENSE URGED BY SPEAKERS AT LEGION MEETING

Veterans In Annual Meeting This Week
At Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 30.—Adequate defense on land and sea for the nation whose colors they followed in World War was urged before some 45,000 legionnaires by army and navy leaders at the opening session of the eleventh annual convention of the American Legion here today.

After spending Sunday parading the city behind early caparisoned drum corps and bands and lurking under the tutelage of the Forty and Eight detachments, the legionnaires today listened to Admiral Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., retired, compare a second best navy to a second best poker hand and Gen. Peyton C. March, former chief of staff of the U. S. army, urge a highly trained army, a navy equal in strength to the strongest and a strong merchant marine.

Admiral Rodman declared the United States needs in both peace and war times an adequate navy on a parity with that of any other nation.

"There is little or no use in having an inferior navy," he said. "No doubt the world court, the league of nations, treaties and arbitrations are all contributory in preventing wars, but there still are national jealousies, resentments and deep human emotion to be controlled, which burst into flame at some real or fancied injury or aggression and for the control and prevention of which there has not as yet been found any universal panacea."

"The American Legion has always been in favor of an adequate national defense. This should consist of a small but highly trained army, adequately paid and properly housed and capable of rapid expansion in case of necessity; and a navy the equal in strength of any on the globe; and a merchant marine available for the transportation of men, material and munitions in case of a national emergency."

Others scheduled to speak were National Commander Paul V. McNutt, National Adjutant James F. Barton, Mrs. Boyce Ficklen, Jr., national president of the American Legion auxiliary, and Gov. Flem D. Sampson of Kentucky.

The day's pleasure program included horse racing at Churchill Downs, a flying circus, wrestling matches, boxing, dancing and the golden jubilee of light tonight.

Boston and Los Angeles are expected to host the 1930 convention and O. L. Bodenheimer, of Arkansas, A. L. Cox, North Carolina, and Ralph T. O'Neill, Kansas, were most prominently mentioned as candidates for the national command.

HURRICANE IS FELT ON COAST

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 30.—The tropical hurricane, raging through the Gulf of Mexico after sweeping the Bahamas Islands and Southern Florida, produced gale force winds on the gulf coasts of Alabama and northwestern Florida today.

Apalachicola and Port St. Joe reported winds of 15 to 20 miles an hour at 5 a. m. when telephone lines began to go out breaking off communications from those two towns.

The barometer here registered 29.40 at 4 a. m. a drop of nine points in one hour.

Panama City, Fla., reported a fifty-two miles an hour wind at dawn, while barometer drops were recorded all along the gulf coast as far as New Orleans, where a reading of 29.77 at 5 a. m. was a two point drop in two hours.

CONGRESS TODAY

—Senate—
Continues debate on flexible provisions of tariff bill.
Naval affairs sub-committee hears William B. Shearer in propaganda investigation.
Agriculture committee continues hearing on members of farm board.
Judiciary committee considers bills on calendar.

—House—
Meets for introduction of bills to adjourn for three more days.

STATE TROOPS ASSUME CHARGE OF CRIME-RIDDEN TEXAS TOWN

BORGER, Tex., Sept. 30.—A chastened Barger citizenry went to its tasks in the oil fields today while state troops were en route to take charge of the town, described by high state officials as criminal and corrupt.

Mayor Glenn A. Pace was free on $3,000 bond following his arrest on a charge of attempting to thwart justice by forcing a state's witness in a murder trial out of the town.

The city jail was in the hands of

SHEARER'S DAUGHTER IS WRITER

Sonia Shearer, daughter of William B. Shearer, admitted "big navy" propagandist and central figure in "big navy" lobby investigation by senatorial sub-committee, is snapped in her Stamford, Conn., home. Miss Shearer is a short story writer and was socially prominent in Washington.

BABB HARDWARE STORE WILL GO OUT OF BUSINESS IS REVEALED

The C. L. Babb Hardware Store, 16 S. Detroit St., one of the oldest established firms in Xenia, is announcing a closing out sale to start Friday morning and the business will be discontinued according to Elbert L. Babb, who with his brother, Karl R. Babb, have been associated together in the operation of the store since 1913.

The store will be closed Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and the sale of all merchandise will begin at 9 a. m. Friday. The firm has engaged C. B. Smith, Columbus, retail sales promoter, to have charge of the disposition of stock.

The hardware store has occupied its present location in a building owned by Miss Clara Allen for the last thirty-two years. The building, it is understood, has been leased by the S. S. Kresge Co., which operates a chain of 5 and 10 cent stores, and the hardware company's lease recently expired.

The business was founded January 1, 1885 when the late C. L. Babb entered into a partnership with John C. Conwell and engaged in the hardware and farm implement business under the firm name of Conwell and Babb in a building on E. Main St., now occupied by the Greene County Hardware Co.

The store was conducted at that location for thirteen years and in 1893 the firm opened a second store on S. Detroit St., almost directly opposite the present location. In 1898 the firm was dissolved and C. L. Babb retained possession of the S. Detroit St. store, which was still owned by him until his death, almost operated by his two sons, Elbert and Karl.

The store was operated on the east side of S. Detroit St. from 1893 to 1897 and has since been conducted at its present location at 16 S. Detroit St.

FIGHT OVER PULPIT WILL BE APPEALED

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 30.—The troubled congregation of the First United Brethren Church here has not accepted the Rev. L. H. Higelmire, Akron, as its new pastor and intends to appeal his appointment to Bishop A. R. Clippinger.

Although the new pastor was pleasantly received for his sermon here Sunday, members of the official board assert they still regard the Rev. J. W. May as their pastor. Rev. May absented himself from the city late last week, and is not expected to return until Tuesday.

The Bishop must hear our side of the case before we will call it a closed incident," one member of the board said in discussing the pulp fight which resulted from the Ohio board's appointment of Rev. Higelmire to succeed the Rev. Mr. May.

"The official board does not intend to rescind its action of naming Rev. May a supply pastor and it will not accept Rev. Higelmire."

BURIAL OF HUGGINS HELD MONDAY AFTER FUNERAL ON SUNDAY

Baseball Manager
Eulogized By Rev.
McMillin

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—With only members of the immediate family and close friends present, the body of Miller Huggins was lowered into a grave in Spring Grove Cemetery today.

In the small group were Myrtle Huggins, sister of the former Cincinnati and manager of the New York Yankees; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huggins, brother and sister-in-law; Clarence Huggins, brother; Miss Mathilda Redd, aunt; Misses Edna and Alice Vosmer; Cliff E. Martin, Herb Pennock, Charles O. Leary, Charles McManus, George Perry, Morris Isaacs, Ernie Diehl, Horton Shedo, newspapermen, and a few other close friends or former associates.

Services were held yesterday at the Walnut Hills Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Frederick N. McMillin officiating.

Dr. McMillin was a baseball player of note in his college days. The Huggins family, too, have been members of his church for many years. Miller attended Sunday School there.

Dr. McMillin eulogized Huggins' life. He told of his devotion to his family and to his loyalty of "the game of games," which he said, "ministers to a distinct need of human nature."

Borglum Indicted

Gutzon Borglum, internationally known sculptor and formerly in charge of the Confederate Memorial at Stone Mountain, was indicted by an Atlanta Grand Jury charged with malicious mischief and larceny in connection with his destruction of his models of the Stone Mountain work, when he was replaced by another sculptor.

BELIEVE GOODYEAR IS WINNER; STORMS FORCE PILOTS DOWN

Belgian And Denmark
Entries Not Found;
Van Orman Wins

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Two balloons, the Denmark and Belgica alone remained aloft in the Gordon Bennett international race today, after storms forced down the other seven bags which left here Saturday.

Unofficial figures indicated the three United States entries had traveled the greater distances of the seven bags grounded. The order was: Goodyear VIII, 325 miles, down near Troy, O.; the army balloon, 310 miles, down near Celina, O.; the navy balloon, 300 miles, down at Dixon Township, Pa.

The seven were forced to land Sunday at scattered central western spots.

This year's race, for the ground at least, was cut short when storms swooped down upon them as they were sailing over Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The two unreported balloons may have avoided the storm, army meteorologists here believe, and if so were probably still aloft, somewhere over Ohio or West Virginia.

Only one accident occurred during the Sunday landings.

Pilot D. Eduardo Bradley of the Argentinian suffered a broken leg of his balloon caught in a tree near Fairbanks, Ind., and threw him and his aide, Lieut. Francisco Cadaval to the ground. Cadaval was bruised.

The following entries have landed: (Distances unofficial).

1.—The Barmen, Germany, Dr. Hugo Kaulen, Jr., pilot, Fritz Eber, aide, 7 a. m. yesterday at Melvin, Ill., 165 miles.

2.—The Stadt Essen, Germany, pilot, Erich Leimkugel, aide, George Froebel, 9 a. m. yesterday at Catlin, Ill., 170 miles.

3.—The Argentinian, pilot, Eduardo Bradley, aide, Lieut. Francisco Cadaval, 11:38 a. m. yesterday at Woodard, Ind., 180 miles.

4.—The Lafayette, France, pilot, Georges Blanchet, aide, Howard School at Stinesville, near Bloomington, Ind., 1:10 p. m. yesterday 210 miles.

5.—The United States Navy, pilot, Lieut. T. W. L. Settle, aide, Lieut. Winfield Bushnell, 2:30 p. m. yesterday at Dixon Twp., Ohio, 300 miles.

6.—The United States Army, pilot, Capt. William E. Kepner, aide, J. E. Powell, 3 p. m. yesterday, near Celina, Ohio, 310 miles.

7.—Goodyear VIII, pilot, Ward T. Van Orman, aide, Alan MacCracken, 5:45 p. m., near Troy, Ohio, 325 miles.

The Belgica was piloted by Capt. Ernest DeMuyter, winner of the Belgian army net trophy. His aide is Frans Lecharlier.

The Denmark's course was being guided by George Schenstrom and his aide, S. A. Rasmussen.

The Belgica was flying after hitting a tree near Paoli, Ind., according to unconfirmed reports which said that the bag gained altitude when the crew jettisoned equipment.

If the Belgica and Denmark are flying low, Lieut. Milton Hawkins, army meteorologist here explained, they will be blown south. If sailing high, they will probably go toward New York state.

Van Orman, whose Goodyear VIII came down near Troy, Ohio, told the United Press that the weather he encountered was the "worst I have ever flown in."

He told of ice forming on his balloon which forced him to throw over all three bags of ballast. He also encountered snow, he said.

Alan MacCracken, Goodyear Aide, also encountered snow, he said.

TELLING the WORLDS NEWS with PICTURES

CANDIDATES FOR LEGION AUXILIARY PRESIDENT

Left to right, Mrs. Donald Macrae, Mrs. Wm. H. Cudworth, Mrs. Freda S. Kramer. The three women candidates for president of the American Legion Auxiliary to be elected at the close of the auxiliary's ninth national convention at Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3, are Mrs. Donald Macrae, of Council Bluffs, Ia., who has been prominent in the auxiliary ever since its organization; Mrs. William H. Cudworth, Milwaukee, Wis., who lost her only son in the World war, and Mrs. Freda S. Kramer, of Madison, S. D., with a distinguished record of patriotic service during the war. Mrs. Kramer is a charter member of the auxiliary unit at Madison.

"First Lady" Aids Girl Scouts

It is a question whether Mrs. Herbert Hoover or these Girl Scouts showed the greater delight at their meeting yesterday in the American Art Galleries at New York. The President's wife opened an exhibition there that will raise funds for the National Council of Girl Scouts.

Loads Cargo for Dash to Cold Antarctic

Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, in civilian garb, discusses his coming voyage to the Antarctic with Captain A. W. B. Sheppard, skipper of the Northern Prince, and Orville Porter, mechanic of the Wilkins-Hearst expedition, at the ship's North River pier in New York.

Sir Wilkins Makes Final Preparations for Antarctic Dash

Sir Hubert Wilkins (lower left) is seen in conference with Orville Porter, his mechanic, on a New York dock as the noted explorer makes final plans for his expedition to the Antarctic. In left hand upper panel is the Lockheed-Vega monoplane which will be used by Sir Hubert in his exploration of the frozen wastelands. Inset shows Parker D. Cramer, holder of the Nome to New York flying record, who will accompany the titled explorer while at the left is the S. S. Northern Prince which will carry the expedition to its destination.

Robe de Style

This robe de style is shaded pink taffeta with three overskirts with daintily scalloped edges and a soft bow posed at the normal waistline.

Soviets Rapidly Accomplishing Economic Advance in Industry

Huge Sums Have Been Spent in the Past Year by Russian Leaders to Secure the Latest Machinery to Produce Cheaply Many Factors of Importance to International Trade.

UPPER left shows a modern grainery in Russia capable of holding a million pounds of corn and grain. It is one of the best and most completely equipped elevators in the Soviet Union. Lower left shows Russian peasants listening to a radio program broadcast from Moscow. This sort of entertainment makes farm life much more pleasant than in the cold cheerless existence suffered by the peasants under the Czar. Right is shown the largest grain separator in Russia, which makes easy the work of the farmer who used to thresh his grain by hand.

BEAUTIES WIN SCHOLASTIC FAME

When points for the term just passed were tallied at the University of Oregon, at Eugene, it was found first honors went to the co-eds and this trio stood unusually high. Miss Wernda Isbell, top, amassed the highest score, then came Miss Florence Althous, lower right, and Miss Lois Nelson, lower left, third.

Gloria Shows Style:

Gloria Swanson, movie star called one of best dressed women in America, arrives in New York wearing smart tweed ensemble with sable scarf and new style turnback felt hat. Note length of skirt. Gloria denied reports of estrangement with her husband, the Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudrav.

The Sergeant Major Takes the Salute

Major General Smedley D. Butler with Sergeant Major Albert Gosling, who "takes the salute" of the marines, on the celebration of his retirement after thirty years continuous service as a "leatherneck."

Russian Impersonator Rides to a Fall When California Police Get His Number

Working on the theory that the "bigger they are the harder they fall," George Garbo, a youthful Russian, either has a vivid imagination or has duped many of the most prominent personages in the world. In his cell in a Los Angeles jail, he maintains that while he posed as Baron von Krupp of Germany and other notables he was entertained in turn by Henry Ford, Ambassador Herrick, Henry Firestone and Douglas Fairbanks. Three times the United States authorities have chased Garbo out of the country for lack of passport and three times he has re-entered like the well known "bad penny." He claims that he started his various impersonations purely for fun and adventure, but as he has profited financially from them to some extent, the authorities do not share his viewpoint. In speaking of the prominent people he had duped, Garbo said "Edison and Henry Firestone were very nice to me but really Douglas Fairbanks is one of the nicest men I have ever visited."

TELLING the WORLDS NEWS with PICTURES

CANDIDATES FOR LEGION AUXILIARY PRESIDENT
Left to right, Mrs. Donald Macrae, Mrs. Wm. H. Cudworth, Mrs. Freda S. Kramer.
The three women candidates for president of the American Legion Auxiliary to be elected at the close of the auxiliary's ninth national convention at Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3, are Mrs. Donald Macrae, of Council Bluffs, Ia., who has been prominent in the auxiliary ever since its organization; Mrs. William H. Cudworth, Milwaukee, Wis., who lost her only son in the World war, and Mrs. Freda S. Kramer, of Madison, S. D., with a distinguished record of patriotic service during the war. Mrs. Kramer is a charter member of the auxiliary unit at Madison.

"First Lady" Aids Girl Scouts

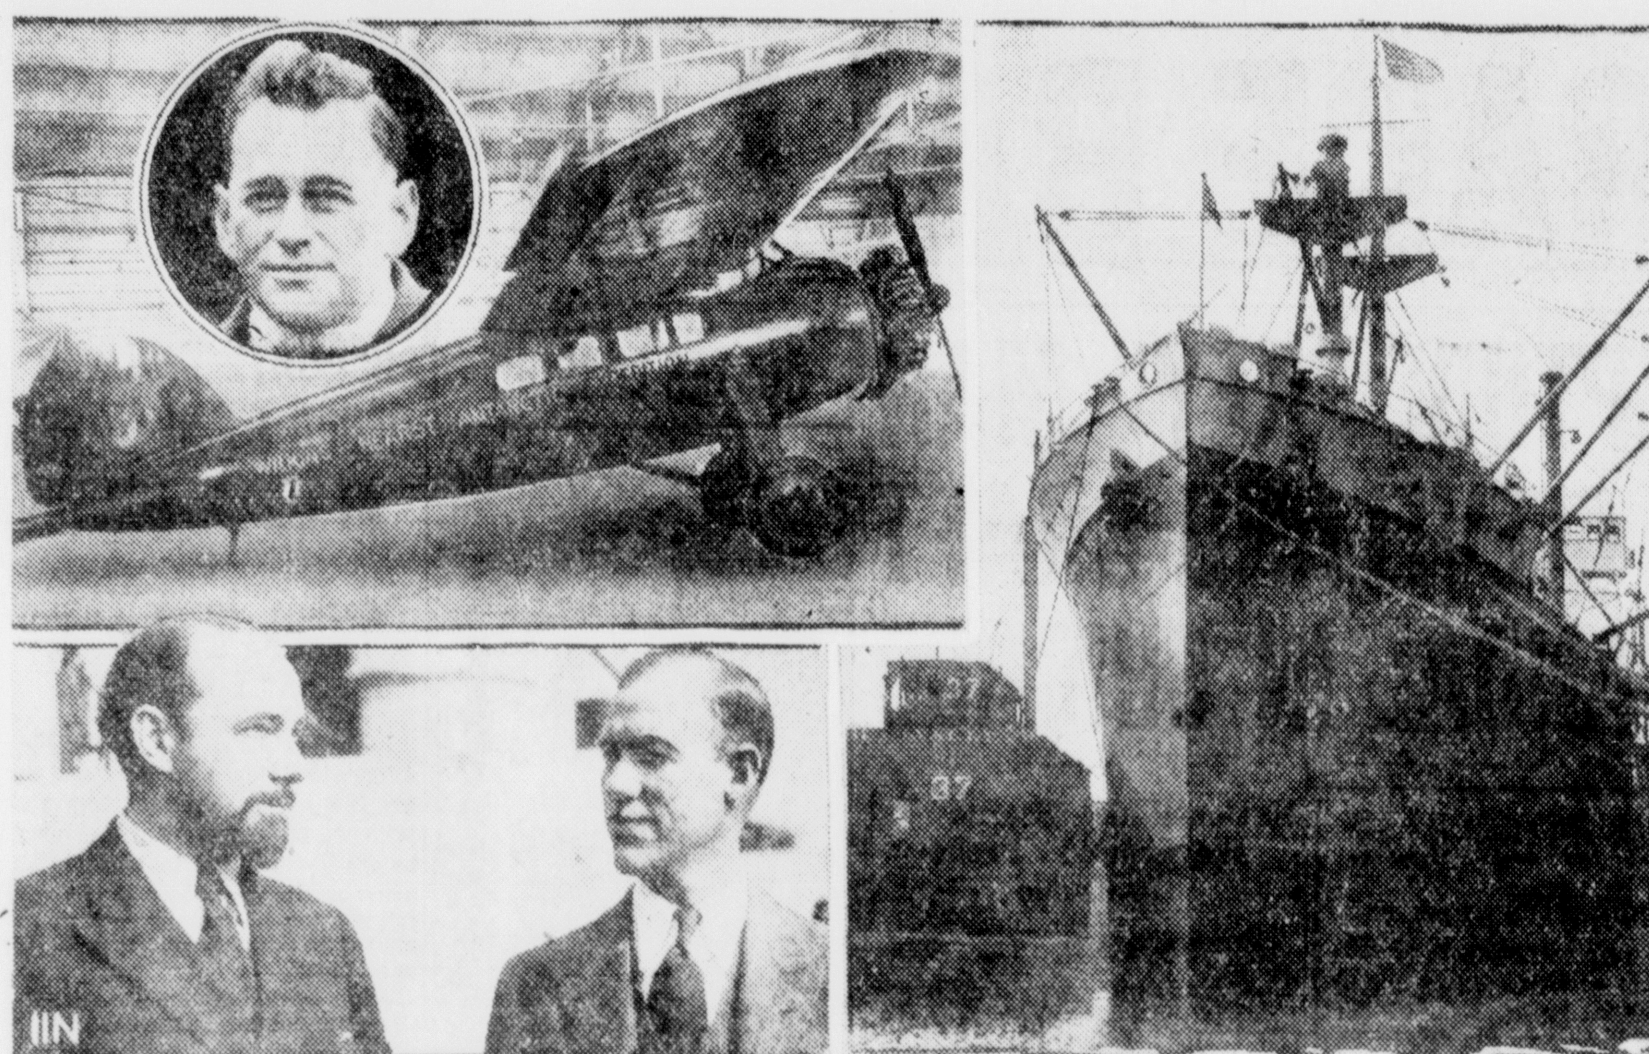

It is a question whether Mrs. Herbert Hoover or these Girl Scouts showed the greater delight at their meeting yesterday in the American Art Galleries at New York. The President's wife opened an exhibition there that will raise funds for the National Council of Girl Scouts.

Loads Cargo for Dash to Cold Antarctic

Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, in civilian garb, discusses his coming voyage to the Antarctic with Captain A. W. B. Sheppard, skipper of the Northern Prince, and Orville Porter, mechanic of the Wilkins-Hearst expedition, at the ship's North River pier in New York.

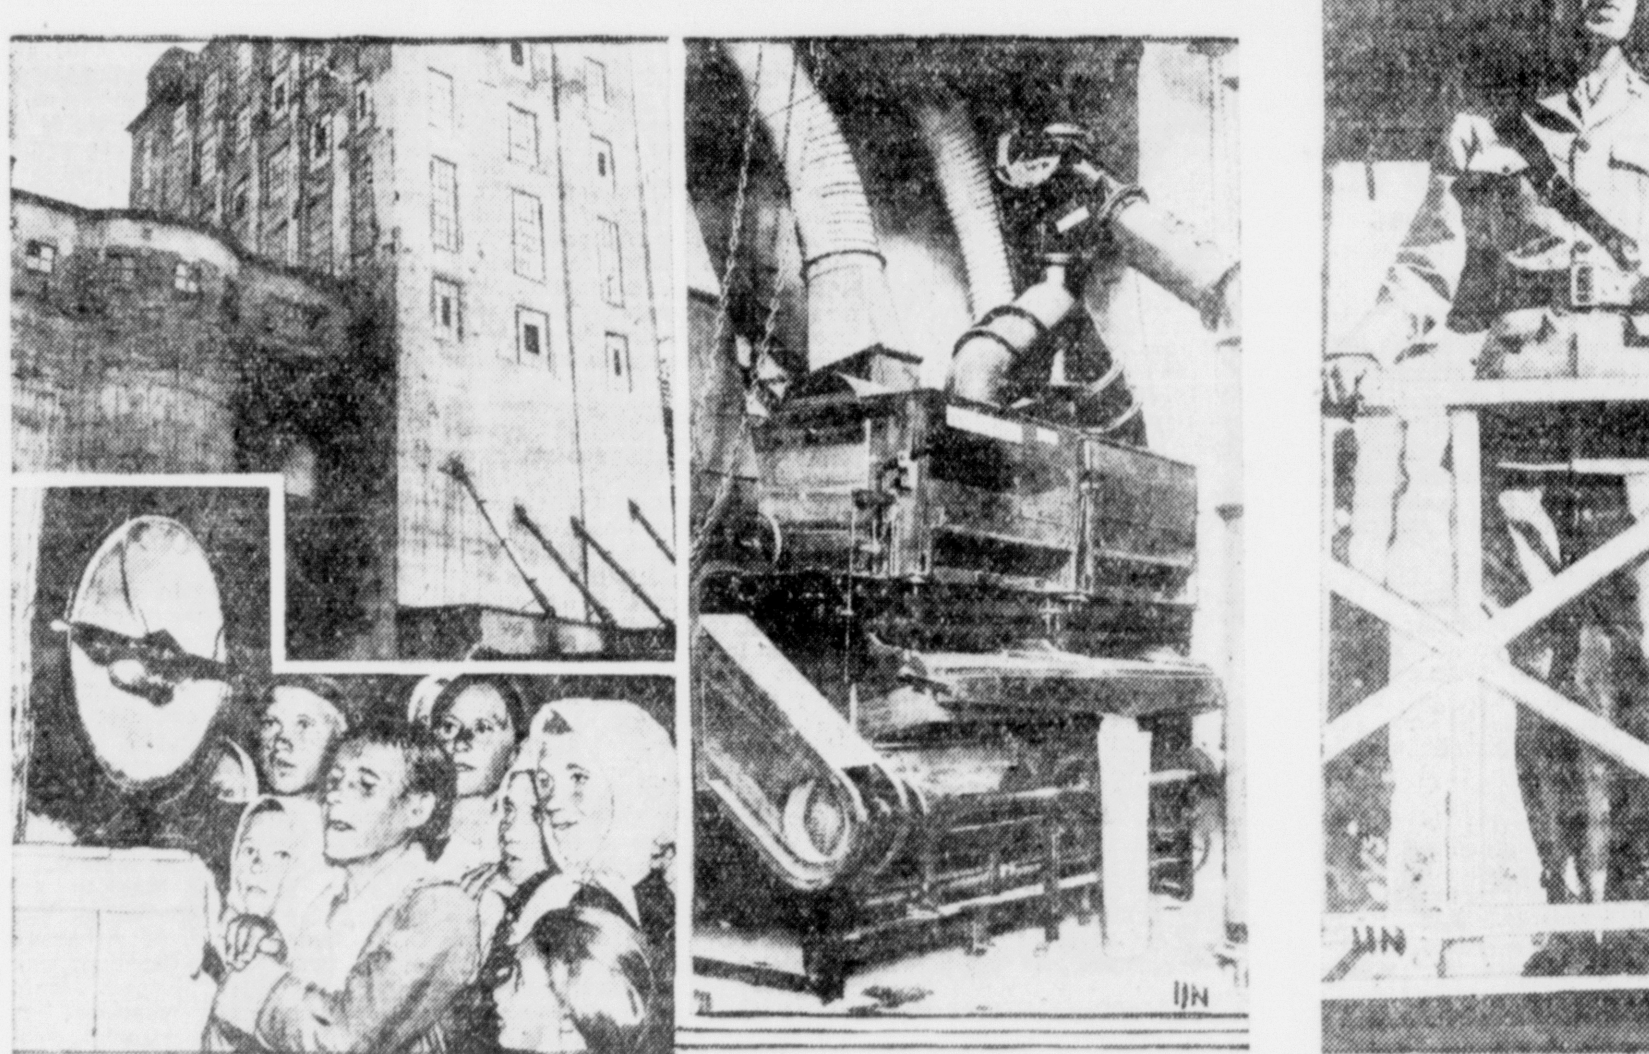

Sir Wilkins Makes Final Preparations for Antarctic Dash

Sir Hubert Wilkins (lower left) is seen in conference with Orville Porter, his mechanic, on a New York dock as the noted explorer makes final plans for his expedition to the Antarctic. In left hand upper panel is the Lockheed-Vega monoplane which will be used by Sir Hubert in his exploration of the frozen wastelands. Inset shows Parker D. Cramer, holder of the Nome to New York flying record, who will accompany the titled explorer while at the left is the S. S. Northern Prince which will carry the expedition to its destination.

Soviets Rapidly Accomplishing Economic Advance in Industry

Huge Sums Have Been Spent in the Past Year by Russian Leaders to Secure the Latest Machinery to Produce Cheaply Many Factors of Importance to International Trade.

UPPER left shows a modern grainery in Russia capable of holding a million pounds of corn and grain. It is one of the best and most completely equipped elevators in the Soviet Union. Lower left shows Russian peasants listening to a radio program broadcast from Moscow. This sort of entertainment makes farm life much more pleasant than in the cold cheerless existence suffered by the peasants under the Czar. Right is shown the largest grain separator in Russia, which makes easy the work of the farmer who used to thresh his grain by hand.

BEAUTIES WIN SCHOLASTIC FAME Gloria Shows Style

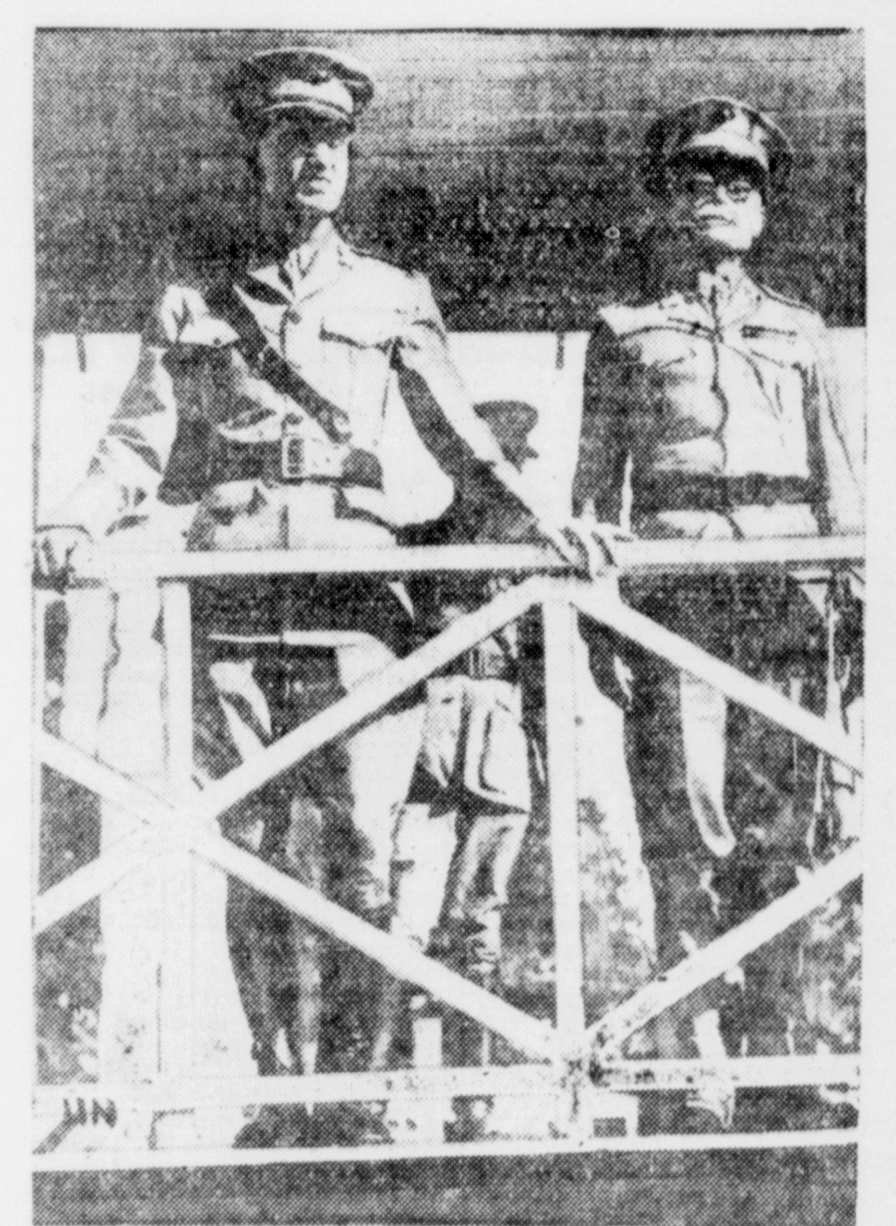

When points for the term just passed were tallied at the University of Oregon, at Eugene, it was found first honors went to the co-eds and this trio stood unusually high. Miss Wernda Isbell, top, amassed the highest score, then came Miss Florence Althous, lower right, and Miss Lois Nelson, lower left, third.

Robe de Style

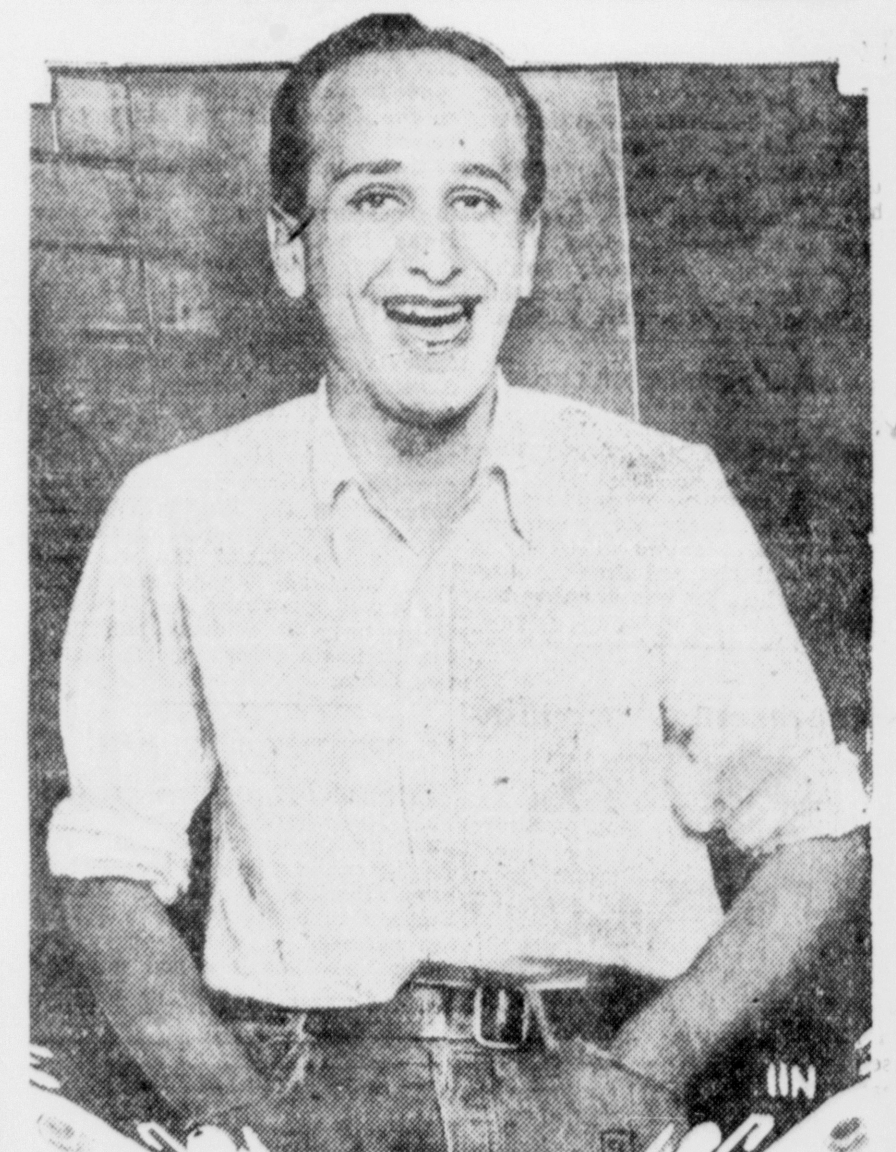

This robe de style is shaded pink taffeta with three overskirts with daintily scalloped edges and a soft bow posed at the normal waistline.

The Sergeant Major Takes the Salute

Major General Smedley D. Butler with Sergeant Major Albert Gosling, who "takes the salute" of the marines, on the celebration of his retirement after thirty years continuous service as a "leatherneck."

Russian Impersonator Rides to a Fall When California Police Get His Number

Working on the theory that the "bigger they are the harder they fall," George Garbo, a youthful Russian, either has a vivid imagination or has duped many of the most prominent personages in the world. In his cell in a Los Angeles jail, he maintains that while he posed as Baron von Krupp of Germany and other notables he was entertained in turn by Henry Ford, Ambassador Herriek, Henry Firestone and Douglas Fairbanks. Three times the United States authorities have chased Garbo out of the country for lack of passport and three times he has re-entered like the well known "bad penny." He claims that he started his various impersonations purely for fun and adventure, but as he has profited financially from them to some extent, the authorities do not share his viewpoint. In speaking of the prominent people he had duped, Garbo said "Edison and Henry Firestone were very nice to me but really Douglas Fairbanks is one of the nicest men I have ever visited."

Junior Woman's Club To Open Season Tuesday

PROF. Lincoln Gibbs of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, will speak on "An Introduction to Modern Drama," at the first meeting of the year of the Junior Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Ella Humphrey, Yellow Springs, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Perrill will sing "A Song of October." A one-act play by Shaw, will be presented by Mrs. Crawford Craig and Mrs. Lawrence Landaker.

Mrs. S. M. McKay, president, will deliver the greeting address at the opening of the meeting.

Programs for following dates are: October 15—Current Events, Miss Florence Steele; subject, "The Modern Novel"; "Its Evolution," Mrs. S. O. Hale; "Seeing

The Lagonda Chapter of Springfield will be hostess at the meeting and luncheon will be served by this chapter at the church at 12 o'clock.

Following the luncheon a pilgrimage to The Madonna of the Trail will be given.

Several state officers, including Mrs. Herbert M. Backus, of Columbus, vice-president general of the organization, and Mrs. Walter Tobey, Hamilton, state regent, will be present.

Members from the Xenia chapter who will attend are: Mrs. Winifred Armstrong, Miss Sarah Williams, Mrs. Harry Sohn, Mrs. J. O. McCormick, Mrs. William McCarty, Mrs. A. S. Frazier, Mrs. Alice Eavey, Mrs. C. L. Jobe, Mrs. A. C. Messenger, Mrs. Jacob Waldner, regent, Mrs. R. D. Adair, Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. Frank Jackson.

SUNSHINE CLASS ENTERTAINED SATURDAY

The Sunshine Class of the United Brethren Church met at the home of Miss Mildred Coons, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. C. E. Trubee, teacher of the class, opened the meeting with the scripture reading, which was followed by a short business session.

Contests and games were in play during the afternoon and Miss Helen Hess was awarded the contest prize.

The hostess served a dainty refreshment course at the close of the meeting. Those present were: Misses Martha Funk, Nina Stephens, Helen Hess, Gladys Gill, Thelma Osborn, Donna Newcomer, Eleanor Moore, Helen Gill and Lotie Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCorkell and daughter Jane Lou, of Detroit St., left Saturday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., where they spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Patterson. Mrs. McCorkell will enter a hospital in that city Monday where she will undergo medical treatment for heart trouble. Mr. McCorkell and daughter will remain at the Patterson home.

Mr. W. C. Devoe, Union St., underwent an emergency operation at McClellan Hospital, Sunday. His condition is reported satisfactory.

Mr. Arthur Miller, N. King St., spent Monday in Columbus attending the joint Columbus and Dayton, General Electric Convention in the ball room of the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel LeValley of Paintersville, entertained at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mason and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Babb and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Woods and family.

Members of the Dorcas Class of the First Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Randall, Center St., Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. E. Kohl, teacher of the class, requests that each member bring her Bible so the memory verses to be memorized by November 1 may be selected.

The annual thank-offering meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the church. Each member is asked to bring a jar of canned fruit to be put into the barrel which will be sent to the home in Pittsburgh, Pa.

NEVER want to see if a headache will "wear off." Why suffer when there's Bayer Aspirin? The millions of men and women who use it in increasing quantities every year prove that it does relieve such pain. The medical profession pronounces it without effect on the heart, so use it as often as it can spare you any pain. Every drugstore always has genuine Bayer Aspirin for the prompt relief of a headache, colds, neuralgia, lumbago, etc. Familiarize yourself with the proven directions in every package.

ASPIRIN
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacetaldehyde of Salicylic acid America Through Her Authors," Mrs. Austin M. Patterson; hostess, Mrs. Gowdy Williamson.

October 29—Current Events, Mrs. Steele Poague; subject, "Science—Social"; "The New Psychology," Mrs. D. D. Jones; "Problems of the Social Scientist," Mrs. F. R. Woodruff; hostess, Mrs. W. C. Craig.

November 13—Current Events, Mrs. Graham Bryson; subject, "The Forum"; "The Chinese Situation," Mrs. Charles Kinsey; "Russia of Today," Mrs. E. L. Smith; hostess, Mrs. S. O. Hale.

November 26—Current Events, Mrs. John Prugh; subject, "Modern Drama"; "The Social Drama," Mrs. Media Gowdy; "The Drama of Fantasy," Mrs. Walter Harner; hostess, Mrs. D. D. Jones.

December 19—Current Events, Miss Helen Bradute; subject, "The Novel"; "The Modern French Novel," Mrs. C. E. Fisher; "Representative British Novelists," Miss Helen Santmyer, guest speaker; hostess, Mrs. Lawrence Landaker.

January 7—Current Events, Miss Helen Boyd; subject, "Science—Applied"; "America's Contribution to Science," Mrs. Graham Bryson; guest speaker, Dr. Austin Patterson; hostess, Mrs. C. L. Jobe.

January 21—Annual business meeting, election of officers; "From Alien to Citizen," Mrs. H. C. Messenger; "The Practice of Diplomacy," Mrs. H. D. Smith; hostess, Mrs. John Barlow.

February 4—Current Events, Mrs. Walter Harner; subject, "Modern Drama"; "Municipal Theaters," Mrs. J. D. Steele; "Youth and the Play," Mrs. R. H. Kingsbury and Mrs. Arthur Perrill; hostess, Mrs. F. L. Smith.

February 18—Current Events, Mrs. B. R. McClellan; subject, "Modern Novel"; "Novels of the Year," Mrs. John Prugh; "Is the Cinema Superseding the Novel?" affirmative, Mrs. C. L. Wolf; negative, Mrs. J. Robert Bryson; hostess, Mrs. C. E. Fisher.

March 4—Current Events, Mrs. R. H. Kingsbury; subject, "Science"; "Recent Archaeological Discoveries," Miss Helen Boyd; "Inventions of Our Day," Mrs. W. H. McGervey; hostess, Mrs. F. R. Woodruff.

March 18—Current Events, Mrs. H. D. Smith; subject, "The Forum"; "The Trend in Modern Art," Mrs. Gowdy Williamson; "Modern Tendencies in Music," Miss Florence Steele; hostess, Mrs. Austin Patterson.

April 1—Current Events, Mrs. Graham Bryson; subject, "The Drama"; "The Irish National Drama," Mrs. John Barlow; one-act Gregory play, Mrs. Steele Poague and Miss Helen Bradute; hostess, Mrs. M. L. Wolf.

April 15—Subject, "Science—Natural"; "Luther Burbank," Mrs. B. R. McClellan; "Illustrious Gardens of the World," Mrs. Ella Humphrey; hostess, Mrs. H. C. Messenger.

April 29—Current Events, Mrs. J. D. Steele; duet, Mrs. Media Gowdy and Mrs. Arthur Perrill; subject, "Forum"; "Mussolini's Italy," Mrs. W. W. Weaver; hostess, Mrs. Charles Kinsey. The program committee will serve.

Officers of the organization are as follows: Mrs. S. M. McKay, president; Mrs. Ella Humphrey, vice-president; Mrs. H. C. Messenger, secretary. The calendar committee is composed of Mrs. C. W. Adair, Mrs. D. W. Cherry and Miss Alicia Monroe.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAS MEETING.
Mrs. T. H. Bell and Mrs. Elbert Andrews were elected delegates and Mrs. M. A. Hagley and Mrs. Anna Reed alternates to the Presbyterial which meets at the Second United Presbyterian Church, this city, October 17, at the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First U. P. Church, at the church, Friday afternoon.

The "Negro" and the "North American Indian" were discussed at the meeting. Mrs. J. P. Lytle and Mrs. M. A. Hagley read interesting papers on the "Negro" and the subject of the "North American Indian" was ably handled by Mrs. George Wheeler, Miss Lena Gilbert and Mrs. Louella Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson gave an interesting story of the work of the Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Smith who are working among the Indians at Tona, Iowa. Several negro spiritual numbers, were sung by Mrs. J. H. Davidson, accompanied by Mrs. J. P. Lytle. Mrs. T. H. Bell had charge of the devotions. She was assisted by Mrs. Rosanna Alexander.

Preceding the meeting the women sewed for the Children's Home at Valentin, Pa., which is under the care of the Woman's Association of the United Presbyterian Church. A covered dish dinner was served at noon to thirty-five women.

PASTOR AND WIFE HONORED AT RECEPTION.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. N. Shank were honor guests at a delightful congregational reception given at the parlors of the First M. E. Church, last Tuesday evening.

The church was beautifully decorated in early fall flowers and a splendid program was heard.

The choir of the church under the direction of Mr. Hugh Miller, sang. Mr. John Ray, superintendent of the Sunday School department, gave a short talk, followed by a financial report by Mr. A. E. Faulkner.

Mr. Charles Bone, former superintendent of the Sunday School, gave a talk on "Boosing."

The "Two Helms," Misses Helen Hurley and Helen Ford, gave several of their musical numbers. An interesting part of the program was the presentation of a blue and white quilt made by Mrs. Mary Cline, 84, to Mrs. Shank. The gift was accompanied by a picture of Mrs. Cline.

After a response from the Rev. Mr. Shank the Rev. Adrian Lebold, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, gave a short talk. Several selections from the choir closed the program. The women of the church served a dainty refreshment course.

Miss Edna Jack, S. Detroit St., who underwent an operation at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Dayton, some time ago, returned to the hospital, last Thursday where she is undergoing medical treatment.

ENTERTAIN MISS SCARFF WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Misses Violet Lane, Lucille Beatty and Nelle Weaver delightfully entertained with a birthday party for the pleasure of Miss Bessie Scarff, Friday evening at Miss Lane's home on High St.

A delicious three course dinner was served at a table which was decorated in dahlias and other fall flowers. A social time was enjoyed following.

Those present were: the honor guest, Mrs. Charles Scarff, Mrs. Frank Weaver, Mrs. J. A. Beatty, Mrs. A. J. Lane and Miss Harriett Scarff.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. William Rickles, Mr. Harry Williams and Mr. Virgil Martin, all of Xenia, and Mr. Bert Whittington, Richmond, Ind., left Sunday by special train from Dayton for Louisville, Ky., to attend the national American Legion convention this week. Other Xenians are expected to go to Louisville by motor.

Mr. Edward Sayre, this city, has accepted a position with the American Nut Co., Indianapolis, as salesman in the eastern Kentucky and Tennessee territory. He entered upon his new duties Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gillmore and daughter, Dorothy, Portsmouth, were the week end guests of Mrs. R. W. Irwin, N. Galloway St.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Watt and daughter Peggy, Fort Wayne, Ind., spent the week end here with Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Watt, W. Second St.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hudson, Fremont, spent the week end here with Mrs. Hudson's sisters, the Misses Harriett and Bertha McCarty, W. Market St.

Miss Ruth Rumbaugh, Columbus Pike, spent the past week in Springfield at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Keller.

Miss Irma Teach, S. Detroit St., is confined to her home because of illness.

Miss Clara Chambers, who has been critically ill for some time, does not show much improvement.

SELECT OFFICERS FOR GIRL SCOUTS AT MEETING HERE

Captains and lieutenants were selected for six Girl Scout troops by the council which met in the Court House, Friday evening.

The troops are not complete and any girls wishing to join the Scouts may call Miss Hazel Schwab, local director. No officers have been named for the St. Brigid's group but it is hoped that the selection will be made soon.

The organization is as follows: freshmen girls—captain, Miss Hazel Schwab; lieutenant, Miss Virginia Heathman; members: Mary Davidson, Margaret McCa, Jane Finney, Eleanor Conklin, Virginia Kinsey, Janet Frazer, Mary Waddle, Margaret Tindall, Margaret Weiss and Marion Cox.

Sophomore girls—captain, Miss Olive Allen, lieutenant, Miss Elizabeth Hardy; members: Thelma Anderson, Martha Bath, Thelma Yeakley, Anna Hardy, Velda Jones, Kathryn Keller, Inez Smith and Elizabeth Spahr.

Eighth grade girls and juniors—captain, Mrs. Pearl Wittenmyer; lieutenant, Miss Inez Smith; members: Louise Bath, Janice Leamen, Imogene Bath, Bernice Bath, Elizabeth Weingart, Marion Snyder, Isabelle Bowser, Juanita McPherson and Alberta Murray.

Seventh grade—captain, Miss Faye Cavanaugh; lieutenant, Miss Helen Chambliss and second lieutenant, Miss Marjorie Shumaker; members: Betty Savage, Betty Jane Smith, Jean Compton, Marjorie Snyder, Evelyn Jones, Betty Baldwin, Virginia Bowser, Mildred Whittington and Mabel Bath.

Sixth grade for ten years old or up—captain, Miss Clara McCalmont and lieutenant, Miss Emily Dean; St. Brigid's—no officers; members: Louise Hanna, Ruth Killen, Catherine Mangan, Dorothy Clemmer, Mary Elizabeth Bruce, Betty Hoag, Mildred Fuller and Rose Marie Hornick.

The brownies—seven to ten years of age—captain, Miss Marjorie Douthett; lieutenant, Miss Ollis Hart; members: Annette Boyce, Ruth Hammerle and Elouise Coy.

REPORT 2,000 SEE MODEL APARTMENTS

Approximately 2,000 people visited the model apartments constructed at Second and West Sts., by P. H. Flynn during the four days they were open for inspection.

In-door beds, combination Electrolux mechanical refrigerators and gas ranges, gas-operated Estate Heatrols for heating purposes, bathrooms with up-to-date fixtures including shower and tub combinations and other conveniences of modern living quarters drew interest of the visitors.

An idea of how the apartments looked furnished was given by the Brown Furniture Co., which furnished one of the ground floor apartments from living room to kitchen. Attractive furniture lent itself admirably to the large rooms of the apartments. Drapes were furnished for this apartment by the Hutchison and Gibney Co.

HONOR THEM WITH A MEMORIAL

May We Assist You?

The Geo. Dodds & Sons

Granite Co.

In Xenia

Over Sixty Five Years

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED HERE AT REUNION OF 74TH O. V. V. I

Mrs. J. Thorb Charters, Xenia, was re-elected president of the organization at the sixtieth annual reunion of the 74th regiment, O. V. V. I, in the assembly room of the Court House, Saturday.

All other officers, including Mrs. Mary C. Owens, Dayton, vice president, Mrs. Frank Bickett, Xenia, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Emory Beal, near Xenia, chairman of the executive committee, were re-elected.

The morning session was taken up by a business session at which time Mayor Karl R. Babb gave the welcoming address and Dr. Austin M. Patterson responded.

A luncheon was served in the basement of the Court House by the Daughters of Veterans and the afternoon session was opened by the O. S. and S. O. Home drum corps.

Prof. Louis Hammerle, superintendent of Xenia City Schools gave the address of the afternoon, on "The History of the Regiment." Mr. Hammerle gave the complete history of the regiment from the time of its organization at the time war was declared, to the present.

Following his address the O. S. and S. O. Home octet sang several numbers.

The Rev. Russell Burkett, pastor of the Friends Church gave a splendid memorial address for members of the regiment who have passed away during the past year. They were: Dr. Clark A. Moore, Cambridge, Ohio; Franklin Pratt, Co. B, Spring Valley; Adam Fisher, Co. E, Mainville, O.; T. J. North, Co. F, Vandalia; Francis Snyder, Co. E, Ruth, Mich.; and William R. Weimere, Co. F, Chicago, Ill.

Charles W. Wilson, Xenia, veteran of the 18th regiment, sang an old war song which preceded the election of officers.

It was decided that the 1930 meeting be held in the assembly room of the Court House during September of next year.

AULTMAN MADE PRESIDENT OF BULLSKIN-XENIA STATE ROAD

Prof. H. C. Aultman, Greene County superintendent of schools, was elected president of the Bullskin Xenia State Highway Association when permanent organization was effected at a meeting at the Neil House in Columbus Saturday supplies were taken along this route to Perry's fleet.

This flag has since been in the possession of the Blanchard family, living in the northern part of Clermont County, and will eventually be presented to the state and preserved at the state capital.

Proposed improvement of the road was taken under consideration by Governor Cooper and Director Wald, who will attend a big meeting planned for early next month at Blanchester, at which time the chief executive will inspect the route.

H. C. AULTMAN

morning attended by a large number of representatives from Clinton and Clermont Counties.

P. E. Snyder, Blanchester, O., was elected vice president; Miss H. Anna Quinby, Columbus attorney, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. W. A. Galloway, president of the Greene County Historical Society, historian.

Previous to the organization meeting, many of those interested in the proposed improvement of the state road from Rural to the Ohio River to Xenia, were guests at a reception at Governor Cooper's home at which Mrs. Cooper officiated.

Later in the morning the initial presentation of the matter to Governor Cooper and State Highway Director Robert Wald was formally made, accompanied by a large number of petitions containing the signatures of residents along the proposed route.

The association, according to Prof. Aultman, is also in the possession of the original flag carried over the old road when government

The condition of Mr. John Gibney, who underwent a serious operation at a hospital in Cleveland last Friday, is critical. He had gone to Cleveland some time ago to enter University School and an emergency operation was performed when appendicitis developed.

HARNESS FARM—28 ACRES
Sold
Saturday, Oct. 5, 1929
10 A. M.
Front of Court House.
Fine land, Silvercreek Township on Harness Road.
For particulars see
Ohmer Tate
Sheriff
Miller and Finney, Attorneys, Xenia, O.

At Our Soda Fountain

We specialize in chocolate drinks. Try either a chocolate soda, sundae, hot fudge sundae or chocolate malted milk and you will discover that the taste and quality is different.

Sodas and Sundaes, 10c.
Chocolate Malted Milk, 15c.

D. D. JONES
Druggist

No. 43 E. Main St., Xenia, O.

Vern L. Faires

Represents

America's Oldest Life Ins. Co.

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. OF NEW YORK

Allen Bldg. Phone 240

Xenia, Ohio.

XENIAN INJURED IN DAYTON RAIL YARDS

O. Frank Bracelin, S. Monroe St., car inspector for the Pennsylvania Railroad, had the heel of his right foot crushed Friday morning while employed in the Dayton yards when he started to walk around one end of a cut of freight cars just as a yard engine backed into the other end. Bracelin was dragged for a short distance and although he managed to prevent the wheels from passing over his body his right heel was badly mashed. The injury was dressed at Miami Valley Hospital and he was later removed to his home in Xenia.

EAST END NEWS

MRS. JAMES HARRIS
Correspondent
Tel. 91-R

The Missionary Society of the Zion Baptist Church will hold its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mary McKnight, E. Second St.

All World War service men are invited to the meeting of the John Roan Post of the American Legion Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the home of the post commander, Mr. Grover Harden, 37 Columbus Ave.

Miss Marian Shields, E. Market St., left Sunday afternoon for Washington, D. C., where she will enter the second term as a student in Howard University.

The Rev. George and wife of Columbus, O., are spending part of his vacation as pastor of Bethany Baptist Church at the home of his mother, Mrs. Harriet Washington, E. Second St.

Mr. John Scott of Madisonville, O., was the Sunday visitor of friends here.

The Deacon Board of the Zion Baptist Church and also trustees of same are urged to meet Monday evening at 7:30 in their respective board meetings.

Miss Classie Johnson, Dayton, was a visitor of friends here Thursday.

The Edith Randolph Prayer Circle will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Andrews, E. Main St.

The anniversary program services that have been scheduled for next week will be postponed until later in the month.

Mrs. Josephine Scott, E. Second St., was given a surprise birthday party at her home Friday evening. Twenty-eight guests were present. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Mr. William H. Jenkins, E. Market St., was agreeably surprised Friday evening when his children with their families came in a party to his home and spent the evening. Many beautiful as well as useful tokens were brought him. Refreshments were served and short talks were made by all present.

The missionary society of the Middletown Baptist Church re-organized and the following officers were elected for the year: president, Mrs. F. M. Liggins; vice-president, Mrs. Edna Hicks; secretary, Mrs. Nellie Lewis; assistant secretary, Mrs. Virginia Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Ray Lewis. The next meeting will be held Friday evening at 7:30 at the church.

YOU PAY LESS AT

Kennedy's

39 West Main

200 ROOM LOTS OF

WALL PAPER

AT LESS THAN FACTORY COST

BRING THE CORRECT SIZES OF YOUR ROOMS.

E. B. CURTIS

38-40 E. MAIN ST.

FRANK HERING

The meeting was followed by a boxing and wrestling show after which a chicken supper was served.

All members securing applications are requested to hand them to Dr. Frank Chambliss for examination.

Edwin A. Jeffries, Secretary.

At a recent meeting of Xenia Aerie No. 1689 F. O. E.

A membership drive was started in honor of Conrad Mann and Frank Hering, two men, who have devoted 30 years of service to the Eagle Lodge.

Each member of Xenia Aerie No. 1689 is urged to secure one or more applications in order to make this drive a success.

The degree team of Springfield, O., will officiate at the initiation which will be held

OCT. 13, 1929

Judge A. L. Pater of Hamilton, Ohio, opened the membership drive with an earnest appeal to the local Eagles to make this Con and Frank class the biggest class ever initiated in Xenia.

CONRAD MANN

KENNEDY'S

39 WEST MAIN ST.

DORNA GORDON WASH FROCKS

69c

Guaranteed Fast Color

Size 16-52

ManDaLay

First Quality Rayon Undies

Gowns	.....98c-$1.98
Pajamas	.....$2.95
Dance Sets	.....$1.89
Bloomers	69c, 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Bloomers, (stout)	98c, $1.49, $1.69
Vests	.....89c
Teddies, with bandeau, top bloomer knee	.....98c-$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips	.....$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips (stout)	.....$1.69
Pongee Slips	.....$1.49
Tricortette Slips	.....$1.69
Crepe Slips	.....$2.69
Crepe Bloomers	.....$1.98
Crepe Chemise	.....$1.49
Children's Vest	.....69c
Children's Bloomers	.....79c

Fashion and Values in KENNEDY'S COATS

Broadcloths with deep fur trim.

$16.75, $24.75, $43.50

$59.75

HOLLYWOOD HOSE

Not one pair of irregulars all are clear even weave.

Service weight	.....$1.00
Chiffon	.....$1.65
Luxurious Texture Hose	.....49c
Children's Novelty Hose	.....49c
Boys' Sport Hose	.....23c-49c
Boys' Wash Suits	.....98c-$1.49
School Sweaters	.....$1.48-$1.98-$2.98
Men's Fancy Hose	.....49c
Ankleettes	.....39c-49c
Boys' Lumber Jack	.....$1.98

Junior Woman's Club To Open Season Tuesday

PROF. Lincoln Gibbs of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, will speak on "An Introduction to Modern Drama," at the first meeting of the year of the Junior Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Ella Humphrey, Yellow Springs, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Perrill will sing "A Song of October." A one-act play, by Shaw, will be presented by Mrs. Crawford Craig and Mrs. Lawrence Landaker.

Mrs. S. M. McKay, president, will deliver the greeting address at the opening of the meeting.

Programs for following dates are: October 15—Current Events, Miss Florence Steele; subject, "The Modern Novel"; "Its Evolution," Mrs. S. O. Hale; "Seeing

D. A. R. TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Approximately seven hundred members of the Daughters of the American Revolution are expected to attend the southwest district meeting at the Covenant Presbyterian Church at Springfield, Tuesday.

The Lagonda Chapter of Springfield will be hostess at the meeting and luncheon will be served by this chapter at the church at 12 o'clock.

Following the luncheon a pilgrimage to The Madonna of the Trail will be given.

Several state officers, including Mrs. Herbert M. Backus, of Columbus, vice-president general of the organization, and Mrs. Walter Tobey, Hamilton, state regent, will be present.

Members from the Xenia chapter who will attend are: Mrs. Winifred Armstrong, Miss Sarah Williams, Mrs. Harry Sohn, Mrs. J. O. McCormick, Mrs. William McGervey, Mrs. A. S. Frazer, Mrs. Alice Eavey, Mrs. C. L. Jobe, Mrs. A. C. Messenger, Mrs. Jacob Baldwin, regent, Mrs. R. D. Adair, Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. Frank Jackson.

SUNSHINE CLASS ENTERTAINED SATURDAY

The Sunshine Class of the United Brethren Church met at the home of Miss Mildred Coons, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. C. E. Trubee, teacher of the class, opened the meeting with the scripture reading, which was followed by a short business session.

Contests and games were in play during the afternoon and Miss Helen Hess was awarded the contest prize.

The hostess served a dainty refreshment course at the close of the meeting. Those present were: Misses Martha Funk, Nina Steinhens, Helen Hess, Gladys Gill, Thelma Osborn, Donna Newcomer, Eleanor Moore, Helen Gill and Lotie Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCorkell and daughter Jane Lou, St. Detroit St., left Saturday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., where they spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Patterson. Mrs. McCorkell will enter a hospital in that city Monday where she will undergo medical treatment for heart trouble. Mr. McCorkell and daughter will remain at the Patterson home.

Mr. W. C. Devoe, Union St., underwent an emergency operation at McClellan Hospital, Sunday. His condition is reported satisfactory.

Mr. Arthur Miller, N. King St., spent Monday in Columbus attending the joint Columbus and Dayton, General Electric Convention in the ball room of the Deshler-Wallace Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel LeValley of Paintersville, entertained at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mason and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Babb and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Woods and family.

Members of the Dorcas Class of the First Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Randall, Center St., Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. E. Kohl, teacher of the class, requests that each member bring her Bible so that memory verses to be memorized by November 1 may be selected.

The annual thank-offering meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the church. Each member is asked to bring a jar of canned fruit to be put into the barrel which will be sent to the home in Pittsburgh, Pa.

NEVER wait to see if a headache will "wear off." Why suffer when there's Bayer Aspirin? The millions of men and women who use it in increasing quantities every year prove that it does relieve such pain. The medical profession pronounces it without effect on the heart, so use it as often as it can spare you any pain. Every drugist always has genuine Bayer Aspirin for the prompt relief of a headache, colds, neuralgia, lumbago, etc. Familiarize yourself with the proven directions in every package.

ASPIRIN
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate of Salicylic Acid

December Through Her Authors," Mrs. Austin M. Patterson; hostess, Mrs. Gwendy Williamson.

October 29—Current Events, Mrs. Steele Poague; subject, "Science—Social"; "The New Psychology," Mrs. D. D. Jones; "Problems of the Social Scientist," Mrs. F. R. Woodruff; hostess, Mrs. W. C. Craig.

November 12—Current Events, Mrs. Graham Bryson; subject, "The Forum," Mrs. Charles Kinsey; "Russia of Today," Mrs. F. L. Smith; hostess, Mrs. S. O. Hale.

November 26—Current Events, Mrs. John Prugh; subject, "Modern Drama"; "The Social Drama," Mrs. Meda Gowdy; "The Drama of Fantasy," Mrs. Walter Harner; hostess, Mrs. D. D. Jones.

December 13—Current Events, Miss Helen Bradford; subject, "The Novel"; "The Modern French Novel," Mrs. C. E. Fisher; "Representative British Novelists," Miss Helen Santmyer, guest speaker; hostess, Mrs. Lawrence Landaker.

January 7—Current Events, Miss Helen Boyd; subject, "Science—Applied"; "America's Contribution to Science," Mrs. Graham Bryson; guest speaker, Dr. Austin Patterson; hostess, Mrs. C. L. Jobe.

January 21—Annual business meeting, election of officers; "From Alien to Citizen," Mrs. H. C. Messenger; "The Practice of Diplomacy," Mrs. H. D. Smith; hostess, Mrs. John Barlow.

February 4—Current Events, Mrs. Walter Harner; subject, "Modern Drama"; "Municipal Theaters," Mrs. J. D. Steele; "Youth and the Play," Mrs. R. H. Kingsbury and Mrs. Arthur Perrill; hostess, Mrs. F. L. Smith.

February 18—Current Events, Mrs. B. R. McClellan; subject, "Modern Novel"; "Novels of the Year," Mrs. John Prugh; "Is the Cinema Superseding the Novel?" affirmative, Mrs. M. L. Wolf; negative, Mrs. J. Robert Bryson; hostess, Mrs. C. E. Fisher.

March 4—Current Events, Mrs. R. H. Kingsbury; subject, "Science"; "Recent Archaeological Discoveries," Miss Helen Boyd; "Inventions of Our Day," Mrs. W. H. McGervey; hostess, Mrs. F. R. Woodruff.

March 18—Current Events, Mrs. H. D. Smith; subject, "The Forum"; "The Trend in Modern Art," Mrs. Gwendy Williamson; "Modern Tendencies in Music," Miss Florence Steele; hostess, Mrs. Austin Patterson.

April 1—Current Events, Mrs. Graham Bryson; subject, "The Drama"; "The Irish National Drama," Mrs. John Barlow; one-act Gregory play, Mrs. Steele Poague and Miss Helen Bradford; hostess, Mrs. M. L. Wolf.

April 15—Subject, "Science—Nature"; "Father Burbank," Mrs. R. H. McClellan; "Illustrious Gardens of the World," Mrs. Ella Humphrey; hostess, Mrs. H. C. Messenger.

April 29—Current Events, Mrs. J. D. Steele; duet, Mrs. Meda Gowdy and Mrs. Arthur Perrill; subject, "Forum"; "Mussolini's Italy," Mrs. W. W. Weaver; hostess, Mrs. Charles Kinsey. The program committee will serve.

Officers of the organization are as follows: Mrs. S. M. McKay, president; Mrs. Ella Humphrey, vice-president; and Mrs. H. C. Messenger, secretary. The calendar committee is composed of Mrs. C. W. Adair, Mrs. D. W. Cherry and Miss Alicia Monroe.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAS MEETING.
Mrs. T. H. Bell and Mrs. Elbert Andrews were elected delegates and Mrs. M. A. Hagler and Mrs. Anna Reed alternates to the Presbyterian which meets at the Second United Presbyterian Church, this city, October 17, at the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First U. P. Church, at the church, Friday afternoon.

The "Negro" and the "North American Indian" were discussed at the meeting. Mrs. J. P. Lytle and Mrs. M. A. Hagler read interesting papers on the "Negro" and the subject of the "North American Indian" was ably handled by Mrs. George Wheeler, Miss Lena Gilbert and Mrs. Louella Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson gave an interesting story of the work of the Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Smith who are working among the Indians at Tona, Iowa. Several negro spiritual numbers were sung by Mrs. J. H. Davidson, accompanied by Mrs. J. P. Lytle. Mrs. T. H. Bell had charge of the devotions. She was assisted by Mrs. Rosanna Alexander.

Proceeding the meeting the women sewed for the Children's Home at Valentin, Pa., which is under the care of the Woman's Association of the United Presbyterian Church.

A covered dish dinner was served at noon to thirty-five women.

PASTOR AND WIFE HONORED AT RECEPTION.
The Rev. and Mrs. W. N. Shank were honor guests at a delightful congregational reception given at the parlors of the First M. E. Church, last Tuesday evening.

The church was beautifully decorated in early fall flowers and a splendid program was heard.

The choir of the church under the direction of Mr. Hugh Miller, sang. Mr. John Ray, superintendent of the Sunday School department, gave a short talk, followed by a financial report by Mr. A. E. Faulkner.

Mr. Charles Bone, former superintendent of the Sunday School, gave a talk on "Boosting."

The "two Helens," Misses Helen Hurley and Helen Ford, gave several of their musical numbers. An interesting part of the program was the presentation of a blue and white quilt made by Mrs. Mary Cline, 84, to Mrs. Shank. The gift was accompanied by a picture of Mrs. Cline.

After a response from the Rev. Mr. Shank the Rev. Adrian Lebold, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, gave a short talk. Several selections from the choir closed the program. The women of the church served a dainty refreshment course.

Miss Edna Jack, St. Detroit St., who underwent an operation at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Dayton, some time ago, returned to the hospital, last Thursday where she is undergoing medical treatment.

ENTERTAIN MISS SCARFF WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Misses Violet Lane, Lucille Beatty and Nelle Weaver delightfully entertained with a birthday party for the pleasure of Miss Bessie Scarff, Friday evening at Miss Lane's home on High St.

A delicious three course dinner was served at a table which was decorated in dahlias and other fall flowers. A social time was enjoyed following.

Those present were: the honor guest, Mrs. Charles Scarff, Mrs. Frank Weaver, Mrs. J. A. Beatty, Mrs. A. J. Lane and Miss Harriett Scarff.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. William Rickles, Mr. Harry Williams and Mr. Virgil Martin, all of Xenia, and Mr. Bert Whittington, Richmond, Ind., left Sunday by special train from Dayton for Louisville, Ky., to attend the national American Legion convention this week. Other Xenians are expected to go to Louisville by motor.

Mr. Edward Sayre, this city, has accepted a position with the American Nut Co., Indianapolis, as salesman in the eastern Kentucky and Tennessee territory. He entered upon his new duties Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gillmore and daughter, Dorothy, Portsmouth, were the week end guests of Mrs. R. W. Irwin, N. Galloway St.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Watt and daughter Peggy, Fort Wayne, Ind., spent the week end here with Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Watt, W. W. Second St.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hudson, Fremont, spent the week end here with Mrs. Hudson's sisters, the Misses Harriett and Bertha McCarty, W. Market St.

Miss Ruth Rumbaugh, Columbus Pike, spent the past week in Springfield at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Keller.

Miss Irma Teach, S. Detroit St., is confined to her home because of illness.

Miss Rosa Chambers, who has been critically ill for some time, does not show much improvement.

SELECT OFFICERS FOR GIRL SCOUTS AT MEETING HERE

Captains and lieutenants were selected for six Girl Scout troops by the council which met in the Court House, Friday evening.

The troops are not complete and any girls wishing to join the Scouts may call Miss Hazel Schwab, local director. No officers have been named for the St. Bridg's group but it is hoped that the selection will be made soon.

The organization is as follows: freshman girls—captain, Miss Hazel Schwab; lieutenant, Miss Virginia Heathman; members: Mary Davidson, Margaret McCarty, Jane Finney, Eleanor Conklin, Virginia Kinsey, Janet Frazer, Mary Waddle, Margaret Tindall, Margaret Weiss and Marion Cox. Sophomore girls—captain, Miss Olive Allen, lieutenant, Miss Elizabeth Hardy; members: Thelma Anderson, Martha Bath, Thelma Yeakley, Anna Hardy, Velda Jones, Kathryn Keller, Inez Smith and Elizabeth Spahr.

Eight grade girls and juniors—captain, Mrs. Pearl Wittenmyer; lieutenant, Miss Inez Smith; members: Louise Bath, Janice Leamen, Imogene Bath, Bernice Bath, Elizabeth Weingart, Marion Snyder, Isabelle Bowser, Juanita McPherson and Alberta Murray.

Seventh grade—captain, Miss Faye Cavasough; lieutenant, Miss Helen Chambliss and second lieutenant, Miss Marjorie Shumaker; members: Betty Savage, Betty Jane Smith, Jean Compton, Marjorie Snyder, Evelyn Jones, Betty Baldwin, Virginia Bowser, Mildred Whittington and Mabel Bath.

Sixth grade for ten years old or up—captain, Miss Clara McCalmont and lieutenant, Miss Emily Dean.

St. Bridg's—no officers; members: Louise Hamma, Ruth Killeen, Catherine Mangan, Dorothy Clemmer, Mary Elizabeth Bruce, Betty Hoag, Mildred Fuller and Rose Marie Hornick.

The brownies—seven to ten years of age—captain, Miss Marjorie Donahut; lieutenant, Miss Olla Hart; members: Annette Boyce, Ruth Hammerle and Elouise Coy.

REPORT 2,000 SEE MODEL APARTMENTS

Approximately 2,000 people visited the model apartments constructed at Second and West Sts., by P. H. Flynn during the four days they were open for inspection.

In-a-door beds, combination Electrolux mechanical refrigerators and gas ranges, gas-operated Estate Heatrolas for heating purposes, bathrooms with up-to-date fixtures including shower and tub combinations and other conveniences of modern living quarters drew interest of the visitors.

An idea of how the apartments looked furnished was given by the Brown Furniture Co., which furnished one of the ground floor apartments from living room to kitchen. Attractive furniture lent itself admirably to the large rooms of the apartments. Drapes were furnished for this apartment by the Hutchison and Gibney Co.

HONOR THEM WITH A MEMORIAL
May We Assist You?

The Geo. Dodds & Sons
Granite Co.

In Xenia
Over Sixty Five Years

Miss Edna Jack, St. Detroit St., who underwent an operation at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Dayton, some time ago, returned to the hospital, last Thursday where she is undergoing medical treatment.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED HERE AT REUNION OF 74TH O. V. V. I

Mrs. J. Thorb Charters, Xenia, was re-elected president of the organization at the sixtieth annual reunion of the 74th regiment, O. V. V. I, in the assembly room of the Court House, Saturday.

All other officers, including Mrs. Mary C. Owens, Dayton, vice president, Mrs. Frank Bickett; Xenia, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Emory Beal, near Xenia, chairman of the executive committee, were re-elected.

The morning session was taken up by a business session at which time Mayor Karl R. Babb gave the welcoming address and Dr. Austin M. Patterson responded.

A luncheon was served in the basement of the Court House by the Daughters of Veterans and the afternoon session was opened by the O. S. and S. O. Home drum corps.

Prof. Louis Hammerle, superintendent of Xenia City Schools gave the address of the afternoon, on

AULTMAN MADE PRESIDENT OF BULLSKIN-XENIA STATE ROAD

Prof. H. C. Aultman, Greene County superintendent of schools, was elected president of the Bullskin Xenia State Highway Association when permanent organization was effected at a meeting at the Neil House in Columbus Saturday supplies were taken along this route to Perry's fleet.

This flag has since been in the possession of the Blanchard family, living in the northern part of Clermont County, and will eventually be presented to the state and preserved at the state capitol.

Proposed improvement of the road was taken under consideration by Governor Cooper and Director Wald, who will attend a big meeting planned for early next month at Blanchester, at which time the chief executive will inspect the route.

AUTOISTS ADVISED OF NEW STATE LAW

Attention of motorists is being called by county authorities to a new law which became effective a few months ago making it unlawful for an auto to drive past a school bus which is taking on or discharging passengers.

While no violation of this law has been reported at the sheriff's office, drivers of school busses at Osborn have been instructed to take the license number of any machine which fails to obey the law in this respect and report the violation. The fact that autoists as a rule do not stop for busses led to issuance of the order, it is said.

An Urbana motorist was fined $10 and costs last week for driving past a school bus which was engaged in taking on school children.

morning attended by a large number of representatives from Clinton and Clermont Counties.

P. E. Snyder, Blanchester, O., was elected vice president; Miss H. Anna Quinby, Columbus attorney, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. W. A. Galloway, president of the Greene County Historical Society, historian.

Previous to the organization meeting, many of those interested in the proposed improvement of the state road from Rural on the Ohio River to Xenia, were guests at a reception at Governor Cooper's home at which Mrs. Cooper officiated.

Later in the morning the initial presentation of the matter to Governor Cooper and State Highway Director Robert Wald was formally made, accompanied by a large number of petitions containing the signatures of residents along the proposed route.

The association, according to Prof. Aultman, is also in the possession of the original flag carried over the old road when government

The condition of Mr. John Gibney, who underwent a serious operation at a hospital in Cleveland last Friday, is critical. He had gone to Cleveland some time ago to enter University School and an emergency operation was performed when appendicitis developed.

HARNESS FARM—28 ACRES
Sold
Saturday, Oct. 5, 1929
10 A. M.
Front of Court House.

Fine land, Silvercreek Township on Harness Road.

For particulars see
Ohmer Tate
Miller and Finney, Sheriff
Attorneys, Xenia, O.

At Our Soda Fountain
We specialize in chocolate drinks. Try either a chocolate soda, sundae, hot fudge sundae or chocolate malted milk and you will discover that the taste and quality is different.

Sodas and Sundaes, 10c.
Chocolate Malted Milk, 15c.

D. D. JONES
Druggist
No. 43 E. Main St. Xenia, O.

Vern L. Faires
Represents
America's Oldest Life Ins. Co.
The Mutual Life Ins. Co. OF NEW YORK

Allen Bldg. Phone 240
Xenia, Ohio.

HOLLYWOOD HOSE
Not one pair of irregulars all are clear even weave.

Service weight .....$1.00
Chiffon .....$1.65
Luxurious Texture Hose .....49c
Children's Novelty Hose .....49c
Boys' Sport Hose .....23c-49c
Boys' Wash Suits .....98c-$1.49
School Sweaters $1.48-$1.98-$2.98
Men's Fancy Hose .....49c
Ankleettes .....39c-49c
Boys' Lumber Jack .....$1.98

KENNEDY'S
ManDaLay
First Quality
Rayon Undies

Gowns .....98c-$1.98
Pajamas .....$2.95
Dance Sets .....$1.89
Bloomers .69c, 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Bloomers, (stout) 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Vests .....89c
Teddies, with bandeau, top bloom-er knee .....98c-$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips .....$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips (stout) .....$1.69
Pongee Slips .....$1.49
Tricotee Slips .....$1.69
Crepe Slips .....$2.69
Crepe Bloomers .....$1.98
Crepe Chemise .....$1.49
Children's Vest .....69c
Children's Bloomers .....79c

XENIAN INJURED IN DAYTON RAIL YARDS

O. Frank Bracelin, S. Monroe St., car inspector for the Pennsylvania Railroad, had the heel of his right foot crushed Friday morning while employed in the Dayton yards when he started to walk around one end of a cut of freight cars just as a yard engine backed into the other end. Bracelin was dragged for a short distance and although he managed to prevent the wheels from passing over his body his right heel was badly mashed. The injury was dressed at Miami Valley Hospital and he was later removed to his home in Xenia.

EAST END NEWS
MRS. JAMES HARRIS
Correspondent
Tel. 91-R

The Missionary Society of the Zion Baptist Church will hold its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mary McKnight, E. Second St.

All World War service men are invited to the meeting of the John Roan Post of the American Legion Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the home of the post commander, Mr. Grover Harden, 37 Columbus Ave.

Miss Mariam Shields, E. Market St., left Sunday afternoon for Washington, D. C., where she will enter the second term as a student in Howard University.

The Rev. George and wife of Columbus, O., are spending part of his vacation as pastor of Bethany Baptist Church at the home of his mother, Mrs. Harriett Washington, E. Second St.

Mr. John Scott of Madisonville, O., was the Sunday visitor of friends here.

The Deacon Board of the Zion Baptist Church and also trustees of same are urged to meet Monday evening at 7:30 in their respective board meetings.

Miss Classie Johnson, Dayton, was a visitor of friends here Thursday.

The Edith Randolph Prayer Circle will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Andrews, E. Main St.

The anniversary program services that have been scheduled for next week will be postponed until later in the month.

Mrs. Josephine Scott, E. Second St., was given a surprise birthday party at her home Friday evening. Twenty-eight guests were present. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Mr. William H. Jenkins, E. Market St., was agreeably surprised Friday evening when his children with their families came in a party to his home and spent the evening.

At a recent meeting of Xenia Aerie No. 1689 F. O. E.

A membership drive was started in honor of Conrad Mann and Frank Hering, two men, who have devoted 30 years of service to the Eagle Lodge.

Each member of Xenia Aerie No. 1689 is urged to secure one or more applications in order to make this drive a success.

The degree team of Springfield, O., will officiate at the initiation which will be held OCT. 13, 1929.

Judge A. L. Pater of Hamilton, Ohio, opened the membership drive with an earnest appeal to the local Eagles to make this Con and Frank class the biggest class ever initiated in Xenia.

The meeting was followed by a boxing and wrestling show after which a chicken supper was served.

All members securing applications are requested to hand them to Dr. Frank Chambliss for examination.

Edwin A. Jeffries, Secretary.

KENNEDY'S
ManDaLay
First Quality
Rayon Undies

Gowns .....98c-$1.98
Pajamas .....$2.95
Dance Sets .....$1.89
Bloomers .69c, 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Bloomers, (stout) 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Vests .....89c
Teddies, with bandeau, top bloom-er knee .....98c-$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips .....$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips (stout) .....$1.69
Pongee Slips .....$1.49
Tricotee Slips .....$1.69
Crepe Slips .....$2.69
Crepe Bloomers .....$1.98
Crepe Chemise .....$1.49
Children's Vest .....69c
Children's Bloomers .....79c

HOLLYWOOD HOSE
Not one pair of irregulars all are clear even weave.

Service weight .....$1.00
Chiffon .....$1.65
Luxurious Texture Hose .....49c
Children's Novelty Hose .....49c
Boys' Sport Hose .....23c-49c
Boys' Wash Suits .....98c-$1.49
School Sweaters $1.48-$1.98-$2.98
Men's Fancy Hose .....49c
Ankleettes .....39c-49c
Boys' Lumber Jack .....$1.98

KENNEDY'S
ManDaLay
First Quality
Rayon Undies

Gowns .....98c-$1.98
Pajamas .....$2.95
Dance Sets .....$1.89
Bloomers .69c, 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Bloomers, (stout) 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Vests .....89c
Teddies, with bandeau, top bloom-er knee .....98c-$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips .....$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips (stout) .....$1.69
Pongee Slips .....$1.49
Tricotee Slips .....$1.69
Crepe Slips .....$2.69
Crepe Bloomers .....$1.98
Crepe Chemise .....$1.49
Children's Vest .....69c
Children's Bloomers .....79c

KENNEDY'S
ManDaLay
First Quality
Rayon Undies

Gowns .....98c-$1.98
Pajamas .....$2.95
Dance Sets .....$1.89
Bloomers .69c, 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Bloomers, (stout) 98c, $1.49, $1.69
Vests .....89c
Teddies, with bandeau, top bloom-er knee .....98c-$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips .....$1.49-$1.69
Rayon Slips (stout) .....$1.69
Pongee Slips .....$1.49
Tricotee Slips .....$1.69
Crepe Slips .....$2.69
Crepe Bloomers .....$1.98
Crepe Chemise .....$1.49
Children's Vest .....69c
Children's Bloomers .....79c

KENNEDY'S
ManDaLay
First Quality
Rayon Undies

ing. Many beautiful as well as useful tokens were brought him. Refreshments were served and short talks were made by all present.

The missionary society of the Middleburg Baptist Church re-organized and the following officers were elected for the year: president, Mrs. F. M. Liggins; vice-president, Mrs. Edna Hicks; secretary, Mrs. Nellie Lewis; assistant secretary, Mrs. Virginia Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Ray Lewis. The next meeting will be held Friday evening at 7:30 at the church.

The Deacon Board of the Zion Baptist Church and also trustees of same are urged to meet Monday evening at 7:30 in their respective board meetings.

Miss Classie Johnson, Dayton, was a visitor of friends here Thursday.

The Edith Randolph Prayer Circle will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Andrews, E. Main St.

The anniversary program services that

FEATURES Views and News Comment EDITORIAL

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers, John W. Cullen Co., National Advertising Representatives; Chicago office, No. 8 S. Michigan Ave., New York office, 501 Fifth Ave., New York City; Detroit office, General Motors Bldg.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
In Greene County	$ .40	$ 1.00	$ 1.90	$ 3.50
Zones 1 and 2	.45	1.15	2.15	4.00
Zones 3, 4 and 5	.50	1.30	2.40	4.50
Zones 6 and 7	.55	1.45	2.65	5.00
Zone 8	.60	1.50	2.90	5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15c Per Week, Single Copy, Three Cents

TELEPHONES
Advertising and Business Office	111
Editorial Department	70
Circulation Department	800

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

PRAY BELIEVING — And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.—Matthew 21:22.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

When the board of education of Middletown recently received offers on a bond issue approved by the people and provided for as a means of erecting additional school buildings here, the public learned that bids received were above par, or $100.66 per bond.

How many citizens, however, paused to digest this statement, to consider just what this fact means?

At the time the board received these bids, even government Liberty bonds were quoted at only 98 1/2.

Members of the board had investigated conditions in other cities in Ohio and when they opened a bid offering a premium of $5,980 on 5 1/4 percent bonds were surprised to discover this exceeded by far, any offer received by other Ohio school districts for many months. Other bids varied but slightly.

In other words, Middletown's school district looks good to the bonding firms as a sound financial investment, a fact due to the excellent financial condition of the district; and because of this they are willing to pay a substantial premium.

Middletown school district includes eighty millions in taxable property and has only about two million in out-standing bonds, including officials of the board say, the present issue of $900,000, in 5 1/4 bonds. Other school districts in this part of Ohio show bonds ranging from 5 1/2 to 6 percent, the latter being the limit allowed by law.

Until recently and under laws then existing, the percent was fixed by the board issuing the bonds but a new law effected a change whereby the bonding companies do this and regulate the premium accordingly.

As a result when the Middletown board received bids to the number of seven and ranging from 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 percent bonds, it required no great amount of thought to realize that thanks to our financial condition, Middletown's school district is considered excellent.

This is not only a matter for pride on the part of every citizen of the community, but speaks volumes for the efficient business management of those men who constitute Middletown's board of education.

Middletown now has fourteen school buildings, and of these the High school and Lincoln school and the Garfield are all practically new, erected since 1923.

The present bond issue will bring two additional buildings, increasing the total to sixteen and, as members of the board point out, with an out-standing bond list of approximately only two million dollars.

SEATING THE MACDONALDS

The vice-presidential hostess has hardly found her proper place at the table before social Washington is all aflutter again. This time it is over the social status to be accorded a prime minister of the United Kingdom and his hostess, who happens to be his daughter.

With the question of precedence as between Sir Esme Howard and Mr. MacDonald, Americans are not concerned. That is a family affair, which their government will presumably settle in due course. With the courtesies accorded by American officials and social leaders to Mr. MacDonald and Miss Ishbel, Americans are concerned. They must suffer for any faux pas that is made.

The thing to be remembered is that Mr. MacDonald is the prime minister of a friendly country, visiting the United States officially to further promote international friendship. As such he and his daughter should be received with every demonstration of friendliness, as is due a national guest. The stake involved is too large to be endangered by ambitious men or women, with only social axes to grind.

By Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK—Give the New York Sap the slightest provocation and he'll open his mouth and air his tonsils until he's prodded into an "As you were!" by a policeman's club.

A Suit Savant on 42nd street hired a painter the other day to enter a large sign telling the world of an impending special sale and a special cop had to be assigned to keep the Saps from blocking traffic.

NONCHALANCE

After a run of 22 weeks at the Cort, in Chicago, "The Nut Farm," with Wallace Ford, is opening in New York at the Biltmore in mid-October. John Brownell, the author, has been too darn busy in all that time to see his own show and he's coming on a special trip to take a first squirt at his brain child.

Speaking of nonchalance!

A TOWEL TOSsing JOINT

John Barber, Mazda Lane's official hot towel tosser, has opened up his de luxe bay rum studio in what used to be the Mayfair theatre on West 44th street. John's hot towels are monogrammed with his patrons' initials and the Divinities Who Shape Your Ends are all ex-Follies girls—at least John wears they are, and anyone who is acquainted with John is aware he never permits fact to stand in the way of a good yarn.

BETTER THAN DOCTORING

Warwick Deering, author of "Sorel and Son" is an M. D. degree. He is not the first medical man who has wrested a fortune from his apperitiver. Sir Conan Doyle is a medical man. Clients were slow in appearing and to while away the time the Doc scribbled his first Sherlock Holmes stories.

THE WAY of the WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

WHERE TRADING'S GOOD

For the prosperity of our people the United States government will do well to encourage in every possible way the building up of foreign markets and foreign trade. Julian B. Foster, representing the U. S. department of commerce, returning from New Zealand, says that is the richest country in the world. The people down there are willing to use our goods. Surely our quality, our methods, our service is as good as those of the rest of the trading world. There are too many American manufacturers without the vision of the possibilities of foreign trade.

DOCTORS

It is figured out by statisticians of a life insurance company that the average one of us, doing this, that, and the other thing, has an expectancy of longer life than the average physician. Somebody says the average doctor does not profit greatly by his superior knowledge of the human body and its functions. Perhaps the real reason is that doctors are likely to work too hard, keep too long hours, fail to make time and provision for doing what they advise others to do.

RECOGNITION

Russia, worrying less about political recognition from America, is hoping to develop trade relations with the United States. In fact American and Russian business men are beginning to understand each other. Results of the recent visit of a delegation of United States business men to the Soviet country will be worth watching.

When Russian leaders think less about political propaganda and more about business, advertising and trade they will get further in the esteem of the rest of the world. And there seems to be signs that trade and business are taking the spotlight away from what was once called Communism.

THE NOBLEST

One reads in "The Life Line." The noblest life is the life that loves, that gives, that loses itself, that overflows and irrigates the great fields of human anxiety and toil. The noblest life is the life that sustains by its serenity and patience and gratitude.

One is struck especially by the three qualities last named: serenity, patience, gratitude. Without all three, in some measure, one's life is not very impressive or very successful in any way.

No amount of achievement can make up for that lack of serenity which makes the door and those with whom he comes in contact unhappy. There can be no continuing achievement without patience. And without the sense of gratitude one is merely savage and uncivilized.

Who's Who and Timely Views

By CLYDE KELLY

Congressman From Pennsylvania (Melville) Clyde Kelly was born at Bloomfield, O., Aug. 4, 1883. He is a graduate of Muskingum college. From 1901 to 1903 he was city editor of the Daily News, Braddock, Pa. In the latter year he founded the Braddock Leader. He purchased the Daily News in 1905 and the Evening Herald in 1907. Since that date he has published the Daily News-Herald. He was a member of the Pennsylvania house of representatives from 1910 to 1913. In 1913 he was elected to congress from the thirty-third Pennsylvania district and has been returned each term since except for the period from 1915 to 1917. He is a Republican.

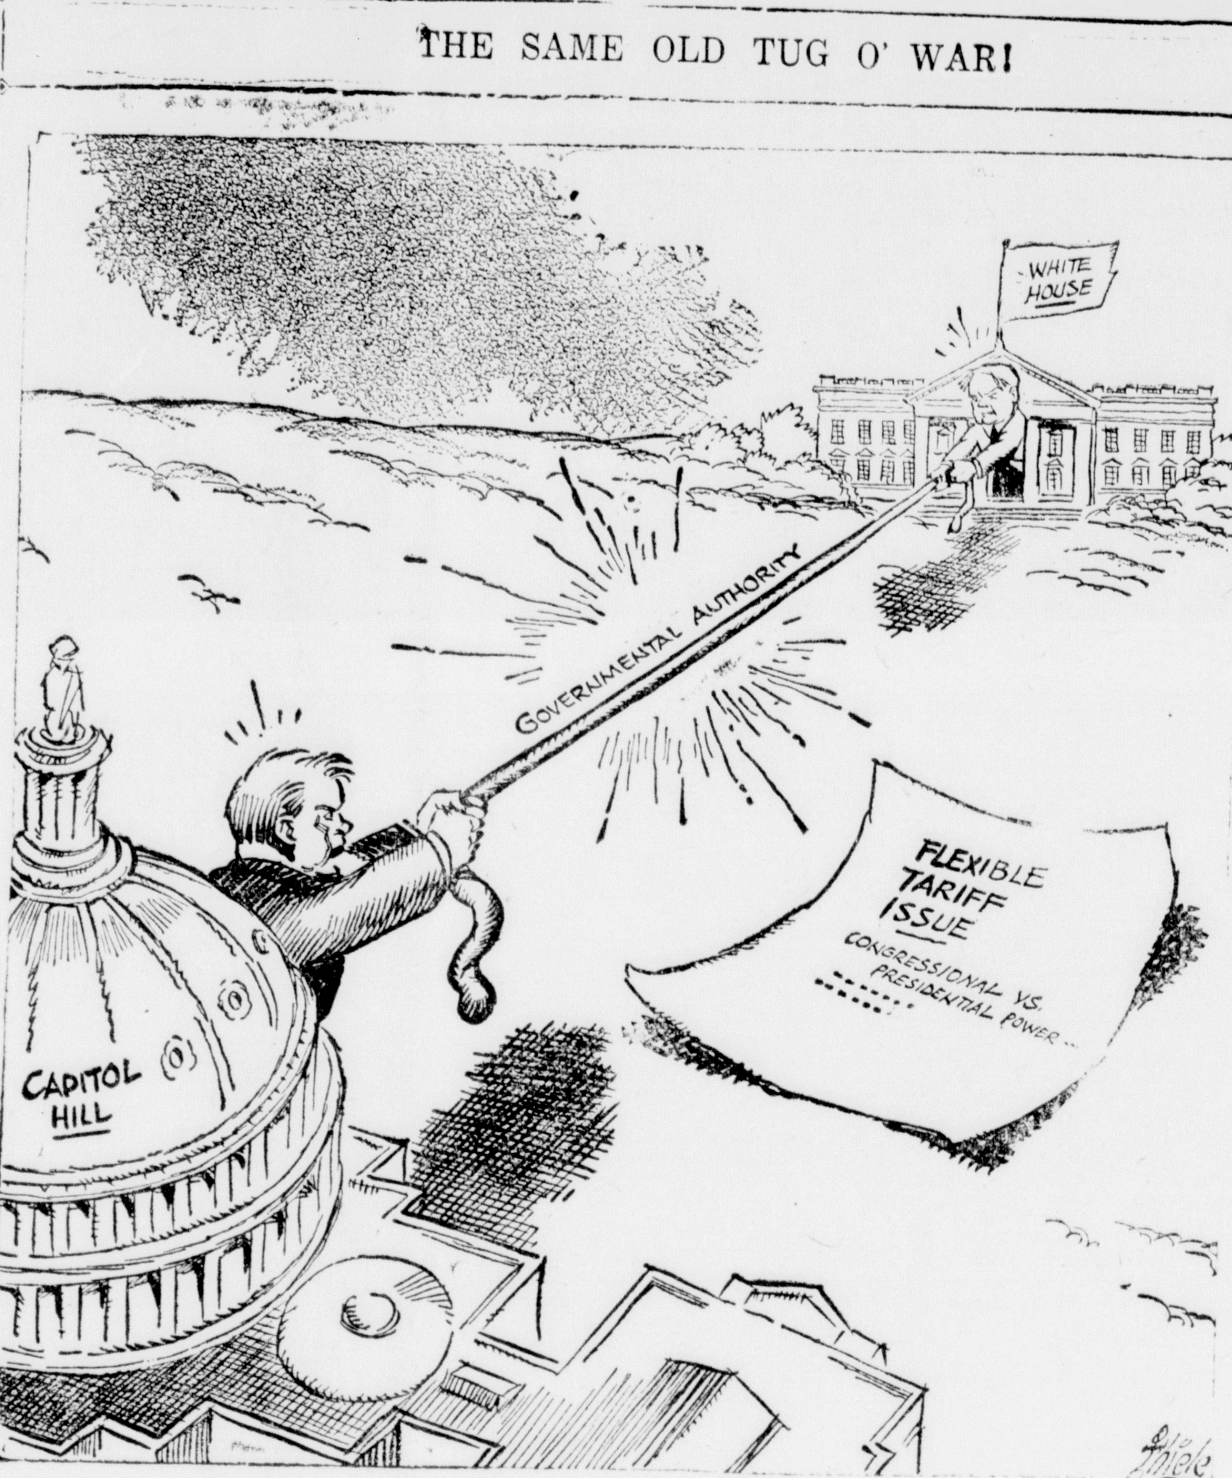

The situation of the Jewish population in Palestine is a challenge to America and to every other civilized nation. American Jewry has furnished the greater part of the funds for the rehabilitation of the Holy Land. American citizens have furnished a major part of the leadership for the most worthy aim of establishing a Jewish homeland in Zion.

The United States government should lend its aid in seeing that order is re-established in Palestine and that a fair opportunity be given the Jewish people to work out their manifest destiny free from the menace of enemy forces. In all the history of the world there is no instance of fidelity like that of the Jews for the promised land and their own people.

Out of the World War, and out of the recent developments in Europe, has come the possibility for re-establishment, governmentally, of the homeland of the Jews. America is pre-eminently the nation to take the initiative at this time in urging that re-establishment. The American people, and the people of other civilized nations cannot be indifferent to the welfare of the Jewish people to whom we owe a vast debt for laws and literature, ideals and inspirations.

The Book of Books, the Bible, so sacred to America and the civilized world today, which had so vital a part in the founding and development of America, came to the world through the Jews. From them also came the very foundation doctrine in our Declaration of Independence that "all men are created equal."

The American ideal of the home as the foundation of the nation comes from the Jews. The first educational system for all the children was instituted in Palestine. Interwoven into our history has been the Jewish philosophy, business methods, music, oratory and poetry of the

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

You have by now, I am sure, developed a desire to make yourself as lovely as possible. This desire is really nine-tenths of the battle, for women in their own gentle way can almost always do the things they have set their hearts on doing.

Perhaps making a program will be helpful to you. May I suggest a few essentials? When you awaken in the morning, take a few stretching exercises, breathing in deeply the while, until all the sleepiness is gone.

Now take a glass of water—and here let me say that water-drinking is a wonderful ally to beauty. Take a dash of lemon in your water whenever possible. If you have the time apply cleansing cream to your face, if not, water will do until you can find more time. Perhaps it will be more convenient for you to apply the cream at some later time in the day. Brush your hair upward and outward, away from the head (not downward) and you will find it decidedly stimulating. Should your early morning hours not permit of so much attention to yourself (and it certainly is hard to concentrate on hair brushing when hubby wants to have breakfast with you, and the children insist on your seeing them off to school) then decide on a time of the day more convenient for hair brushing and cold creaming. There is nothing more exhilarating and healthful (health means beauty; you must remember that, too) than a brisk walk each day.

All of these directions sound as if they might occupy many hours, but they really can arrange themselves into a weekly program much less demanding, if you prefer.

For instance, on Monday you might concentrate special attention to the hair, Tuesday to the eyes, Wednesday could be set aside for improving the texture of your skin. Your neck and shoulders might come in for a special bit of care on Thursday, and Friday could be devoted to beautifying the arms and hands.

Be sure, however, that all of these things are done regularly. As I said in one of the previous articles, it is with regularity only that the beauty habit is formed. Do not expect miracles, but you can safely very attractive "you" if you have the wish and the will to follow my suggestions.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Why does the Volstead act take the trouble to specify that the manufacture of "non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices in the home" is not outlawed?

Non-intoxicating beverages are not prohibited anyway. It seems superfluous to emphasize it.

This thought struck the enforcement authorities, too—a good while ago.

That was why they interpreted the law to mean that the 1-2 to 1 rule does not apply to "non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices" manufactured "in the home" exclusively for use in the home; that such beverages are not prohibited unless they are "intoxicating IN FACT"—regardless of the percentage of alcohol they contain.

It was an interpretation which furnishes the wets with their excuse for charging that Volsteadism is a "farmers' law," so drawn as to permit agricultural folk to keep their cellars full of legally fermented wine, while restricting city dwellers to cold water—due to the lack of raw material to manufacture super-5-per cent (but "non-intoxicating in fact") refreshments in THEIR own homes.

True, Chief Counsel James J. Britt of the bureau of prohibition tells me that he has never held it necessary for the process of "manufacture" to begin with the actual pressing out "in the home" of the juice from the fruit.

That is to say, in order to stay within the law, the householder is not required to have the bulky fruit under his roof before initiating operations; he may acquire the juice from some one else, get it into his domicile and let nature take its course without incriminating him.

Jews. From them we have learned the dignity of labor and the truth that righteous laws are the guardians of man's liberty.

Since congress passed a resolution for the support of the plan to establish a Jewish homeland, it is surely consistent to again express the desire of America for the successful culmination of that plan.

ing himself—provided he stops nature somewhere short of the "intoxicating in fact" deadline.

All this is not so new. Doubtless a great many, if not all, city people were aware of it already. As they viewed it, it did not help them any.

A hogsheadful of fruit juice, fermenting in the average modern 2x4 urban kitchenette, may not be quite so ridiculous an idea as the presence of a boxcarload of grapes or elderberries or cider apples on the premises—not to mention the task of skwishing the juices out of them—but it is not a very much more practical proposition.

It takes a lot of non-intoxicating fruit juice to get a family through the winter.

So the average city slicker has continued to consider himself discriminated against in favor of the farmer, who, as the former sees the situation, is afforded a loophole to get out through, thus insuring himself a pretty fair quality and ample quantity of lawful drinkables at reasonable cost.

It is a loophole, in a way—but there is a steel trap in it. It is liable to catch the farmer any minute—unless he is mighty careful.

I discovered this fact accidentally, as a by-product of an attempt I made to learn why one unlucky wight or another is arrested, every now and then, for manufacturing fruit juice in his own home—not commercially, but strictly for his own consumption—despite the prohibition bureau's ruling on the subject.

The joker is that the fruit juice maker, the minute he has reached the 1-2 of 1 per cent mark, never can be certain whether or not his stuff is, in fact, intoxicating, or non-intoxicating.

One-half of 1 per cent is definitely on the hither side of that line.

Beyond it the seas are uncharted—rocks, reefs, shoals, tempests—known knows what all. Or, mayhap, fair sailing.

"Suppose," I suggest to Chief Counsel Britt, "an honest farmer is accused of 'possession.' His fruit juice assays 10 per cent. It never intoxicated HIM. He never drank enough. Besides, he can stand a good deal. He pleads that it is, in fact, non-intoxicating. Is it?"

"If the jury says so," answered the chief counsel.

"His neighbor," I continued, "is arrested also. But he is pretty susceptible. Once it made him slightly tipsy. Is it intoxicating?"

"What the jury does to the farmer," explained the chief counsel, "has nothing to do with the matter. It depends on the jury's verdict."

"The entire question," he amplified "is one of evidence."

"It is that, that determines whether or not a beverage of 1-2 of 1 per cent or over—is intoxicating in fact."

"An average must be struck—an average, as to the susceptibility of individuals—the amount that a man would be likely to drink—and a conclusion arrived at accordingly."

"Would the jury's sympathies have anything to do with it?—a wet or a dry jury?—a popular farmer, or otherwise?"

"It might," agreed the chief counsel.

Possibly there may be a grain of comfort in this information, to city folk—who, hitherto, have been envying agriculture.

Perhaps, likewise, a warning to the latter.

It is an overstatement to say that a steel trap lies hidden in that loop-hole?

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT
Broiled Pork Tenderloins
Scalloped Potatoes
Sliced Tomatoes on Lettuce
Favorite Dressing

Olives Celery
Apple Jelly or Apple Sauce
Vanilla Ice Cream with
Butterscotch Sauce
Brown Sugar Cookies
Coffee or Tea

This menu was planned for an informal luncheon by a woman who has little time for "trimmings" in her household arrangements. She is employed and invited a group of young women, also employed, to run up to the house and have luncheon with her. The potatoes she cooked the evening before, and the lettuce was washed and put in a wet bag in the refrigerator and the tomatoes peeled at the same time. The guests helped with the final preparations, but a few moments only would be needed to complete the meal, which was served as simply as possible. Autumn garden flowers were the table decorations.

Cheese Sauce—Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, mix well and add milk slowly, stirring until smooth; add cheese, salt, pepper and paprika. Boil two minutes.

Tomatoes and Eggs—Grease muffin tins, put one thick slice of unpeeled tomato into each tin, season with salt and pepper, break one egg on top of each slice, again season with salt and pepper and put a small piece of butter on top of each egg. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until egg is set but not hard. Serve on rounds of toast and garnish with parsley.

Watermelon pulp scooped out with a potato cutter and the balls piled in long stemmed glasses and served very cold with a little lemon juice and powdered sugar is an excellent appetizer. Watermelon makes an appetizing sherbet, and frozen melon is a good dessert.

One-half of 1 per cent is definitely on the hither side of that line.

THE SAME OLD TUG O' WAR!

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Medicalbookitis.

"Dear Doctor: I am beginning to notice lately that something is affecting my mind. My memory seems to be leaving me entirely, and I have such a confusion of thoughts and ideas that I dread to start a conversation with anyone."

"I have been consulting a doctor book, and according to it I have almost all the symptoms of inflammation or congestion of the brain. Almost a year ago I received a severe blow on the top of my head. This mental weakness I speak of seems to have come on gradually since that time. Do you suppose that could have been the cause? I am 22 years old and the mother of three children. For their sakes, if no other, I feel the importance of correcting my condition, if it is possible. I have always been considered intelligent, and as yet no one besides myself has noticed any change, but I fear it will soon become evident. I have tried hard to believe it was only imagination, and in that way, to overcome it; but with no results. I would be so grateful for any advice you can give me. I am 20 pounds underweight."

MRS. A.

To be frank, Mrs. A. I fear you are suffering from medicalbookitis. It isn't wise for the layman to be reading regular medical books. Do you notice I seldom give symptoms of disease in the column? I found out very early that whenever I did, I had hundreds of letters from my readers, who said they knew what was the matter with them now, for they had all the symptoms I mentioned. And perhaps not one of them had the disease!

You remember that one of Jerome K. Jerome's characters—was it in "Three Men in a Boat"—was a perfectly healthy chap, read a medical book and discovered that he had everything except housemaid's knee.

No, you haven't an inflammation of the brain, Mrs. A. If you had, you'd be so ill (and have a fever) that you couldn't be reading any medical or other books. If the head whack had been severe enough to cause any lasting mental symptoms, you would probably have had such serious physical symptoms that you would have been carried to the hospital on a stretcher!

You are considerably underweight, and no doubt you have been on a deficient diet; your tissues, including your nerve tissues, are all starved. This makes you greatly under par in health, and this alone, plus your worry, might account for your lapse of memory and other symptoms.

The gaining pamphlet has been sent to you, and I hope you have been on a fuller diet and already are finding that you feel much better.

If you will live out of doors as much as you possibly can, have all the sleep you can soak into your system, and a full balanced diet, I am quite sure you will find all your symptoms will vanish. Naturally, I advise you to go for a check-up, for there may be some physical condition that should be remedied (not inflammation of the brain!). If you can't afford to go to a private physician, go to a clinic.

"My husband has a small roughened patch in the center of his lower lip. He injured it in the first place by cigarettes, and then keeps it sore by continually biting the skin off. It is sometimes very painful. Might this develop into cancer?"

MRS. H.

YES, YES! He must stop smoking (and biting) immediately, and let him to a competent physician.

JOH—Your question on the amount of urine, and abnormal substances in it, are answered in our new pamphlet on Kidney and Bladder Disorders. See column rules.

Tomorrow: Rheumatism and Obesity.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"Blessed is the peacemaker," says the Good Book. But sometimes, in our hearts, we have grave doubts about this. We all know the fate of the person who rashly interferes in a battle between husband and wife. Both usually turn on him. And the same is often true of the friend who tries to help the course of true love to run smoothly in a lovers' quarrel. Both lovers decide that the peacemaker is the one that made the trouble and distrust and dislike her. That is pretty nearly the predicament of the young woman who writes the following letter:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: Some time ago my girl friend and her fellow seemed to quarrel and disagree. I felt she was wrong and tried to help them both and make her care for him more. The fellow seemed a friend and came to me with everything she did. I told him just how to go to work to make her care. He followed my suggestions and things went smoothly for awhile. Then he began to be hateful about petty things. She was good to him through it all until her patience wore out. They quit last week and he told her that I wasn't her friend and that I would eventually cause her trouble. What should I do to make her know this is untrue? Should I get them together and make him tell her it isn't true? I have explained everything to her. She hasn't turned me down. ALL WRONG?"

Looks as if you are experiencing the proverbial lot of the peacemaker. All Wrong. As long as you have told the girl friend all about her, and she still seems true to you, why worry? And I advise you to keep out of other people's quarrels hereafter, no matter how good your motive. Lovers are generally better left to patch up their own misunderstandings.

PATIENCE: If the man wishes to meet you he will find a way to get someone to introduce him, so be true to your name a while longer. Patience. It is always best to let the man take the initiative in such cases.

BROKEN HEARTED SUE: I think if the young man really loved you he would not tire of you. If he was like that it was well you found it out before you married. He is young—youthful than you in his development, possibly—and maybe he wanted to go with other girls for awhile and see if you really were the one he wanted. You can't do anything, that's the sad part, but wait until he comes back. Maybe by that time you will have decided that a changeable person like he is not the man you can really be happy with. Two consoling people can agree even if their complexion are alike. Something usually comes along to ruffle the course of true love, however.

BOBBIE: Don't apologize for wanting to be popular with the boys, dear. It's a perfectly natural wish and you would be abnormal if you didn't. Boys are just like girls in their reactions to people—girls included. They like a free, frank girl who is interested in them—not crazy about them, you understand—but interested in a friendly human way. You are young yet and will, I am sure, have plenty of admirers in the near future, so just adopt an attitude of watchful waiting and be prepared to be a good little pal when the boys begin to decorate the living room of your home.

Peter's Adventures

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

BUTTERFLY TO BUTTERCUP

"Are you going to keep your appointment with Lily's cousin now or after the party?" asked Peter, and Butterfly was so startled he gave a sudden jerk that almost unseated the boy.

"Good gracious! I had nearly forgotten. How glad I am you mentioned it, for I had promised to call, and I always like to keep my word. Besides, I simply couldn't do myself justice in the dance this afternoon if I had to perform weighed down with all this dust upon my body. But Miss Tiger Lily lives right on the other side of the brook we are coming to, so it won't be a bit out of our way. We are nearly there now. Yes, I thought so! There she is, waiting for me. The breeze must have told her I was on my way. Didn't you see her wave?"

Sure enough, just then Peter did catch sight of a swaying lily that grew on the bank of brook, only this lily, instead of being white and yellow, wore a scarlet gown spotted in black.

She received Butterfly and Peter with open petals, and offered them of her dew and honey, and the boy was grateful for the sweet had made him thirsty. Not very drink, for the ride through the air long did Butterfly stop, and after a friendly fare well, off he flew back across the brook, and then into the loveliest meadow that the boy had ever seen.

The grass was long and very green, and daisies and black-eyed susans and pretty pink queens of the meadow grew among it. The little brook that they had seen had changed its path and ran through the middle of it, and Butterfly alighted on a stalk of yellow buttercups that grew in the shadow of a weeping willow.

"I think you will find it very comfortable here," he remarked to Peter. "It is fine and cool, and I understood you to say that you would rather be in the shade than in the sun."

"Yes, so I should," replied the boy, and this makes a splendid grandstand. But are you sure that Butterfly wants me? Perhaps she has friends of her own that she would like to have view the ball. I should like to ask her before I settle myself."

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. John W. Cullen Co., National Advertising Representatives; Chicago office, No. 8 S. Michigan Ave.; New York office, 501 Fifth Ave.; New York City; Detroit office, General Motors Bldg.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
In Greene County	$ .40	$ 1.00	$ 1.90	$ 3.50
Zones 1 and 2	.45	1.15	2.15	4.00
Zones 3, 4, and 5	.50	1.30	2.40	4.50
Zones 6 and 7	.55	1.45	2.65	5.00
Zone 8	.60	1.50	2.90	5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15c Per Week, Single Copy, Three Cents

TELEPHONES
Advertising and Business Office	111
Editorial Department	70
Circulation Department	800

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

PRAY BELIEVING — And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.—Matthew 21:22.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

When the board of education of Middletown recently received offers on a bond issue approved by the people and provided for as a means of erecting additional school buildings here, the public learned that bids received were above par, or $100.66 per bond.

How many citizens, however, paused to digest this statement, to consider just what this fact means?

At the time the board received these bids, even government Liberty bonds were quoted at only 98½.

Members of the board had investigated conditions in other cities in Ohio and when they opened a bid offering a premium of $5,980 on 5¼ percent bonds were surprised to discover this exceeded by far, any offer received by other Ohio school districts for many months. Other bids varied but slightly.

In other words, Middletown's school district looks good to the bonding firms as a sound financial investment, a fact due to the excellent financial condition of the district; and because of this they are willing to pay a substantial premium.

Middletown school district includes eighty millions in taxable property and has only about two million in outstanding bonds, including officials of the board say, the present issue of $900,000, in 5¼ bonds. Other school districts in this part of Ohio show bonds ranging from 5¼ to 6 percent, the latter being the limit allowed by law.

Until recently and under laws then existing, the percent was fixed by the board issuing the bonds but a new law effected a change whereby the bonding companies do this and regulate the premium accordingly.

As a result when the Middletown board received bids to the number of seven and ranging from 5¼ to 5½ percent bonds, it required no great amount of thought to realize that thanks to our financial condition, Middletown's school district is considered excellent.

This is not only a matter for pride on the part of every citizen of the community, but speaks volumes for the efficient business management of those men who constitute Middletown's board of education.

Middletown now has fourteen school buildings, and of these the High school and Lincoln school and the Garfield are all practically new, erected since 1923.

The present bond issue will bring two additional buildings, increasing the total to sixteen and, as members of the board point out, with an out-standing bond list of approximately only two million dollars.

SEATING THE MACDONALDS

The vice-presidential hostess has hardly found her proper place at the table before social Washington is all aflutter again. This time it is over the social status to be accorded a prime minister of the United Kingdom and his hostess, who happens to be his daughter.

With the question of precedence as between Sir Esme Howard and Mr. MacDonald, Americans are not concerned. That is a family affair, which their government will presumably settle in due course. With the courtesies accorded by American officials and social leaders to Mr. MacDonald and Miss Ishbel, Americans are concerned. They must suffer for any faux pas that is made.

The thing to be remembered is that Mr. MacDonald is the prime minister of a friendly country, visiting the United States officially to further promote international friendship. As such he and his daughter should be received with every demonstration of friendliness, as is due a national guest. The stake involved is too large to be endangered by ambitious men or women, with only social axes to grind.

Bo Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK—Give the New York Saps the slightest provocation and he'll open his mouth and air his thoughts until he's prodded into an "As you were!" by a policeman's club.

A Suit Savant on 42nd street hired a painter the other day to alter a large sign telling the world of an impending special sale and a special cop had to be assigned to keep the Saps from blocking traffic.

NONCHALANCE

After a run of 22 weeks at the Fort, in Chicago, "The Nut Farm," with Wallace Ford, is opening in New York at the Biltmore in mid-October. John Brownell, the author, has been too darn busy in all that time to see his own show and he's coming on a special trip to take a first squirt at his brain child.

Speaking of nonchalance!

A TOWEL TOSsing JOINT

John the Barber, Mazda Lane's official hot towel tosser, has opened up his de luxe bay rum studio in what used to be the Mayfair theatre on West 44th street. John's hot towels are monogrammed with his patrons' initials and the Divinities Who Shape Your Ends are all ex-Follies girls—at least John says they are, and anyone who is acquainted with John is aware he never permits fact to stand in the way of a good yarn.

BETTER THAN DOCTORING

Warwick Despins, author of "Sord and Son," has an M. D. degree. He is not the first medic who has wrasted a fortune from his apewriter. Sir Conan Doyle is a medical man. Clients were slow in appearing and to while away the time the Doc scribbled his first Sherlock Holmes stories.

THE WAY of the WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

WHERE TRADING'S GOOD

For the prosperity of our people the United States government will do well to encourage in every possible way the building up of foreign markets and foreign trade. Julian B. Foster, representing the U. S. department of commerce, returning from New Zealand, says that is the richest country in the world. The people down there are willing to use our goods. Surely our quality, our methods, our service is as good as those of the rest of the trading world. There are too many American manufacturers without the vision of the possibilities of foreign trade.

DOCTORS

It is figured out by statisticians of a life insurance company that the average one of us, doing this, that, and the other thing, has an expectancy of longer life than the average physician. Somebody says the average doctor does not profit greatly by his superior knowledge of the human body and its functions. Perhaps the real reason is that doctors are likely to work too hard, keep too long hours, fail to make time and provision for doing what they advise others to do.

RECOGNITION

Russia, worrying less about political recognition from America, is hoping to develop trade relations with the United States. In fact American and Russian business men are beginning to understand each other. Results of the recent visit of a delegation of United States business men to the Soviet country will be worth watching.

When Russian leaders think less about political propaganda and more about business, advertising and trade they will get further in the esteem of the rest of the world. And there seems to be signs that trade and business are taking the spotlight away from what was once called Communism.

THE NOBLEST

One reads in "The Life Line": "The noblest life is the life that loves, that gives, that loses itself, that overflows and irrigates the great fields of human anxiety and toil. The noblest life is the life that sustains by its serenity and patience and gratitude."

One is struck especially by the three qualities last named: serenity, patience, gratitude. Without all three, in some measure, one's life is not very impressive or very successful in any way.

No amount of achievement can make up for that lack of serenity which makes the doer and those with whom he comes in contact unhappy. There can be no continuing achievement without patience. And without the sense of gratitude one is merely savage and uncivilized.

Who's Who and Timely Views

By CLYDE KELLY

Congressman From Pennsylvania (Melville Clyde Kelly was born at Bloomfield, O., Aug. 4, 1883. He is a graduate of Muskingum college. From 1901 to 1903 he was city editor of the Daily News, Bradock, Pa. In the latter year he founded the Bradock Leader. He purchased the Daily News in 1905 and the Evening Herald in 1907. Since that date he has published the Daily News-Herald. He was a member of the Pennsylvania house of representatives from 1910 to 1913. In 1913 he was elected to congress from the thirty-third Pennsylvania district and has been returned each term since except for the period from 1915 to 1917. He is a Republican.)

The situation of the Jewish population in Palestine is a challenge to America and to every other civilized nation. American Jewry has furnished the greater part of the funds for the rehabilitation of the Holy Land. American citizens have furnished a major part of the leadership for the most worthy aim of establishing a Jewish homeland in Zion.

The United States government should lend its aid in seeing that order is re-established in Palestine and that a fair opportunity be given the Jewish people to work out their manifest destiny free from the menace of enemy forces. In all the history of the world there is no instance of fidelity like that of the Jews for the promised land and their own people.

Out of the World war, and out of the recent developments in Europe has come the possibility for re-establishment of the Jewish people in the homeland of the Jews. America is pre-eminently the nation to take the initiative at this time in urging that re-establishment. The American people, and the people of other civilized nations cannot be indifferent to the welfare of the Jewish people to whom we owe a vast debt for laws and literature, ideals and inspirations.

The Book of Books, the Bible, so sacred to America and the civilized world today which had so vital a part in the founding and development of America, came to the world through the Jews. From them also came the very foundation doctrine in our Declaration of Independence that "all men are created equal."

The American ideal of the home as the foundation of the nation comes from the Jews. The first educational system for all the children was instituted in Palestine. Interwoven into our history has been the Jewish philosophy, business methods, music, oratory and poetry of the

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

You have by now, I am sure, developed a desire to make yourself as lovely as possible. This desire is really nine-tenths of the battle for women in their own gentle way can almost always do the things they have set their hearts on doing.

Perhaps making a program will be helpful to you. May I suggest a few essentials? When you awaken in the morning, take a few stretching exercises, breathing in deeply the while, until all the sleepiness is gone.

Now take a glass of water—and here let me say that water drinking is a wonderful ally to beauty. Take a dash of lemon in your water whenever possible. If you have the time apply cleansing cream to your face, if not, water will do until you can find more time. Perhaps it will be more convenient for you to apply the cream at some later time in the day. Brush your hair upward and outward, away from the head (not downward) and you will find it decidedly stimulating. Should your early morning hours not permit of so much attention to yourself and it certainly is hard to concentrate on hair brushing when hubby wants to have breakfast with you, and the children insist on your seeing them off to school) then decide on a time of the day more convenient for hair brushing and cold creaming. There is nothing more exhilarating and healthful (health means beauty; you must remember that, too) than a brisk walk each day.

All of these directions sound as if they might occupy many hours, but they really can arrange themselves into a weekly program much less demanding, if you prefer.

For instance, on Monday you might concentrate special attention to the hair, Tuesday to the eyes, Wednesday could be set aside for improving the texture of your skin. Your neck and shoulders might come in for a special bit of care on Thursday, and Friday could be devoted to beautifying the arms and hands.

Be sure, however, that all of these things are done regularly. As I said in one of the previous articles, it is with regularity only that the beauty habit is formed. Do not expect miracles, but you can safely very attractive "You" if you have the wish and the will to follow my suggestions.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Why does the Volstead act take the trouble to specify that the manufacture of "non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices in the home.... exclusively for use in the home" is not outlawed?

Non-intoxicating beverages are not prohibited anyway. It seems superfluous to emphasize it. This thought struck the enforcement authorities, too—a good while ago.

That was why they interpreted the law to mean that the 1-2 to 1 per cent rule does not apply to "non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices" manufactured "in the home.... exclusively for use in the home"; that such beverages are not prohibited unless they are "intoxicating IN FACT"—regardless of the percentage of alcohol they contain.

It was an interpretation which furnishes the wets with their excuse for charging that Volsteadism is a "farmers' law," so drawn as to permit agricultural folk to keep their cellars full of legally fermented wine, while restricting city dwellers to cold water—due to the lack of raw material to manufacture super-5-per cent (but "non-intoxicating in fact") refreshments in THEIR own homes.

True, Chief Counsel James J. Britt of the bureau of prohibition tells me that he has never held it necessary for the process of "manufacture" to begin with the actual pressing out "in the home" of the juice from the fruit.

That is to say, in order to stay within the law, the householder is not required to have the bulky fruit under his roof before initiating operations; he may acquire the juice from some one else, get it into his domicile and let nature take its course without incriminating himself—provided he stops nature somewhere short of the "intoxicating in fact" deadline.

All this is not so new. Doubtless a great many, if not all, city people were aware of it already. As they viewed it, it did not help them any.

A hogshheadful of fruit juice, fermenting in the average modern 24 urban kitchenette, may not be quite so ridiculous an idea as the presence of a boxcarload of grapes or elderberries or cider apples on the premises—not to mention the task of skwishing the juices out of them—but it is not a very much more practical proposition.

It takes a lot of non-intoxicating fruit juice to get a family through the winter. So the average city slicker has continued to consider himself discriminated against in favor of the farmer, who, as the former sees the situation, is afforded a loophole to get out through, thus insuring himself a pretty fair quality and ample quantity of lawful drinkables at reasonable cost.

It is a loophole, in a way—but there is a steel trap in it. It is liable to catch the farmer any minute—unless he is mighty careful.

I discovered this fact accidentally, as a by-product of an attempt I made to learn why one unlucky wight or another is arrested, every now and then, for manufacturing fruit juice in his own home—not commercially, but strictly for his own consumption—despite the prohibition bureau's ruling on the subject.

The joker is that the fruit juice maker, the minute he has reached the 1-2 of 1 per cent mark, never can be certain whether or not his stuff is in fact, intoxicating, or non-intoxicating.

One-half of 1 per cent is definite.

On the hither side of that line is safety.

Beyond it the seas are uncharted—rocks, reefs, shoals, tempests—no one knows what all.

Or, mayhap, fair sailing.

"Suppose," I suggest to Chief Counsel Britt, "an honest farmer is accused of 'possession.' His fruit juice assays 10 per cent. It never intoxicated HIM. He never drank enough. Besides, he can stand a good deal. He pleads that it is, in fact, non-intoxicating. Is it?"

"If the jury says so," answered the chief counsel.

"His neighbor," I continued, "is arrested also. But the is pretty susceptible. Once it made him slightly tipsy. Is it intoxicating?"

"Thought the other man's, at 10 per cent, was legal."

"What the jury does to the farmer," explained the chief counsel, "has nothing to do with the matter. It depends on the jury's verdict."

"The entire question," he amplified "is one of evidence."

"It is that, that determines whether or not a beverage—of 1-2 of 1 per cent or over—is intoxicating in fact."

"An average must be struck—an average, as to the susceptibility of individuals—the amount that a man would be likely to drink—and a conclusion arrived at accordingly."

"Would the jury's sympathies have anything to do with it—a wet or a dry jury—a popular farmer, or otherwise?"

"It might," agreed the chief counsel.

Possibly there may be a grain of comfort in this information, to city folk—who, hitherto, have been envying agriculture.

Perhaps, likewise, a warning to the latter.

It is an overstatement to say that a steel trap lies hidden in that loop-hole?

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT
Broiled Pork Tenderloins
Scalloped Potatoes
Sliced Tomatoes on Lettuce
Favorite Dressing
Olives
Apple Jelly or Apple Sauce
Vanilla Ice Cream with
Butterscotch Sauce
Brown Sugar Cookies
Coffee or Tea

This menu was planned for an informal luncheon by a woman who has little time for "trimmings" in her household arrangements. She is employed and invited a group of young women, also employed, to run up to the house and have luncheon with her. The potatoes she cooked the evening before, and the lettuce was washed and put in a wet bag in the refrigerator and the tomatoes peeled at the same time. The guests helped with the final preparations, but a few moments only would be needed to complete the meal, which was served as simply as possible. Autumn garden flowers were the table decorations.

Cheese Sauce—Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, mix well and add cold milk slowly, stirring until smooth; add cheese, salt, pepper and paprika. Boil two minutes.

Tomatoes and Eggs—Grease muffin tins, put one thick slice of unpeeled tomato into each tin, season with salt and pepper, break one egg on top of each slice, again season with salt and pepper and put a small piece of butter on top of each egg. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until eggs are set but not hard. Serve on rounds of toast and garnish with parsley.

Watermelon pulp scooped out with a potato cutter and the balls served in long stemmed glasses and served very cold with a little lemon juice and powdered sugar is an excellent appetizer. Watermelon makes an appetizing sherbet, and frozen melon is a good dessert.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Medicalbookitis.

"Dear Doctor: I am beginning to notice lately that something is affecting my mind. My memory seems to be leaving me entirely, and I have such a confusion of thoughts and ideas that I dread to start a conversation with anyone."

"I have been consulting a doctor book, and according to it I have almost all the symptoms of inflammation or congestion of the brain. Almost a year ago I received a severe blow on the top of my head. This mental weakness I speak of seems to have come on gradually since that time. Do you suppose that could have been the cause? I am 22 years old and the mother of three children. For their sakes, if no other, I feel the importance of correcting my condition, if it is possible. I have always been considered intelligent, and as yet no one besides myself has noticed any change, but I fear it will soon become evident. I have tried hard to believe it was only imagination, and in that way, to overcome it, but with no results. I would be so grateful for any advice you can give me. I am 20 pounds underweight."

MRS. A."

To be frank, Mrs. A. I fear you are suffering from medicalbookitis. It isn't wise for the layman to be reading regular medical books. Do you notice I seldom give symptoms of disease in the column? I found out very early that whenever I did, I had hundreds of letters from my readers, who said they knew what was the matter with them now, for they had all the symptoms I mentioned. And perhaps not one of them had the disease!

You remember that one of Jerome K. Jerome's characters—was it in "Three Men in a Boat"—a perfectly healthy chap read a medical book and discovered that he had everything except housemaid's knee.

No, you haven't an inflammation of the brain, Mrs. A. If you had, you'd be so ill (and have a fever) that you couldn't be reading any medical or other books. If the head whack had been severe enough to cause any lasting mental symptoms, you would probably have had such serious physical symptoms that you would have been carried to the hospital on a stretcher!

You are considerably underweight, and no doubt you have been on a deficient diet; your tissues, including your nerve tissues, are all starved. This makes you greatly under par in health, and this alone, plus your worry, might account for your lapse of memory and other symptoms.

The gaining pamphlet has been sent to you, and I hope you have been on a fuller diet and already are finding that you feel much better.

If you will live out of doors as much as you possibly can, have all the sleep you can soak into your system, and a full balanced diet, I'm quite sure you will find all your symptoms will vanish. Naturally, I advise you to go for a check-up, for there may be some physical condition that should be remedied (not inflammation of the brain!). If you can't afford to go to a private physician, go to a clinic.

"My husband has a small roughened patch in the center of his lower lip. He injured it in the first place by cigarettes, and then keeps it sore by continually biting the skin off. It is sometimes very painful. Might this develop into cancer?"

MRS. H."

YES, YES! He must stop smoking (and biting) immediately, and let him to a competent physician.

JOH—Your question on the amount of urine, and abnormal substances in it, are answered in our new pamphlet on Kidney and Bladder Disorders. See column rules.

Tomorrow: Rheumatism and Gout.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"Blessed is the peacemaker," says the Good Book. But sometimes, in our hearts, we have grave doubts about this. We all know the tale of the person who rashly interferes in a battle between husband and wife. Both usually turn on him. And the same is often true of the friend who tries to help the course of true love to run smooth. Is it in a lovers' quarrel. Both lovers decide that the peacemaker is the one that made the trouble and distrust and dislike her. That is pretty nearly the predicament of the young woman who writes the following letter:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: Some time ago my girl friend and her fellow seemed to quarrel and disagree. I felt she was wrong and tried to help them both and make her care for him more. The fellow seemed a friend and came to me with everything she did. I told him just how to go to work to make her care. He followed my suggestions and things went smoothly for awhile. Then he began to be hateful about petty things. She was good to him through it all until her patience wore out. They quit last week and he told her that I wasn't her friend and that I would eventually cause her trouble. What should I do? Should I get them together and make him tell her it isn't true? I have explained everything to her. She hasn't turned me down. ALL WRONG."

Looks as if you are experiencing the proverbial lot of the peacemaker. All Wrong. As long as you have told the girl friend all about it, and she still seems true to you, why worry? And I advise you to keep out of other people's quarrels hereafter. No matter how good your motive. Lovers are generally better left to patch up their own misunderstandings.

PATIENCE: If the man wishes to meet you he will find a way to get someone to introduce him, so be true to your name a while longer. Patience. It is always best to let the man take the initiative, in such cases.

Peter's Adventures

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

BUTTERFLY TO BUTTERCUP

"Are you going to keep your appointment with Lily's cousin now or after the party?" asked Peter, and Butterfly was so startled he gave a sudden jerk that almost unseated the boy.

"Good gracious! I had nearly forgotten. How glad I am now to call, and I always like to keep my word. Besides, I simply couldn't do myself justice in the dance this afternoon if I had to perform weighed down with all this dust upon my body. But Miss Tiger Lily lives right on the other side of the brook we are coming to, so it won't be a bit out of our way. We are nearly there now. Yes, I thought so! There she is, waiting for me. The breeze must have told her I was on my way. Didn't you see her wave?"

Sure enough, just then Peter did catch sight of a swaying lily that grew on the bank of brook, only this lily, instead of being white and yellow, wore a scarlet gown spotted in black.

She waved Butterfly and Peter with open petals, and offered them of her dew and honey, and the boy was grateful for the sweet had made him thirsty. Not very drink, for the ride through the air long did Butterfly stop, and after a friendly fare well, off he flew back across the brook, and then into the loveliest meadow that the boy had ever seen.

The grass was long and very green, and daisies and black-eyed susans and pretty pink queens of the meadow grew among it. The little brook that they had seen had changed its path and ran through the middle of it, and Butterfly alighted on a stalk of yellow buttercups that grew in the shadow of a weeping willow.

"I think you will find it very comfortable here," he remarked to Peter. "It is fine and cool, and I understood you to say that you would rather be in the shade than in the sun."

"Yes, so I should," replied the boy, "and this makes a splendid grandstand. But are you sure that Buttercup wants me? Perhaps she has friends of her own that she would like to have view the ball. I should like to ask her before I settle myself."

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

Smarting under the sting of their first defeat of the season, Xenia Central High's "Buccaneers" will start preparations this week for their first away-from-home game of the season.

The tilt with Washington C. H. was the last non-league contest before the Bucs pile into the Miami Valley League schedule.

No game is scheduled for this week and work this week is expected to be light so that the squad can recover from the physical beating it took in the encounter with the "Blue Lions."

Piqua High will provide the opposition for the blue and white aggregation in the opening league game Saturday, October 12, and Coach Wilson is preparing his squad for a strenuous afternoon of pigskin chasing when the Bucs invade the Piqua stronghold.

There is one thing in Xenia's favor. The team will not have to guard against over-confidence in the coming game.

However, with the experience gained in the first two games as a contributing factor the Bucs are hoping for a victory.

The Xenia eleven this year is one that may be expected to improve with every game. The principal lack at present is experience and as this is gradually obtained, better results may be expected of the Buccaneers.

Football rivalry between Piqua and Xenia began in 1922, the year the Bucs were victorious by a margin of 14 to 7. Since that season Piqua has won three games and one resulted in a scoreless tie.

The 1924 game was won by Piqua, 25 to 0 while in 1925 Piqua's margin of victory was 45 to 2. The teams did not meet in 1923 or 1926 and in 1927 Piqua came out on top, 19 to 0. Last season the two teams struggled for four quarters without a score.

Piqua has amassed a total of ninety-six points against sixteen for Xenia in the five games played.

Did you know that the University of Florida which rolled up 336 points to lead the nation in scoring and lost only one game last year, will have another great team. Red Bethea, 185-pound half-back, is the star of the eleven. . . . Beryl Pollet and Jerry Nemcek, two New York University stars, spent the summer as attendants at an insane asylum at Kings Park, L. I. . . . Bill Banker, blonde Tulane blizzard, will be back this season. . . . He is one of the best triple threat athletes in the south. . . . Captain Lloyd Brazil, Detroit's All-America back, and thirteen other letter men, are available this season. Detroit has not been beaten since Notre Dame turned the trick in 1927. . . . Purdue with Pest Weir, Glenn Harmon and Ed Caraway back promises to have its best backfield in Big Ten history. . . . Stanford has thirteen letter men back, but Post and Robesky, All-American guards, are both missing. . . . The University of Maryland will not have a man weighing 200 on the 1929 eleven. . . . Earl C. Abell, who coached Colgate last year, has succeeded Greasy Neale as head coach at the University of Virginia. . . . Indiana had seventy-seven men cut for the varsity eleven, the largest squad in its history. The University of South Carolina will wear camouflaged jerseys featuring an assortment of weird colors.

When it comes to predictions on the outcome of collegiate football games, Birch Bell, junior quarterback on Xenia Central's eleven, does not take a back seat to anybody. Birch correctly guessed the result of sixteen games Saturday and did not miss a single one. Of course, most of the contests were "warm up" games for the stronger teams but that does not detract from the perfect percentage. Birch correctly forecast the result of these games:

Cincinnati 19, Cedarville 0.
Indiana 19, Wabash 2.
Michigan 15, Mt. Union 6.
New York U., 77, Vermont 0.
Oberlin 19, Kent State 0.
Ohio Wesleyan 52, Marietta 0.
Pennsylvania 14, Franklin-Marshall 7.
St. Xavier 14, Transylvania 6.
Stanford 6, Olympic A. C. 0.
Army 26, Boston U., 0.
Navy 47, Denison 0.
Wash. and Jeff., 33, Ohio Northern 0.
West. Reserve 15, Kenyon 0.
Wittenberg 27, Bluffton 0.
Wooster 19, Otterbein 0.
Case 34, Findlay 7.

MAYOR'S COURT

TWELVE ARRESTED

Intoxication charges were lodged against twelve persons arrested by police over the week end. Disposition of the cases was made by Mayor Karl R. Babb as follows:

Earl Glass, 31, colored, fined $10 and costs and committed to the County Jail; Daniel Comford, 45, gave $25 bond and was released pending arraignment; I. V. Cartwright, 48, posted $15 bond; Floyd Johnson, 28, released without bail pending arraignment;

William Hamilton, 23, colored, furnished $15 bond; Wilbur Tracy, 34, colored, gave $15 bond; Paul Stetson, 27, colored, Dayton, fined $10 and costs; Samuel Lary 40, colored, fined $15 and costs; "Bossie" Coleman, 42, colored, fined $15 and costs; Carrie Allen, 43, colored, fined $5 and costs; Grace Williams, 45, colored, fined $5 and costs; Russell McCaskey, 55, colored, forfeited $15 bond.

ANKENEY SUBDUES VISITORS HERE 7-4 IN RAGGED CONTEST

Misplays Mark Game; Shroyer Cubs To Play In Xenia

By PHIL FRAME

In a ragged but at times comical game the Xenia Reserves proved their claim to the semi-pro baseball championship of Greene County by defeating the Jamestown Independents, 7 to 4 Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

Charley Maxton, regular Reserve pitcher, failed to put in his appearance and Ankney worked on the mound for the local talent. He allowed only five hits but poor support by his teammates gave Jamestown four runs, all of which were unearned. As a matter of fact four of the Reserve runs were also due to errors.

Both teams had an off day in the field, the Independents making five misplays while the Reserves muffed up four chances.

Evans, on the hill for Jamestown, was touched for nine hits and had five strikeouts to his credit. He fanned Ankney each of the four times he came to bat.

Reserves got away to a two-run advantage in the first inning when, with one down, Johnson singled to left. Conley bounced a hit over second, sending Johnson to third and taking second himself on the throw in. Gallagher settled under Durnbaugh's long, high fly then dropped it. Johnson scoring and Conley going to third while Durnbaugh took second. Shuey hit a grounder and Conley was safe at the plate when Kiser dropped the ball. Shuey was trapped off first and when a play was made for him, Durnbaugh tried to score but was nipped at the plate. Harlow forced Shuey at second for the third out.

Two hits, two stolen bases and three errors were responsible for three runs registered by Jamestown in the second. With one out, Haughey singled to center and stole second. Pickering rolled to Langlois, who threw to third to get Haughey but both runners were safe when Cyphers dropped the ball. Pickering stole second and Haughey crossed the plate as Moorman was being retired on a grounder.

Pickering came home on a single by Hollingsworth worth over first. Conley muffed up a roller by Evans and on an attempted steal of second Shuey pegged wildly, allowing Hollingsworth to score. Gallagher fanned for the third out.

Reserves tied up the count in the third. Langlois singled. Johnson also hit safely to left and when Gallagher allowed the ball to slip past him, Langlois came all the way home and Johnson went to third. The run was not allowed, however, as Stevens, base umpire, called Langlois out for failing to touch the bag when he rounded third base. This oversight should have been detected by a player and then called to the umpire's attention, but anyway the decision stood and Johnson scored the tying run a moment later on an out at first.

Reserves won the game in the fifth inning, three runs and a trio of markers were all earned for a change. With one out, Langlois and Johnson hit safely and Durnbaugh hit sharply to right, scoring Langlois and Johnson. Conley went to third and Durnbaugh stole second. Shuey raised a fly to left, Conley scoring after the catch. Harlow grounded out.

Jamestown was retired in order in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth rounds, failing to make a hit, but in the seventh it tallied. Haughey was safe on an error by Langlois and stole second. Pickering flied out by Moorman singled, scoring the runner.

The final Reserve run was added in the eighth on two errors and a sacrifice fly.

The prize play of the game came in the first half of the eighth and was at the expense of Dick Wells, who was playing third for Jamestown. Wells was on first by virtue of a single. Ankney tossed the ball to first. Shuey fumbled around the bag and casually asked Wells to take his foot away in order that he might straighten the cushion. Dick innocently obeyed and Shuey touched him with the ball.

Johnson continued his terrific hitting for the Reserves, getting three singles in four times at bat. He has been batting at a .400 clip in the last few games.

The victory was the twentieth of the season for the Reserves against only three defeats.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

CEDARVILLE HOLDS BUCKEYE LOOP TEAM TO 19 TO 0 DEFEAT

Cedarville College gridgers had a remarkable football awakening in a night game Saturday and holding the University of Cincinnati to a 19 to 0 score in the opening game for the Bearcats at Carson Field.

Predicted to lose by at least seven touchdowns, the "Yellow-Jackets" fought a far heavier and experienced Cincinnati eleven to a standstill at every turn.

The Bearstern outplayed the Bearcats in the first quarter, which was scoreless and during the game threatened Cincinnati's goal line no fewer than five times. In each case Cedarville worked the ball to about the five yard line but lacked the necessary punch for a score.

Cincinnati's first touchdown came near the end of the first half and resulted from an intercepted forward pass and a subsequent forty-yard run. On the second play as the third quarter opened a Bearcat back took off three tacklers behind the line of scrimmage and sprinted forty yards for a second touchdown. The third score came in the final quarter as a result of a long pass.

Fandom had expected Cincinnati to roll up a huge score against Cedarville, but on straight football the Buckeye Conference eleven was unable to gain through the line, while the "Yellow-Jackets" often penetrated deep into the enemy's territory.

Cedarville was outweighed nearly fifteen pounds to the man and its showing was a great morsel of consolation when it is considered that the school has an enrollment of only fifty-six boys against 5,600 for Cincinnati.

After the close of the first quarter Coach George Babcock started substituting many players in an endeavor to find the most effective combination. Cedarville's weakness lay in its lack of reserve material.

An indication of the popularity of night football at Cincinnati was the fact that one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a game at the University of Cincinnati was on hand for the flood light contest.

Former Xenia athletes covered themselves with glory on a number of Ohio gridirons in various collegiate football games Saturday.

Four Xenia boys materially helped Wilmington College usher in its 1929 season with a 20 to 0 victory over Rio Grande on the Quaker gridiron. Fred Smith at halfback, performed brilliantly and his sweeping end runs brought the ball into a scoring position for Wilmington's first touchdown in the opening quarter. Paul Boxwell at fullback played a strong defensive game and drop-kicked the extra point for the third touchdown of the game, while Walter "Speed" Leopard at center and Jim Burton at guard gave excellent exhibitions.

Bob Morton, sophomore halfback, acquitted himself in great fashion while Ohio Wesleyan University was overwhelming Marietta College, 52 to 0. Morton, declared to be the best punter on the Bishop squad, played nearly three quarters of the game and gave a wonderful kicking exhibition.

Muskingum opened its season with an easy victory over Capital University and Ed Jacobs played a strong game at tackle for the Muskingum eleven.

A return game with Covington will be played here later in the season. East's first home game is with Lexington High School here Friday afternoon.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

QUIT BUSINESS

ELBERT L. BABB

KARL R. BABB

The Babb Hardware Store, well-known Xenia business house, will pass into history it was learned Monday, when plans to close out the business were revealed by Elbert L. and Karl R. Babb, partners.

Bowling Scores

First place in the Recreation Bowling League at the end of the third week of play is occupied as of old by the Greene County Lumber Co. quintet, league champions for the last two seasons. In the City League a tie exists between the Beckett Auto Co. and The Downtown Country Club for the leadership.

Following is the schedule in both leagues for this week: Monday at 7:30 p. m.—Red Wing Co. vs. Buicks; Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.—Lang Chevrolet Co. vs. Benrus Watch; Thursday at 7 p. m.—Hooven and Allison Co. vs. Beckett Auto Co.; 9 p. m.—Gr. Co. L. Co. vs. Arch-O-Pedic Shoes; Friday at 7 p. m.—Flexmore Shoes vs. D. T. C. Club; 9 p. m.—American Legion vs. Fuller and Sons.

Standing in the Recreation League follows:

Team. Won. Lost. Pct.
Gr. Co. L. Co. 7 2 .778
Benrus Watch 6 3 .667
Red Wing Co. 5 4 .555
Lang Chevrolet Co. 3 6 .333
Buicks 3 6 .333
Arch-O-Pedic 3 6 .333
American Legion 1 8 .111

Jesse Anderson, with a mark of 19.3 for seven games, is at present the high average bowler in the Recreation League. The ten high average bowlers in this league are as follows:

Player G. TP. AVE.
J. Anderson 7 1,340 19.3
Malavazos 9 1,708 18.9
White 9 1,677 18.6
Moorehead 9 1,634 18.1
Peterson 9 1,626 18.0
Jeffries 9 1,618 17.9
Dicke 9 1,617 17.8
Wagner 9 1,615 17.4
Jordan 9 1,580 17.5
Donley 9 1,565 17.2

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

Team averages:
Benrus Watch 900.8
Gr. Co. L. Co. 865.8
Buicks 845.5
Red Wing Co. 831.1
Lang Chevrolet Co. 817.6
Arch-O-Pedic 800.6

KENIANS SPARKLE ON OHIO GRIDIRONS IN SATURDAY TILTS

Former Xenia athletes covered themselves with glory on a number of Ohio gridirons in various collegiate football games Saturday.

Four Xenia boys materially helped Wilmington College usher in its 1929 season with a 20 to 0 victory over Rio Grande on the Quaker gridiron. Fred Smith at halfback, performed brilliantly and his sweeping end runs brought the ball into a scoring position for Wilmington's first touchdown in the opening quarter. Paul Boxwell at fullback played a strong defensive game and drop-kicked the extra point for the third touchdown of the game, while Walter "Speed" Leopard at center and Jim Burton at guard gave excellent exhibitions.

Bob Morton, sophomore halfback, acquitted himself in great fashion while Ohio Wesleyan University was overwhelming Marietta College, 52 to 0. Morton, declared to be the best punter on the Bishop squad, played nearly three quarters of the game and gave a wonderful kicking exhibition.

Muskingum opened its season with an easy victory over Capital University and Ed Jacobs played a strong game at tackle for the Muskingum eleven.

A return game with Covington will be played here later in the season. East's first home game is with Lexington High School here Friday afternoon.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue Pike. He escaped injury, however.

Whiteless was arrested Saturday night by Sheriff Ohmer Tate and A. A. Davis, county road patrolman after it is alleged his auto crashed into the railing of a bridge on the Lower Bellvue

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

Smarting under the sting of their defeat of the season, Xenia Central High's "Buccaneers" will start preparations this week for their first away-from-home game of the season.

The tilt with Washington C. H. was the last non-league contest before the Bucs pile into the Miami Valley League schedule.

No game is scheduled for this week and work this week is expected to be light so that the squad can recover from the physical beating it took in the encounter with the "Blue Lions."

Piqua High will have the opposition for the blue and white aggregation in the opening league game Saturday, October 12, and Coach Wilson is preparing his squad for a strenuous afternoon of pickin' chasing when the Bucs invade the Piqua stronghold.

There is one thing in Xenia's favor. The team will not have to guard against over-confidence in the coming game.

However, with the experience gained in the first two games as a contributing factor the Bucs are hoping for a victory.

The Xenia eleven this year is one that may be expected to improve with every game. The principal lack at present is experience and as this is gradually obtained, better results may be expected of the Buccaneers.

Football rivalry between Piqua and Xenia began in 1922, the year the Bucs were victorious by a margin of 14 to 7. Since that season Piqua has won three games and one resulted in a scoreless tie.

The 1924 game was won by Piqua, 25 to 0 while in 1925 Piqua's margin of victory was 45 to 2. The teams did not meet in 1923 or 1926 and in 1927 Piqua came out on top, 19 to 0. Last season the two teams struggled for four quarters without a score.

Piqua has amassed a total of ninety-six points against sixteen for Xenia in the five games played.

Did you know that the University of Florida which rolled up 435 points to lead the nation in scoring and lost only one game last year, will have another great team? Red Bethea, 185-pound half-back, is the star of the eleven. Beryl Pollet and Jerry Nemecek, two New York University stars, spent the summer as attendants at an insane asylum at Kings Park, L. I. Bill Banker, blonde Tulane blizzard, will be back this season.

He is one of the best triple threat athletes in the south. Captain Lloyd Brazil, Detroit's All-America back, and thirteen other letter men, are available this season. Detroit has not been beaten since Notre Dame turned the trick in 1927. Purdue, with Pest Welch, Glen Harmon and Ed Caraway back, promises to have its best backfield in Big Ten history. Stanford has thirteen letter men back, but Post and Robeck, All-American guards, are both missing. The University of Maryland will not have a man weighing 200 on the 1929 eleven. Earl C. Abell, who coached Colgate last year, has succeeded Greasy Neale as head coach at the University of Virginia. Indiana had seventy-seven men out for the varsity eleven, the largest squad in its history. The University of South Carolina will wear camouflaged jerseys featuring an assortment of weird colors.

When it comes to predictions on the outcome of collegiate football games, Birch Bell, junior quarterback on Xenia Central's eleven, does not take a back seat to anybody. Birch correctly guessed the result of sixteen games Saturday and did not miss a single one. Of course, most of the contests were "warm up" games for the stronger teams but that does not detract from the perfect percentage. Birch correctly forecast the result of these games:

Cincinnati 19, Cedarville 0.
Indiana 19, Wabash 2.
Cincinnati 16, Mt. Union 6.
New York U., 7, Vermont 0.
Oberlin 19, Ken. State 0.
Ohio Wesleyan 52, Marietta 0.
Pennsylvania 14, Franklin-Marshall 7.
St. Xavier 14, Transylvania 6.
Stanford 6, Olympic A. C. 0.
Army 26, Boston U. 0.
Navy 47, Denison 0.
West Reserve 15, Kenyon 0.
Wittenberg 27, Bluffton 0.
Wooster 19, Oberlin 0.
Case 34, Findlay 7.

MAYOR'S COURT

TWELVE ARRESTED
Intoxication charges were lodged against twelve persons arrested by police over the weekend. Disposition of the cases was made by Mayor Karl R. Babb as follows:

Earl Glass, 31, colored, fined $10 and costs and committed to the County Jail; Daniel Comford, 45, gave $25 bond and was released pending arraignment; I. V. Cartwright, 48, posted $15 bond; Floyd Johnson, 28, released without bail pending arraignment; William Hamilton, 23, colored, furnished $15 bond; Wilbur Tracy, 34, colored, gave $15 bond; Paul Stetson, 27, colored, Dayton, fined $10 and costs; Samuel Lary 40, colored, fined $15 and costs; "Bossie" Coleman, 42, colored, fined $15 and costs; Carrie Allen, 43, colored, fined $5 and costs; Grace Williams, 45, colored, fined $5 and costs; Russell McGary, 55, colored, forfeited $15 bond.

Reserves Beat Jamestown For County Title

ANKENEY SUBDUES VISITORS HERE 7-4 IN RAGGED CONTEST

Misplays Curb To Play In Xenia

By PHIL FRAME

In a ragged but at times comical game the Xenia Reserves proved their claim to the semi-pro baseball championship of Greene County by defeating the Jamestown Independents, 7 to 4 Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

Charley Maxton, regular Reserve pitcher, failed to put in his appearance and Ankney worked on the mound for the local talent. He allowed only five hits but poor support by his teammates gave Jamestown four runs, all of which were unearned. As a matter of fact four of the Reserve runs were also due to errors.

Both teams had an off day in the field, the Independents making five misplays while the Reserves evaded on four chances.

Manned on the hill for Jamestown, was touched by nine hits and had five strikeouts in his credit. He fanned Ankney each of the four times he came to bat.

Reserves got away to a two-run advantage in the first inning when, with one down, Johnson singled to left. Conley bounced a hit over second, sending Johnson to third and taking second himself on the throw. Gallagher settled under Durnbaugh's long, high fly then dropped it. Johnson scoring and Conley going to third while Durnbaugh took second. Shuey hit a grounder and Conley was safe at the plate when Kiser dropped the ball. Shuey was trapped off first and when a play was made for him, Durnbaugh tried to score but was nipped at the plate. Harlow forced Shuey at second for the third out.

Two hits, two stolen bases and three errors were responsible for three runs registered by Jamestown in the second. With one out, Haughey singled to center and stole second. Pickering rolled to Langlois, who threw to third to get Haughey but both runners were safe when Cyphers dropped the ball. Pickering stole second and Haughey crossed the plate as Moorman was being retired on a grounder to second. Pickering came home on a single by Hollingsworth over first. Conley muffed up a roller by Evans and on an attempted steal of second Shuey pegged wild, allowing Hollingsworth to score. Gallagher fanned for the third out.

Reserves tied up the count in the third. Langlois singled. Johnson also hit safely to left and when Gallagher followed the ball to slip past him Langlois came all the way home and Johnson went to third. The run was not allowed, however, as Stevens, base umpire, called Langlois out for failing to touch the bag when he rounded third base. This oversight should have been called to the umpire's attention, but anyway the decision stood and Johnson scored the tying run a moment later on an out at first.

Reserves won the game in the fifth with a three-run rally and the trio of markers were all earned for a change. With one out, Langlois and Johnson hit safely and Conley walked, filling the bases. Durnbaugh hit sharply to right, scoring Langlois and Johnson. Conley went to third and Durnbaugh stole second. Shuey raised a fly to left, Conley scoring after the catch. Harlow grounded out.

Jamestown was retired in order in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth rounds, failing to make a hit, but in the seventh it tallied one run. Haughey was safe on an error by Langlois and stole second. Pickering flied out but Moorman singled, scoring the runner.

The final Reserve run was added in the eighth on two errors and a sacrifice fly.

The prize play of the game came in the first half of the eighth and was at the expense of Dick Wells, who was playing third for Jamestown. Wells was on first by virtue of a single. Ankney tossed the ball to first. Shuey fumbled around the bag and casually asked Wells to take his foot away in order that he might straighten the cushion. Dick innocently obeyed and Shuey touched him with the ball.

Johnson continued his terrific hitting for the Reserves, getting three singles in four times at bat. He has been batting at a .400 clip in the last few games.

The victory was the twentieth of the season for the Reserves against only three defeats.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play their final game of the season against the "strongest team" booked to appear in Xenia this season. The management has arranged a game with the Shroyer Cubs of Dayton, the team that won its way to the finals in the national amateur baseball tournament and then lost the deciding game to Pleasant Ridge, the Cincinnati representative, 4 to 2 Sunday.

Sunday's game with Jamestown was played before the largest crowd of the season. The entire village apparently converged on Xenia and the Independents brought a tremendous crowd of rooters along for the game.

PIQUA HIGH SEEMED STRONG IN VICTORY

Piqua High School, which will be Xenia Central High School's first foe in a Miami Valley League game, October 12, inaugurated its season with an impressive 12 to 0 victory over Urbana Saturday afternoon. Piqua, according to Xenians who witnessed the game, will provide the Bucs with plenty of opposition. The team tackled and blocked in mid-season form and Cron, a third year man in the backfield, proved the hardest back to stop.

CEDARVILLE HOLDS BUCKEYE LOOP TEAM TO 19 TO 0 DEFEAT

Cedarville College gridders had a remarkable football awakening in a night game Saturday and showed unexpected strength in holding the University of Cincinnati to a 19 to 0 score in the opening game for the Bearcats at Carson Field.

Predicted to lose by at least seven touchdowns, the "Yellow Jackets" fought a far heavier and experienced Cincinnati eleven to a standstill at the beginning.

The Bearmen outplayed the Bearcats in the first quarter, which was scoreless, and during the game threatened Cincinnati's goal line no fewer than five times. In each case Cedarville worked the ball to about the five yard line but lacked the necessary punch for a score.

Cincinnati's first touchdown came near the end of the first half and resulted from an intercepted forward pass and a subsequent forty-yard run. On the second play as the third quarter opened a Bearcat back shook off three tacklers behind the line of scrimmage and sprinted forty yards for a second touchdown. The third score came in the final quarter as a result of a long pass.

Fandom had expected Cincinnati to roll up a huge score against Cedarville, but on straight football the Buckeye Conference eleven was unable to gain through the line, while the "Yellow-Jackets" often penetrated deep into the enemy's territory.

Cedarville was outweighed nearly fifteen pounds to the man and its showing was a great morsel of consolation when it is considered that the school has an enrollment of only fifty-six boys against 5,600 for Cincinnati.

After the close of the first quarter Coach George Babcock started substituting many players in an endeavor to find the most effective combination. Cedarville's weakness lay in its lack of reserve material.

An indication of the popularity of night football at Cincinnati was the fact that one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a game at the University of Cincinnati was on hand for the flood light contest.

BOX SCORE

Jamestown, rf-2b 4 0 0 1 0 1 2
Wells, 3b 4 0 1 0 1 0 1
Trout, 1b 4 0 0 8 1 1
Kiser, c 4 0 1 5 0 1
Haughey, ss 4 2 1 1 5 0 1
Pickering, cf 4 1 0 0 0 0 1
Moorman, lf 4 0 1 3 0 0 1
Hollingsworth, 2b 2 1 1 3 2 0 2
Evans, p 3 0 0 0 1 0 1
Tidd, rf 1 0 0 1 0 0 0
Totals 34 4 5 23 11 5

Reserves: Langlois, ss 4 1 2 2 5 0 1
Conley, 1b 4 3 3 2 0 0 0
Conley, 2b 3 2 1 1 3 1
Durnbaugh, cf 4 0 1 4 0 0 1
Shuey, lf 3 1 0 12 0 1
Harlow, rf 4 0 0 1 0 0 1
Cyphers, 3b 3 0 2 1 2 1
Weller, c 4 0 0 4 0 0
Ankney, p 4 0 0 0 2 0 0
Totals 33 7 9 27 12 4

Score by Innings:
Jamestown 2 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 4
Reserves 2 0 1 0 3 0 0 1 x 7

Two-base hit—Cyphers. Stolen bases—Haughey (2), Pickering, Durnbaugh. Sacrifice flies—Shuey, Cyphers. Left on bases—Jamestown, 3; Reserves, 5. Base on balls—Off Evans, 1. Struck out—By Evans, 5; by Ankney, 3. Umpires—Rachford and Stevens.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

NATIONAL LEAGUE
	Won	Lost	Pct.
Chicago	96	51	.653
Pittsburgh	86	64	.573
New York	82	66	.554
St. Louis	76	73	.510
Philadelphia	70	81	.464
Brooklyn	70	81	.464
CINCINNATI	64	85	.430
Boston	54	97	.358

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Cincinnati 0, Chicago 1.
Pittsburgh 5-2, St. Louis 1-10.
Philadelphia 2, New York 4.
Boston 2, Brooklyn 3.

Games Today

Boston at Philadelphia.
Boston at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Philadelphia	102	46	.689
New York	88	64	.579
CLEVELAND	80	68	.541
St. Louis	76	72	.514
Washington	71	79	.473
Cincinnati	69	81	.460
Chicago	56	92	.378
Boston	56	96	.368

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Philadelphia 0, Boston 10.
New York 3, Washington 0.
Chicago 8, Detroit 9.
St. Louis 0, Cleveland 4.

Games Today

Open date.
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kansas City	111	56	.665
St. Paul	102	64	.614
Minneapolis	89	78	.533
Indianapolis	78	89	.467
Louisville	75	90	.455
COLUMBUS	75	91	.452
Milwaukee	69	98	.412
TOLEDO	67	100	.401

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Toledo 3-2, Kansas City 4-1.
Columbus 3-1, Milwaukee 6-7.
Louisville 4-6, Minneapolis 5-4.
Indianapolis 9-7, St. Paul 4-12.

QUIT BUSINESS

ELBERT L. BABB

KARL R. BABB

The Babb Hardware Store, well-known Xenia business house, will pass into history it was learned Monday, when plans to close out the business were revealed by Elbert L. and Karl R. Babb, partners.

Bowling Scores

First place in the Recreation Bowling League at the end of the third week of play is occupied as of old by the Greene County Lumber Co. league champions for the last two seasons. In the City League a tie exists between the Beckett Auto Co. and The Downtown Country Club for the leadership.

Following is the schedule in both leagues for this week: Monday at 7:30 p. m.—Red Wing Co. vs. Buicks; Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.—Lang Chevrolet Co. vs. Benrus Watch; Thursday at 7 p. m.—Hooven and Allison Co. vs. Beckett Auto Co.; 9 p. m.—Gr. Co. L. Co. vs. Arch-O-Pedic Shoes; Friday at 7 p. m.—Flexmode Shoes vs. D. T. Club; 9 p. m.—American Legion vs. Fuller and Sons.

Standing in the Recreation League follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Gr. Co. L. Co.	7	2	.778
Benrus Watch	6	3	.667
Red Wing Co.	5	4	.555
Lang Chevrolet Co.	3	6	.333
Buicks	3	6	.333
Arch-O-Pedic	3	6	.333

Standing in the City League follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Beckett Auto Co.	7	2	.778
D. T. C. Club	7	2	.778
Fuller and Sons	6	3	.667
Flexmode Shoes	3	6	.333
H. and A.	3	6	.333
American Legion	1	8	.111

Jesse Anderson, with a mark of 191.3 for seven games, is at present the high average bowler in the Recreation League. The ten high average bowlers in this league are as follows:

Player	G.	T.P.	Ave.
J. Anderson	7	1,340	191.3
Malavazos	9	1,708	189.7
White	9	1,677	186.3
Moorehead	9	1,634	181.5
Peterson	9	1,626	180.6
Jeffries	9	1,618	179.7
Dice	9	1,617	179.4
Wagner	9	1,615	179.4
D. Jordan	9	1,580	175.5
Denley	9	1,568	174.2

MARKETS

LIVE STOCK

XENIA LIVESTOCK

Receipts, 6 cars; mkt., 25c low-er.
Heavies, 250-300 lbs.	$ 9.50
Heavies, 200-250 lbs.	9.75
Mediums, 160-200 lbs.	10.25
Lights, 140-160 lbs.	10.25
Sows	7.00 to 8.00
Pigs	7.00 to 8.00
Stags	4.50 to 6.00
Receipts, 12 cars; mkt., slow, steady.
Top Veal Calves	$16.00
Med. Veal Calves	13.00 down
Best Butcher Steers	12.00 to 13.00
Butcher Steers	11.00 to 12.00

DAYTON LIVESTOCK

Receipts, 6 cars; mkt., 25c low-er.
Heavies, 250-300 lbs.	$ 9.50
Heavies, 200-250 lbs.	9.75
Mediums, 160-200 lbs.	10.25
Lights, 140-160 lbs.	10.25
Sows	7.00 to 8.00
Pigs	7.00 to 8.00
Stags	4.50 to 6.00
Receipts, 12 cars; mkt., slow, steady.
Top Veal Calves	$16.00
Med. Veal Calves	13.00 down
Best Butcher Steers	12.00 to 13.00
Butcher Steers	11.00 to 12.00

Med. Butcher steers	9.00 to 11.00
Medium heifers	7.50 to 9.00
Eolozna Cows	4.00 to 5.00
Medium Cows	5.00 to 6.50
Best Fat cows	7.00 to 8.50
Bulls	7.00 to 9.00

SHEEP

K Sheep	$ 2.00 to 5.00
Spring lambs	11.00
Spring lambs, No. 2	10.00 down

PRODUCE

seconds, 38@39c.

---

CLEVELAND PRODUCE

---

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30.—Butter

CLEVELAND PRODUCE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30.—Butter: extra, 49c; extra firsts, 44c;
---

seconds, 43c; fowls, 29 to 30c; ducks, 2 to 25c; eggs, firsts, 39c; ordinaries, 30c; extras, 45c; broilers, 28 to 30c; leghorns, 20 to 22c; leghorn broilers, 25 to 26c; old cocks, 17 to 18c; spring ducks, 22 to 25c.
Potatoes: Ohio, $4 to 4.15 per 150 lb. sack; home grown, $1.60 to 1.65 per bu. sacks; Maine, Green Mt., per 150 lb. sack, $4.25; Idaho Russet per 100 lb. sack $4.

DAYTON GRAIN

Corn, per cwt., $1.20.
New wheat, No. 1, $1.20.
Rye, No. 2, per bu. 75c.
Oats, No. 2, bu. 40c.

DAYTON PRODUCE

Live roasters, per pound	25c
Dressed hens, per pound	45c
Geese, per pound	35c
Butter, per pound	55c
Eggs, per dozen	45c

RETAIL PRICE

Live roasters, per pound	25c
Dressed hens, per pound	45c
Geese, per pound	35c
Butter, per pound	55c
Eggs, per dozen	45c

Dressed ducks, per pound	40c
1929 Fries, pound	48c
Hens, per pound	28c
Leghorn hens	18c
Geese, per pound	18c
Ducks, per pound	18c
Old broilers, per pound	14c
Colored Fries, 1 and 1 1-2 lbs.	21c
Turkey, 4 lbs. up	23c
Hen turkeys, per pound	30c
Young tom turkeys, pound	25c
Leghorn fries, pound	20c
Eggs, per dozen	37c

PRICES PAID AT PLANT

Butter, per lb.	40c
Eggs, per dozen	36c
Leghorn fowl	23c
Heavy fowls	23c
Heavy broilers	24c
Leghorn broilers	18c
Old cocks	13c

(By Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Ass'n)

Butter, per lb.	40c
Eggs, per dozen	36c
Leghorn fowl	23c
Heavy fowls	23c
Heavy broilers	24c
Leghorn broilers	18c
Old cocks	13

Try the THE MARKET-PLACE of the MULTITUDE Use the Classified - to Buy - Sell - Trade - Rent - Lease - Invest or Find - TELEPHONE

Classified Advertising
THE GAZETTE
IS THE MEDIUM

through which the general public can always have its wants supplied.

THE GAZETTE will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement.

Notice of errors, typographical or otherwise, must be given in time for correction before next insertion.

- Advertisements are restricted to proper classification style and type. THE GAZETTE reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement.
- Closing time for classified advertisement for publication the same day is 9:30 a. m.
- ANNOUNCEMENTS
- 1 Card of Thanks.
  - 2 In Memoriam.
  - 3 Florists, Monuments.
  - 4 Taxi Service.
  - 5 Notices, Meetings.
  - 6 Personal.
  - 7 Lost and Found.

- BUSINESS CARDS
- 8 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering
  - 9 Dressmaking, Millinery.
  - 10 Beauty Culture.
  - 11 Professional Services.
  - 12 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
  - 13 Electricians, wiring.
  - 14 Building, Contracting.
  - 15 Painting, Papering.
  - 16 Repairing, Refinishing.
  - 17 Commercial Hauling, Storage.

- EMPLOYMENT
- 18 Help Wanted—Male.
  - 19 Help Wanted—Female.
  - 20 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
  - 21 Help Wanted—Agents, Salesmen
  - 22 Situations Wanted.
  - 23 Help Wanted—Instruction.

- LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS
- 24 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
  - 25 Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
  - 26 Horses—Cattle—Hogs.

- MISCELLANEOUS
- 27 Wanted to Buy.
  - 28 Miscellaneous For Sale.
  - 29 Musical Instruments—Radio.
  - 30 Household Goods.
  - 31 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
  - 32 Groceries—Meats.

- RENTALS
- 33 Where to Eat.
  - 34 Apartments—Furnished.
  - 35 Apartments—Unfurnished.
  - 36 Rooms—With Board.
  - 37 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
  - 38 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
  - 39 Houses—Unfurnished.
  - 40 Houses—Furnished.
  - 41 Office and Desk Rooms.
  - 42 Miscellaneous For Rent.
  - 43 Wanted to Rent.
  - 44 Storage.

- REAL ESTATE
- 45 Houses For Sale.
  - 46 Lots For Sale.
  - 47 Real Estate For Exchange.
  - 48 Farms For Sale.
  - 49 Business Opportunities.
  - 50 Wanted—Real Estate.
- AUTOMOTIVE
- 51 Automobile Insurance.
  - 52 Auto Landries—Painting.
  - 53 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
  - 54 Parts—Service—Repairing.
  - 55 Motorcycles—Bicycles.
  - 56 Auto Agencies.

- PUBLIC SALES
- 57 Used Cars For Sale.
  - 58 Auctioneers.
  - 59 Auction Sales.
- DEAD STOCK
- 60 Horses—Cows, etc.

- 3 Florists; Monuments
- CUT FLOWERS—Gladoll and Asters. R. O. Douglas, Phone 549-W. Cor. Washington and Monroe Sts.

- 5 Notices, Meetings
- PUBLIC SALE—Abandoned Oakland six touring, engine No. K 41-436, at Robert Bryson's will be sold Saturday October 5th at 1 p. m.

- 11 Professional Services
- EXPERT FILM finishing. Daisy Clemans, Room 9, Steele Bldg.

- CARPENTRY and CEMENT work. H. M. Fudge, formerly of Jeffreys and Fudge. Call Fudge Used Furniture Store, 23 S. Whiteman St.

- 12 Roofing, Plumbing
- PIPES—Valves and fittings for all purposes. BOCKLET'S line of plumbing and heating supplies are the best. The Bocklet-King Co. 415 W. Main St.

- 16 Repairing, Refinishing
- SHOE REPAIRING of all kinds. Expert workmanship at O. W. Everhart's Store, E. Main St.

- 17 Commercial Hauling
- BEST MOVING and storage facilities in Xenia. Call 728 for prompt service. Lang Transfer.

- HAULING DAILY. Dayton to Xenia, Xenia to Wilmington. House to house delivery. Jesse E. Gilbert.

- NOTICE—Hauling of all kinds. Furniture carefully moved. Mendenhall Transfer. Phone 566-R.

- 18 Help Wanted—Male
- RADIO ANNOUNCERS—$50 to $200 per week is being made in this fascinating new profession. Do you want to join the ranks of these high salaried men? Write Institute of Radio Announcers, 17th Floor U. B. Building, Dayton, Ohio.

- RADIO ANNOUNCERS—$50 to $200 per week is being made in this fascinating new profession. Do you want to join the ranks of these high salaried men? Write Institute of Radio Announcers, 17th Floor U. B. Building, Dayton, Ohio.

- 26 Horses—Cattle—Hogs
- SHEEP FOR SALE—1 Shropshire buck; 16 Shropshire ewes; 24 Delaware ewes and lambs. Call 360 or 847-W. See them at Bocklet's Farm, Stone Road. Any afternoon this week.

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASY PAYMENTS
On any kind of security you have to offer—HOUSEHOLD GOODS, LIVESTOCK or AUTOMOBILES.
AMERICAN LOAN CO.
Steele Bldg. Terms 4 Mo. To 4 Yrs.

Everyday Prices at
GRAHAMS
JOHNSONS WAX 65c lb. Can
RITZ WATERLESS CLEANER 69c 5 lb. Can
VALSPAR VARNISH $1.76 Quart
GRAHAM'S
Phone 3

28 Miscellaneous for Sale

FOR SALE—Shropshire buck lamb. Irvin Huffman, Phone.

FOR SALE—Feeding shoots. Buying timothy, alfalfa and clover hay. C. C. Turner. Phone 75-F-13.

FOR SALE—Trumbull seed wheat. Good quality. Re-cleaned on hand mill. Lewis Frye. 62-F-12.

FOR SALE—Nine mixed ewes, at Hattie Irvins farm, one mile west of Bellbrook on Dayton and Wilmington Pike. E. V. Barnes.

FOR SALE—1 double tub Haag and engine. $70. 15 Sunny Sols. $40. 1 Corfield $35. 1 Bluebird $45. all electric. Dayton Maytag Sales and Service, 8 W. Main St. Xenia. Phone 143.

STOVES—Baseburner. Other kinds. Saturday afternoons. John Harbina, Allen Building.

FOR SALE—Seed rye. C. O. Miller Elevator, Trebeins Ohio.

GOODRICH and MICHELIN—tires at Anderson's Rent-a-Car, S. Whiteman St.

FOR SALE—Choice Duroc Jersey boars and gilts. Immured. Ed. S. Foust. Phone Co. 68-F-3.

SALE ON BATHROOM gas heaters. $2.98 at Eichman Electric, W. Main St.

HIGH GRADE motor oil at our Bellbrook Ave. station, 50c a gallon. Carroll-Blinder Co.

SEVERAL BATTERY radio sets, one electric set. Gas and coal stoves. Mendenhall Second-hand Store, 48 W. Main.

FOR SALE—PURE Trumbull wheat for sale. W. A. Bickett. Phone County 62-F-13.

JERSEY COW, fresh. Also a good heating stove. Chas. Faulkner. Phone 85-F-11.

FOR SALE—Three hogs and one cow. John Lambert. Route No. 8, Xenia, Ohio.

75 RHODE ISLAND RED pullets. Call Yellow Springs 246-R-3.

FOR SALE OR trade, 19 stands of bees. 194 Lexington Ave.

29 Musical—Radio

ORTHOPHONIC (Credenza model) like new. Come in and listen to this machine. Will sell cheap. Miller Electric.

PIANOS FOR SALE—$5.00 monthly. John Harbina, Allen Building.

SHEET MUSIC, latest records and the new radio models at Sutton Music Store, Green St.

FOR SALE—Three R. C. A. 100 speakers, former price $35.00, for $10. Two battery sets, $15 each. Adair Furniture Store.

$250—PIANOS TUNED—$250
Repairing and overhauling your piano can be made to play like new. Mr. Merson is a factory piano maker formerly with the "Wurlitzer". Phone 837 R. 29 W. Third St., Xenia, O.

30 Household Goods

FURNITURE — for sale, but only Saturday afternoons. Come to my office. John T. Harbina, Allen Building.

36 Rooms—With Board

FOR RENT—First class sleeping rooms with or without board, 242 Chestnut Street. Phone 376-W.

39 Houses—Unfurnished

FOR RENT—6 room house, with bath and garage, on Cincinnati Ave. Call 551-R.

7 ROOM HOUSE, modern except furnace. Garage, garden, $25. Close to McKinley School. M. J. Bebb.

45 Houses for Sale

$40.00 Down, $20.00 monthly buys six room house with garage. John Harbina, Allen Building, Xenia.

$40.00 DOWN, $20.00 month buys six room house with garage. John Harbina, Allen Building, Xenia.

FOR IMMEDIATE SALE—Nos. 505 and 507 W. Main St. 5 and 6 room cottages for homes or investments. See them at once. Harbina and Bales, 17 Allen Bldg.

48 Farms for Sale

SMALL FARM—6 acres, 2 1-2 miles south of Xenia. 1 1-2 story, 7 room house. Good barn. Land level. Priced to sell. If sold at once. T. C. Long, Allen Bldg.

CHATTY
By BEATRICE BURTON, Author of: CODDRESS OF CAB
"HER MAN," "HONEY LOU," "SALLY'S SHOULDERS," "MONEY LOVE," "LOVE BOUND," ETC.
COPYRIGHT 1929, CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N, INC., CLEVELAND, OHIO.

READ THIS FIRST:
Charlotte Chatterton, nicknamed Chatty, is a born gossip. Her mother, a widowed dressmaker, through a wealthy customer gets Chatty a position as telephone operator at the Van Nuyss Co. Bonds. Chatty, with her incessant chattering and gossip, creates havoc. She falls in love with one of the up-and-coming bond salesmen, David Jordan. He is interested in her, but when her gossip causes Agnes Herford to lose her position David passes her over. Later Chatty listens in on all of David's phone conversations and he finally "calls" her down in front of the office people. Chatty's girl friend, Billie Langenau, a file clerk, and Winnie Talcott, Mr. Van's secretary, have some lively parties. Chatty has dates with a newcomer to the office, Bryant Dunning, who is married but says his wife left him. Chatty goes with Bryant more to spite David.

Chatty overhears a phone conversation, and learns that David is going to leave Van Nuyss and go to work at the Midas bank.

Chatty believes David is copying the bond buyers' names at Van Nuyss and runs to Mr. Van with the story. Mr. Van knows all about it, and tells Chatty she can apologize to David or leave her position.

Chatty quits rather than apologize to David. Later, she meets David as he is leaving, and secretly apologizes to him.

Chatty looks for a new position. She discovers, after many calls, that it is not easy to get work when she has so little experience. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIII

They were all very kind to her at home. Her mother did not criticize her. Billie was all sympathy and interest, and even Pud forbore to "raze" her on her failure to get work.

Chatty suspected her mother had talked to him.

She tried very hard. Every morning she rose early, looked at the paper, made up her list, and sallied forth. But she had no luck.

Chatty called it "luck," not realizing that lack of experience, lack of proper references, and her appearance were all against her.

In a mental reaction against the growing love and longing in her heart for Dave, she painted and powdered and lipstickted more and more heavily, as if it were a symbol that she was free and independent, not concerned with what he liked.

But he was always in her mind. The men to whom she applied for work were "nice" or "not nice," according as they did or did not remind her of Dave. Their voices were pleasant or unpleasant, according as they were or were not reminiscent of the tones of David's voice.

Waking and sleeping, David's face was before her.

At last she could stand it no longer. She ascertained from Billie that it was the Midas National Bank in which David had accepted the position of assistant cashier. And then she telephoned him!

Not to talk to him, however. She knew better than that. She chose half past twelve as the hour to call him up, hoping for the very answer she received. "Mr. Jordan is out at lunch. He will return at one."

Chatty smiled with satisfaction. That was what she wanted; to visit his bank when he was out, and to become a depositor in it.

She withdrew her pitifully small capital from the savings bank, and when she walked out from the Midas she had the solid comfort of knowing that there was at least a small connection between David's life and hers. He was an officer in "her" bank. He helped to take care of her money! Perhaps, some day, when she had "legitimate business" in the Midas, she would see him!

Every day after that she had "legitimate business" in the Midas bank! Today it was to have a quarter changed into nickels. The next day to change a five-dollar bill for five ones. The day after to cash a small check—a check smaller than she needed. If she cashed a check for two dollars today, she would need another two or three on the morrow, which would be one more excuse for entering the bank!

She made three visits before she managed to speak to David. Then she almost bumped into him, as he walked rapidly through the huge, marble pillared room.

"Good morning, Dave!" Chatty's voice trembled in spite of her. Would he ignore her? Would he speak to her?

"Why, Chatty—Miss Chatterton! What brings you here?"

Chatty couldn't tell whether surprise, relief, pleasure or scorn was in the level voice.

"I—I am a depositor here!" she answered, in a very small voice.

"Is that so? I am too new here to know all our depositors, as yet!" He smiled. "How long have you been with us?"

"Oh, a long time!" assured Chatty, and could have bitten her tongue out the next moment! But the answer was an instinctively maidenly defense against David's knowing that she had just put her little savings in the Midas bank. If he knew that, of course, he'd know why.

But what a silly thing to say, a needless lie! For David, of course, had access to the books and need only go to them to ascertain that Chatty had but just become a member of the official family of the Midas bank!

"I hope we treat you well?" he asked. "You will excuse me, now?" And he hurried away.

But Chatty left the bank happier than she had been for days!

She had seen him. He had not cut her! He had actually smiled at her.

Not the little smile that she longed for, the smile of understanding and sympathy and love, the smile that wrung her heart in dreams and followed her, a pale ghost of a smile, through her waking hours. Oh, no. But still, he had not frowned.

Maybe he would forgive her, sometime—

Chatty spent more and more time at home, and less and less hunting the elusive job, as the days went by. She dressed more and more carefully. A face which is "made up" but which looks as if it was natural is a difficult feat and takes time.

The ravages of late hours, too much drink, not enough sleep, and anxiety and unhappiness had taken their toll of Chatty's freshness. The one time when she never lied to herself was when she looked in her mirror.

Men like girls fresh, healthy, young, vigorous, peppy.

They didn't like dark circles and haggard cheeks and dull eyes! But the one man didn't like make-up!

Chatty was between two horns of a dilemma. Make up and look well—and earn David's approval. Fail to make up, to win his approval, and look haggard and worn—and he'd guess why and disapprove!

Hence she obtained Winnie's help in learning more and more of the arts of facial camouflage, and spent more and more time over her mirror and rouge pot, her tubes of cold cream, rubbing cream, cleansing cream, vanishing cream and powders.

Every day at eleven o'clock Chatty sallied forth to go to the bank—she had ascertained that just before lunch was the hour when she was most likely to encounter David. She looked very fresh and fair and lovely, and only an expert could have detected the labor and cosmetics which achieved that result.

David, certainly, was no expert. It did not occur to Chatty that she was but continuing in the practices which had offended David in the first place—deceiving him.

She did not always see him. Some days she drew a blank. He was out or busy or didn't look up. They were the blue days, the hard days.

Other days she received more uplift from a casual smile of greeting than she ever got from a cocktail. Usually it was only a smile, but occasionally it was a word or two. One never-forgotten day he talked to her for almost five minutes—four minutes and eleven seconds, to be exact.

"Do you ever see any of the old crowd?" he asked.

"Oh, yes! Billie, you know, lives right next door to me!"

"And little Winnie and Bryant and Lola?"

"I haven't seen any of them for ages," answered Chatty. "Oh, did you know Bryant was arrested for speeding? Yes, he was going sixty-five miles an hour, the cop said, and at the station—Oh!"

Chatty clapped her hand over her mouth. And she had just said she hadn't seen Bryant for ages!

"Yes, I saw it in the paper!" answered David, dryly.

Chatty's cheeks flamed, and she changed the subject. She had seen it in the paper, too. The paper had said forty miles an hour, and joked about the "unknown flapper" riding with Bryant.

Chatty crept from the bank, her feelings a mingling of delight at David's actually stopping to talk with her, of shame that she should have told him a lie.

"Oh, what the matter with me!" she cried, remorsefully to herself. "My tongue must run away with me!"

It was the first time Chatty had really admitted to herself that she talked too much.

But love works strange wonders, and Chatty was more and more in love with David every day.

The further he seemed from her reach, the more desirable he became. Yet a something in David's eyes, a tone in his voice, told her he remembered that he once cared for her, even if that was all dead.

Chatty sighed. Those were the good days—David and she, Billie and George Mayhew.

By inference the "Famous Four" came to her mind; and then the old

devil of perverseness arose. "Those were the good days, too! Why should I waste my heart on a man who—who doesn't like me? I haven't seen George Mayhew for ages, and I don't want to! I'll get Winnie to get up a whoopee tonight—"

But it was not Bryant and Winnie that she thought of as she plodded wearily from office to store and factory, hunting a job, that afternoon, but of David.

David, ah, David!

(TO BE CONTINUED)

On The Air From Cincinnati

MONDAY

WLW:
6:00 p. m.—Willsey Orchestra.
6:30—Dyncacoli Diners.
7:00—Little Jack Little.
7:15—Tony's scrapbook.
7:30—Gibson Orchestra.
8:00—Duro Automatics.
8:30—Whitehouse concert.
9:00—Marmion Roosevelt program.
9:30—Real Folks.
10:00—Hamilton Tailoring Club.
10:30—Empire Builders.
11:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
11:15—Two-on-the-Aisle.
12:00 Mid.—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
12:30-1:00 a. m.—Polly and Anna.
WKYC:
7:47 p. m.—German band.
8:00—Studio program and Dolly Dimples.
8:25—Sports review.
8:30—K. L. O. Minstrels.
9:00—L. B. Wilson Dance program.
10:00—Kenrad Cabin Door.
10:30—Black and Hovel.
WSAI:
7:00 p. m.—Organ program.
7:45—Everyday poems.
8:00—Frestone program.
8:30—A. and P. Gypsies.
9:30—General Motors Family Party.
10:00-10:30 — Michael Hauer's Dance Orchestra.

WKRC:
6:00 p. m.—Cellar Knights.
6:30—Duke Ellington's Orchestra.
7:00—Studio program.
7:55—Opening of the Eighth Annual World's Fair.
8:00—United States Army Band.
8:30—CeCo Couriers.
9:00—Physical Culture Hour.
9:30—Grand Opera Concert.
10:00—Burns Pageant.
10:30—Night Club Romance.
11:02—Baseball scores.
11:05—Paul Specht's Orchestra.
11:30—Paramount Orchestra.

TUESDAY

WLW:
6:30 a. m.—Top of the Morning.
7:30—Organ program, Arthur Chandler.
8:00—Exercise period.
8:30—Devotions.
9:00—Crosley Woman's hour.
10:00 — Organ program, Arthur Chandler, Jr.
10:15—Good Looks Workshop.
10:40—Phonograph records.
11:00—Forecast School of Cookery.
12:00 Noon—Organ program.
12:30 p. m.—Burns Orchestra.
1:00—National farm and home period.
1:45—Town and country.
2:00—Central States School of the Air.
3:00—All Quiet on the Western Front.
3:15—Matinee Players.
3:45—Woman's Radio Club.
4:00—Maid of Melody.
4:15—Young Amercyra.
4:30—Angelus Trio.
5:00—Five O'clock Hawaiians.
5:40—Closing clock quotations.
5:45—Polly and Anna.
6:00—Cincinnati Club Orchestra.
6:30—Dyncacoli Diners.
7:00—Penny-A-Day program.
7:15—Tony's Scrap Book.
7:30—Scho program.
8:00—Werk Bubble Blowers.
8:30—Libby program.
9:00—Johnson and Johnson feature.
9:30—Crosley Burnt Corkers.
10:00—Arzen program.
10:30—Nunn-Bush Weldon program.
10:45—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
11:00—Crosley review.
12:00 Mid.—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
12:30 a. m.—Variety hour.
1:00-1:30—Little Jack Little.
WKYC:
8:00 a. m.—Men.
8:15—Organ recital.
8:45—Dardanelle Boys.
9:30—Patty's dream kitchen.
9:45—Dolly Dimples.
2:00 p. m.—Weong's Orchestra.
3:00—Horseshoe.
3:15—Dolly Dimples.
3:45—Four K. Safety Club.

WEDNESDAY

7:47—German Band.
8:00—Howard Dance hour.
8:55—Sports review.
9:00—Starr Musical gem hour.
9:30—Coppin Orchestra.
10:02—Dardanelle Boys.
10:30—Studio feature.
WKRC:
10:00 a. m.—Ida Bailey Allen.
11:02—Menus.
11:15—Care and Feeding.
11:25—Recipe.
11:30—Home Keepers.
12:15 p. m.—Frigidaire luncheon music.
12:30—Julia Wentz and Orchestra.
1:15—Harvy Tucker's Orchestra.
2:00—Patterns in Prints.
2:45—Health talk.
3:00—Krauss Bridge Tea program.
3:30—For Your Information.
4:00—U. S. Army Band.
5:00—The Rhythm Kings.
5:15—Studio program.
5:40—Orpheum program.
5:58—Baseball scores.
6:00—Show Folks.
6:30—Hotel Alms Orchestra.
7:00—Studio program.
7:25—Stocks, time and weather.
7:30—Paul Specht's Orchestra.
8:00—United Symphony Orchestra.
8:30—Kodet time pieces.
9:00—Old Gold, Paul Whiteman Hour.
10:00—Fada Orchestra.
10:30—Story in a Song.
11:00—Jesse Crawford.
11:32—Baseball scores.
WSAI:
10:45-11:00 a. m.—National Home Hour.
11:15-11:45—Radio Household Institute.
4:00-4:30 p. m.—Mona Motor program.
6:55—Baseball scores.
7:00—Roads of the Sky.
7:30—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
8:00—Michelin Men.
8:30—Prophylactic program.
9:00—Behind the Footlights.
9:30—Orchestra from Conservatory of Music.
10:00—Cliequot Club Eskimos.
10:30-11:30—Radio-Keith-Orpheum hour.

THURSDAY

6:00 p. m.—Cellar Knights.
6:30—Duke Ellington's Orchestra.
7:00—Studio program.
7:55—Opening of the Eighth Annual World's Fair.
8:00—United States Army Band.
8:30—CeCo Couriers.
9:00—Physical Culture Hour.
9:30—Grand Opera Concert.
10:00—Burns Pageant.
10:30—Night Club Romance.
11:02—Baseball scores.
11:05—Paul Specht's Orchestra.
11:30—Paramount Orchestra.

FRIDAY

6:00 p. m.—Cellar Knights.
6:30—Duke Ellington's Orchestra.
7:00—Studio program.
7:55—Opening of the Eighth Annual World's Fair.
8:00—United States Army Band.
8:30—CeCo Couriers.
9:00—Physical Culture Hour.
9:30—Grand Opera Concert.
10:00—Burns Pageant.
10:30—Night Club Romance.
11:02—Baseball scores.
11:05—Paul Specht's Orchestra.
11:30—Paramount Orchestra.

SATURDAY

6:00 p. m.—Cellar Knights.
6:30—Duke Ellington's Orchestra.
7:00—Studio program.
7:55—Opening of the Eighth Annual World's Fair.
8:00—United States Army Band.
8:30—CeCo Couriers.
9:00—Physical Culture Hour.
9:30—Grand Opera Concert.
10:00—Burns Pageant.
10:30—Night Club Romance.
11:02—Baseball scores.
11:05—Paul Specht's Orchestra.
11:30—Paramount Orchestra.

Try the THE MARKET-PLACE of the MULTITUDE Use the Classified - to Buy - Sell - Trade - Rent - Lease - Invest or Find - TELEPHONE

Classified Advertising
THE GAZETTE
IS THE MEDIUM

through which the general public can always have its wants supplied.

THE GAZETTE will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement. Notice of errors, typographical or otherwise, must be given in time for correction before next insertion.

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification style and type. THE GAZETTE reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement.

Closing time for classified advertisement for publication the same day is 9:30 a. m.

- ANNOUNCEMENTS
- 1 Card of Thanks.
  - 2 In Memoriam.
  - 3 Florists; Monuments.
  - 4 Tax Service.
  - 5 Notices, Meetings.
  - 6 Personal.
  - 7 Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

- 8 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering.
- 9 Dressmaking, Millinery.
- 10 Beauty Culture.
- 11 Professional Services.
- 12 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
- 13 Electricians, wiring.
- 14 Building, Contracting.
- 15 Painting, Papering.
- 16 Repairing, Refinishing.
- 17 Commercial Hauling, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

- 18 Help Wanted—Male.
- 19 Help Wanted—Female.
- 20 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
- 21 Help Wanted—Agents, Salesmen.
- 22 Situations Wanted.
- 23 Help Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

- 24 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
- 25 Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
- 26 Horses—Cattle—Hogs.

MISCELLANEOUS

- 27 Wanted to Buy.
- 28 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 29 Musical Instruments—Radio.
- 30 Household Goods.
- 31 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
- 32 Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

- 33 Where to Eat.
- 34 Apartments—Furnished.
- 35 Apartments—Unfurnished.
- 36 Rooms—With Board.
- 37 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
- 38 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
- 39 Houses—Unfurnished.
- 40 Houses—Furnished.
- 41 Office and Desk Rooms.
- 42 Miscellaneous For Rent.
- 43 Wanted to Rent.
- 44 Storage.

REAL ESTATE

- 45 Houses For Sale.
- 46 Lots For Sale.
- 47 Real Estate For Exchange.
- 48 Farms For Sale.
- 49 Business Opportunities.
- 50 Wanted—Real Estate.

AUTOMOTIVE

- 51 Automobile Insurance.
- 52 Auto Laundering—Painting.
- 53 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
- 54 Parts—Service—Repairing.
- 55 Motorcycles—Bicycles.
- 56 Auto Agencies.
- 57 Used Cars For Sale.

PUBLIC SALES

- 58 Auctioneers.
- 59 Auction Sales.

DEAD STOCK

- 60 Horses—Cows, etc.

3 Florists; Monuments

CUT FLOWERS—Gladoli and Aspers. R. O. Douglas. Phone 549-W. Cor. Washington and Monroe Sts.

5 Notices, Meetings

PUBLIC SALE—Abandoned Oakland six touring, engine No. K 41-436, at Robert Bryson's will be sold Saturday October 5th at 1 p. m.

11 Professional Services

EXPERT FILM finishing. Daisy Clemans, Room 9, Steele Building.

12 Roofing, Plumbing

PIPES—Valves and fittings for all purposes. BOCKLET'S line of plumbing and heating supplies are the best. The Bocklet-King Co. 415 W. Main St.

16 Repairing, Refinishing

SHOE REPAIRING of all kinds. Expert workmanship at O. W. Everhart's Store, E. Main St.

17 Commercial Hauling

BEST MOVING and storage facilities in Xenia. Call 728 for prompt service. Lang Transfer.

HAULING DAILY, Dayton to Xenia, Xenia to Wilmington. House to house delivery. Jesse E. Gilbert.

NOTICE—Hauling of all kinds. Furniture carefully moved. Mendenhall Transfer. Phone 566-R.

18 Help Wanted—Male

RADIO ANNOUNCERS—$50 to $200 per week is being made in this fascinating new profession. Do you want to join the ranks of these high salaried men? Write Institute of Radio Announcers, 17th Floor U. B. Building, Dayton, Ohio.

RADIO ANNOUNCERS—$50 to $200 per week is being made in this fascinating new profession. Do you want to join the ranks of these high salaried men? Write Institute of Radio Announcers, 17th Floor U. B. Building, Dayton, Ohio.

26 Horses—Cattle—Hogs

SHEEP FOR SALE—1 Shropshire buck; 16 Shropshire ewes; 24 Delaware ewes and lambs. Call 360 or 947-W. See them at Bocklet's Farm, Stone Road. Any afternoon this week.

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASY PAYMENTS
On any kind of security you have to offer—HOUSEHOLD GOODS, LIVESTOCK or AUTOMOBILES.
AMERICAN LOAN CO.
Steele Bldg. Terms 4 Mo. To 4 Yrs.

Everyday Prices at GRAHAM'S
JOHNSONS WAX 65c lb. Can
RITZ WATERLESS CLEANER 69c 5 lb. Can
VALSPAR VARNISH $1.76 Quart
GRAHAM'S
Phone 3

28 Miscellaneous for Sale

FOR SALE—Shropshire buck lamb. Irvin Huffman. Phone.

FOR SALE—Feeding shoots. Buying timothy, alfalfa and clover hay. C. C. Turner. Phone 75-F-13.

FOR SALE—Trumbull seed wheat. Good quality. Re-cleaned on hand mill. Lewis Frye. 62-F-12.

FOR SALE—Nine mixed ewes, at Hattie Irvin's farm, one mile west of Bellbrook on Dayton and Wilmington Pike. E. V. Barnes.

FOR SALE—1 double tub Haag and engine, $70; 1 Sunny Soda, $40; 1 Coffield, $30; 1 Bluebird, $45, all-electrics. Dayton Maytag Sales and Service, 5 W. Main St., Xenia. Phone 143.

STOVES—Baseburner. Other kinds. Saturday afternoons. John Harbina, Allen Building.

FOR SALE—Seed rye. C. O. Miller Elevator, Trebels Ohio.

GOODRICH and MICHELIN—tires at Anderson's Rent-a-Car, S. Whiteman St.

FOR SALE—Choice Duroc Jersey boars and gilts, Immured. Ed. S. Foust. Phone Co. 66-F-3.

SALE ON BATHROOM gas heaters, $2.95 at Eichman Electric, W. Main St.

HIGH GRADE motor oil at our Bellbrook Ave. station, 50c a gallon. Carroll-Binder Co.

SEVERAL BATTERY RAYO sets, one electric set. Gas and coal stoves. Mendenhall Second-hand Store, 43 W. Main.

FOR SALE—PURE Trumbull wheat for sale. W. A. Bickett, Phone Co. 62-F-13.

JERSEY COW, fresh. Also a good heating stove. Chas. Faulkner. Phone 85-F-11.

FOR SALE—Three hogs and one cow. John Lambert. Route No. 8, Xenia, Ohio.

75 RHODE ISLAND RED pullets. Call Yellow Springs 246-R-3.

FOR SALE OR trade, 19 stands of bees, 194 Lexington Ave.

29 Musical—Radio

ORTHOPHONIC (Credenza model) like new. Come in and listen to this machine. Will sell cheap. Miller Electric.

PIANOS FOR SALE—$50.00 monthly. John Harbina, Allen Building.

SHEET MUSIC, latest records and the new radio models at Sutton Music Store, Green St.

FOR SALE—Three R. C. A. 100 speakers, former price $35.00, for $10. Two battery sets, $15 each. Adair Furniture Store.

$2.50—PIANOS TUNED—$2.50 Repairing and overhauling your piano can be made to play like new. Mr. Merion is a factory piano maker formerly with the "Wurlitzer." Phone 837 R. 29 W. Third St., Xenia, O.

30 Household Goods

FURNITURE — for sale, but only Saturday afternoons. Come to my office. John T. Harbina, Allen Building.

36 Rooms—With Board

FOR RENT—First class sleeping rooms with or without board, 242 Chestnut Street. Phone 576-W.

39 Houses—Unfurnished

FOR RENT—5 room house, with bath and garage, on Cincinnati Ave. Call 551-R.

7 ROOM HOUSE, modern except furnace. Garage, garden, $25. Close to McKinley School. M. J. Bebb.

45 Houses for Sale

$40.00 DOWN, $20.00 monthly buys six room house and garage. John Harbina, Allen Building, Xenia.

$40.00 DOWN, $20.00 month buys six room house with garage. John Harbina, Allen Building, Xenia.

FOR IMMEDIATE SALE—Nos. 505 and 507 W. Main St. 8 and 6 room cottages for homes or investments. See them at once. Harbina and Bales, 17 Allen Bldg.

48 Farms For Sale

SMALL FARM—6 acres, 2 1-2 miles south of Xenia. 1 1-2 story, 7 room house. Good barn. Land level. Priced to sell if sold at once. T. C. Long, Allen Bldg.

CHATTY GODDESS OF CAB
By BEATRICE BURTON, Author of: "HER MAN," "HONEY LOU," "SALLY'S SHOULDERS," "MONEY LOVE," "LOVE BOUND," ETC.
COPYRIGHT 1929, CENTRAL PRESS ASSN. INC., CLEVELAND, OHIO.

READ THIS FIRST:
Charlotte Chatterton, nicknamed Chatty, is a born gossip. Her mother, a widowed dressmaker, through a wealthy customer gets Chatty a position as telephone operator at the Van Nuy Co., Bonds. Chatty, with her incessant chattering and gossip, creates havoc. She falls in love with one of the up-and-coming bond salesmen, David Jordan. He is interested in her, but when her gossip causes Agnes Herford to lose her position David passes her up. Later Chatty listens in on all of David's phone conversations and he finally "calls" her down in front of the office people. Chatty's girl friend, Billie Langenau, a file clerk, and Winnie Talcott, Mr. Van's secretary, have some lively parties. Chatty has dates with a newcomer to the office, Bryant Dunning, who is married but says his wife left him. Chatty goes with Bryant more to spite David.

Chatty overhears a phone conversation, and learns that David is going to leave Van Nuy and go to work at the Midas bank. Chatty believes David is copying the bond buyers' names at Van Nuy's and runs to Mr. Van with the story. Mr. Van knows all about it, and tells Chatty she can apologize to David or leave her position. Chatty quits rather than apologize to David. Later, she meets David as he is leaving, and secretly apologizes to him.

Chatty looks for a new position. She discovers, after many calls, that it is not easy to get work when she has so little experience. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII
They were all very kind to her at home. Her mother did not criticize her. Billie was all sympathy and interest, and even Dad forbore to "razz" her on her failure to get work. Chatty suspected her mother had talked to him. She tried very hard. Every morning she rose early, looked at the paper, made up her list, and sallied forth. But she had "no luck."

Chatty called it "luck," not realizing that she was lacking in proper references, and her appearance were all against her. In a mental reaction against the growing love and longing in her heart for Dave, she painted and powdered and lipstick more and more heavily, as if it were a symbol that she was free and independent, not concerned with what he liked.

But he was always in her mind. The men to whom she applied for work were "nice" or "not nice," according as they did or did not remind her of Dave. Their voices were pleasant or unpleasant, according as they were or were not reminiscent of the tones of David's voice.

Waking and sleeping, David's face before her. At last she could stand it no longer. She ascertained from Billie that it was the Midas National Bank in which David had accepted the position of assistant cashier. And then she telephoned him!

Not to talk to him, however. She knew better than that. She chose half past twelve as the hour to call him up, hoping for the very answer she received: "Mr. Jordan is out at lunch. He will return at one."

Chatty smiled with satisfaction. That was what she wanted; to visit his bank when he was out, and to become a depositor in it. She withdrew her pitifully small capital from the savings bank, and when she walked out from the Midas was held the cold comfort of knowing that there was at least a small connection between David's life and hers. He was an officer in "her" bank. He helped to take care of her money! Perhaps, some day, when she had "legitimate business" in the Midas, she would see him!

Every day after that she had "legitimate business" in the Midas bank! Today it was to have a quarter changed into nickels. The next day to change a five-dollar bill for five ones. The day after to cash a small check—a check smaller than she needed. If she cashed a check for two dollars today, she would need another two or three on the morrow, which would be one more excuse for entering the bank!

She made three visits before she managed to speak to David. Then she almost bumped into him, as he walked rapidly through the huge, marble pillared room.

"Good morning, Dave!" Chatty's voice trembled in spite of her. Would he ignore her? Would he speak to her?

"Why, Chat—Miss Chatterton! What brings you here?" Chatty couldn't tell whether surprise, relief, pleasure or scorn was in the level voice.

"I—I am a depositor here!" she answered, in a very small voice.

"Is that so? I am too new here to know all our depositors, as yet!" He smiled. "How long have you been with us?"

"Oh, a long time!" assured Chatty, and could have bitten her tongue out the next moment! But the answer was an instinctively malice defense against David's knowing that she had just put her little savings in the Midas bank. If he knew that, of course, he'd know why.

But what a silly thing to say, a needless lie! For David, of course, had access to the books and need only go to them to ascertain that Chatty had but just become a member of the official family of the Midas bank!

"I hope we treat you well?" he asked. "You will excuse me, now?" And he hurried away.

But Chatty left the bank happier than she had been for days! She had seen him! He had not cut her! He had actually smiled at her!

Not the little smile that she looked for, the smile of understanding and sympathy and love, the smile that wrung her heart in dreams and followed her, a pale ghost of a smile, through her waking hours. Oh, no. But still, he had not frowned.

Maybe he would forgive her, sometime— Chatty spent more and more time at home, and less and less hunting the elusive job, as the days went by. She dressed more and more carefully. A face which is "made up" but which looks as if it was natural is a difficult feat and takes time.

The ravages of late hours, too much drink, not enough sleep, anxiety and unhappiness had taken their toll of Chatty's freshness. The one time when she never lied to herself was when she looked in her mirror.

Men like girls fresh, healthy, young, vigorous, peppy. They didn't like dark circles and haggard cheeks and dull eyes! But the one man didn't like make-up!

Chatty was between two horns of a dilemma. Make up and look well—and earn David's approval. Fail to make up, to win his approval, and look haggard and worn—and he'd guess why and disapprove!

Hence she obtained Winnie's help in learning more and more of the arts of facial camouflage, and spent more and more time over her mirror and rouge pot, her tubes of cold cream, rubbing cream, cleansing cream, vanishing cream and powders.

Every day at eleven o'clock Chatty sallied forth to go to the bank—she had ascertained that just before lunch was the hour when she was most likely to encounter David. She looked very fresh and fair and lovely, and only an expert could have detected the labor and cosmetics which achieved that result.

David, certainly, was no expert. It did not occur to Chatty that she was but continuing in the practices which had offended David in the first place—deceiving him.

She did not always see him. Some days she drew a blank. He was out or busy, or didn't look up. They were the blue days, the hard days.

Other days she received more uplift from a casual smile of greeting than she ever got from a cocktail. Usually it was only a smile, but occasionally it was a word or two. One new-forgotten day he talked to her for almost five minutes—four minutes and eleven seconds, to be exact.

"Do you ever see any of the old crowd?" he asked. "Oh, yes! Billie, you know, lives right next door to me!"

"And little Winnie and Bryant and Lola?" "I hadn't seen any of them for ages!" answered Chatty. "Oh, did you know Bryant was arrested for speeding? Yes, he was going sixty-five miles an hour, the cop said, and at the station—Oh!"

Chatty clapped her hand over her mouth. And she had just said she hadn't seen Bryant for ages!

"Yes, I saw it in the paper!" answered David, dryly.

Chatty's cheeks flamed, and she changed the subject. She had seen it in the paper, too. The paper had said forty miles an hour, and joked about the "unknown flapper" riding with Bryant.

Chatty crept from the bank, her feelings a mingling of delight at David's actually stopping to talk with her, of shame that she should have told him a lie.

"Oh, what's the matter with me!" she cried, remorsefully to herself. "My tongue must run away with me!"

It was the first time Chatty had really admitted to herself that she talked too much.

But love works strange wonders, and Chatty was more and more in love with David every day.

The further he seemed from her reach, the more desirable he became. Yet a something in David's eyes, a tone in his voice, told her he remembered that he once cared for her, even if that was all dead.

Chatty sighed. Those were the good days—David and she, Billie and George Mayhew— By inference the "Famous Four" came to her mind; and then the old devil of perverseness arose. "Those were the good days, too! Why should I waste my heart on a man who—who doesn't like me? I haven't seen George Mayhew for ages, and I don't want to! I'll get Winnie to get up a whoopee to-night—"

But it was not Bryant and Winnie that she thought of as she plodded wearily from office to store and factory, hunting a job, that afternoon, but of David.

David, ah, David!

(TO BE CONTINUED)

On The Air From Cincinnati

MONDAY

- WLW:
6:00 p. m.—Willsey Orchestra.
6:30—Dynamite Diners.
7:00—Little Jack Little.
7:15—Tony's scrapbook.
7:30—Gibson Orchestra.
8:00—Duro Automatics.
8:30—Whichhouse concert.
9:00—Marmion Roosevelt program.
9:30—Real Folks.
10:00—Hamilton Tailoring Club.
10:30—Empire Builders.
11:00—Amos 'n' Andy.
11:15—Two-on-the-Aisle.
12:00 Mid.—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
12:30-1:00 a. m.—Polly and Anna.
WKCY:
7:47 p. m.—German band.
8:00—Studio program and Dolly Dimples.
8:25—Sports review.
8:30—K. L. O. Minstrels.
9:00—L. B. Wilson Dance program.
10:00—Kenrad Cabin Door.
10:30—Black and Hovel.
WSAI:
7:00 p. m.—Organ program.
7:45—Everyday poems.
8:00—Freestone program.
8:30—A. and P. Gypies.
9:30—General Motors Family Party.
10:00-10:30 — Michael Hauer's Dance Orchestra.
WKRC:
6:00 p. m.—Cellar Knights.
6:30—Duke Ellington's Orchestra.
7:00—Studio program.
7:55—Opening of the Eighth Annual World's Fair.
8:00—United States Army Band.
8:30—CeCo Couriers.
9:00—Physical Culture Hour.
9:30—Grand Opera Concert.
10:00—Burns Pageant.
10:30—Night Club Romance.
11:02—Baseball scores.
11:05—Paul Specht's Orchestra.
11:30—Paramount Orchestra.

TUESDAY

- WLW:
6:30 a. m.—Top o' the Morning.
7:30—Organ program, Arthur Chandler.
8:00—Exercise period.
8:30—Devotions.
9:00—Crosley Woman's hour.
10:00—Organ program, Arthur Chandler, Jr.
10:15—Good Looks Workshop.
10:40—Phonograph records.
11:00—Forecast School of Cookery.
12:00 Noon—Organ program.
12:30 p. m.—Burns Orchestra.
1:00—National farm and home period.
1:45—Town and country.
2:00—Central States School of the Air.
3:00—All Quiet on the Western Front.
3:15—Matinee Players.
3:45—Woman's Radio Club.
4:00—Maid of Melody.
4:15—Young America.
4:30—Angels Trio.
5:00—Five O'clock Hawaiians.
5:40—Closing stock quotations.
5:45—Polly and Anna.
6:00—Cincinnati Club Orchestra.
6:30—Dynamite Diners.
7:00—Penny-A-Day program.
7:15—Tony's Scrap Book.
7:30—Sobio program.
8:00—Work Bubble Blowers.
8:30—Libby program.
9:00—Johnson and Johnson feature.
9:30—Crosley Burnt Corkers.
10:00—Arzon program.
10:30—Nunn-Bush Weldon program.
10:45—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
11:00—Crosley review.
12:00 Mid.—Hotel Gibson Orchestra.
12:30 a. m.—Variety hour.
1:00-1:30—Little Jack Little.
WKCY:
8:00 a. m.—Men.
8:15—Organ program.
8:45—Dardanelle Boys.
9:30—Patty's dream kitchen.
9:45—Dolly Dimples.
2:00 p. m.—Weong's Orchestra.
3:00—Horoscope.
3:15—Dolly Dimples.
3:45—Four K. Safety Club.

BENEDICTION ENDS SPECIAL DEVOTION AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Solemn benediction with the Blessed Sacrament closed Forty Hours Devotion at St. Bridget Catholic Church Sunday night, before an audience of worshippers that filled the edifice to overflowing. The service of the Forty Hours, an annual rite, began Friday morning, and during the period the Blessed Sacrament was exposed on the altar for the adoration of the public.

A procession of about thirty little girls in white dresses and white hair bows, and twenty-two acolytes and servers, the former in white and red cassocks and bearing lighted candles, was a feature of the solemn close of the services Sunday night.

The Rev. Martin Varley, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Dayton, was the celebrant at the solemn benediction, with the Rev. Lawrence Mollman, St. Augustine's Church, Jamestown, as deacon, the Rev. John Favert, Emmanuel Church, Dayton, sub-deacon and the Rev. John Kuhn, St. Raphael Church, Springfield, as master of ceremonies.

Other priests who assisted in the services and took part in the procession, were: the Rev. Francis Reardon and the Rev. Francis Varley, Dayton; the Rev. John Kelly, Marysville; the Rev. James Wade, West Jefferson; the Rev. James Quinn, South Charleston; the Rev. Charles Ertel, Wilmington; the Rev. Edward Simms, St. Martin's, O.; the Rev. Charles Hector, Hillsboro; the Rev. Thomas Kearns, Lebanon; the Rev. James Conroy, Cincinnati; the Rev. John McGlinchey, Springfield; the Rev. David Powers, pastor of St. Bridget Church and the Rt. Rev. Daniel Buckley, V. G., of St. Raphael Church, Springfield.

Preceding the ceremonial words, Miss Eleanor McDonnell, soloist, sang "Tanis Angelicus" by Caesar Frank.

CAPTURE "KEY" MAN IN CLEVELAND GRAFT SCANDAL IN CHICAGO

(Continued From Page One)

his fifty-two years and was well dressed.

On the way to the apartment at water told of his flight from Cleveland.

He said that he had gone to Florida to talk with Michael Froehlich, original owner of the St. Clair Ave.-Gold Road property, and that after seeing Froehlich returned to Cleveland.

JINX DOGS STEPS OF OHIO LABORER

GALLIPOLIS, O., Sept. 30—Fate the unkind finger, is digging the footsteps of Herbert Queen, 35, of Jackson County.

Twelve years ago, Queen was working on a clay crusher at Oak Hill and his hand became entangled in the machinery. Amputation was necessary.

With jinxed perseverance, Queen taught himself how to get along with his remaining left hand.

He continued his trade, but fate was not yet done with him. His left hand was mangled by a clay crusher recently and amputation was again necessary.

He is in a local hospital today, most helpless, with only two stumps where his hands formerly were attached.

WEEKLY EVENTS

MONDAY:
Unity Center.
D. of P.
S. P. O.
Modern Woodmen.
K. K. K.

TUESDAY:
Kiwanis.
Rotary.

WEDNESDAY:
K. of P.
Church Prayer meetings.

THURSDAY:
Red Men.

FRIDAY:
Red Men.
Fagles.

SATURDAY:
Lewis Post.
Sale at Need's, Friend Church, 9 o'clock.

Jr. Chamber Head

Herbert McCulla, of Lincoln, Neb., is the new president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He plans

The Theater

Although he never talks about it, Maurice Chevalier, the movie star who comes from France, has a chateau in Cannes in his home country, where he is now on vacation.

Chevalier is returning soon to be in work on another picture. His popularity here has been instant and when "The Love Parade" is released, he is expected to reach the heights.

The screen player has a garden at his French chateau who cultivates and sells flowers in the gardens, getting sufficient income to meet the taxes and the running expenses of the house during the absence of the Chevaliers. He also has a rare collection of jewelry, presented to him from time to time by titled admirers.

DOROTHY MacKAIL

Gloria Swanson's singing and talking voice will be heard for the first time from an American studio Thursday, October 10, at 10:30 p. m. E. S. T., through the Victor Hour hook-up.

More than forty N. B. C. stations will carry the songs of the movie star to followers of the movies and the radio, with Nat Shilkret directing the orchestra. Miss Swanson will sing "Love," a composition of Edmund Goulding and Elsie Janis and Rosell's "Serenade," both of which are sung by her in "The Trespasser" her first all-talking picture. They are also recorded.

Miss Swanson returned on the Ile de France September 24 after attending the world premier of her first talkie in London. Following the broadcast in this country she will leave New York for Hollywood. It was her voice and not the movies that drew Miss Swanson to Hollywood in the first place. She studied voice in Chicago and was recommended to a California impresario for further instruction. The advice led her to Hollywood where her screen prospects were discovered. If you want to hear her radio effort, tune in on Station

DEDICATE FIELD

CONNEAUT, O., Sept. 30.—An elaborate aerial jamboree has been planned for the dedication on October 12 of Conneaut's airplane landing field—one of the emergency stops on the Cleveland-Albany airways, according to the announcement of officials backing the project.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Paul Robinson—

The main topic of a woman's conversation is clothes—but she tries her best to get something NEW to talk about.

BIG SISTER—The Scent of a Rat

I'VE GOT TO SEE MR. STUREK 'FORE HE FINDS OUT 'BOUT THAT BOILER FACTORY BEIN' BUILT NEXT TO AUNT ELLEN'S OR HE WON'T BUY THE PLACE AT ALL.

WHAT! WHY THAT'S THE COMP'NY THAT'S GOIN' TO BUILD TH' FACTORY!

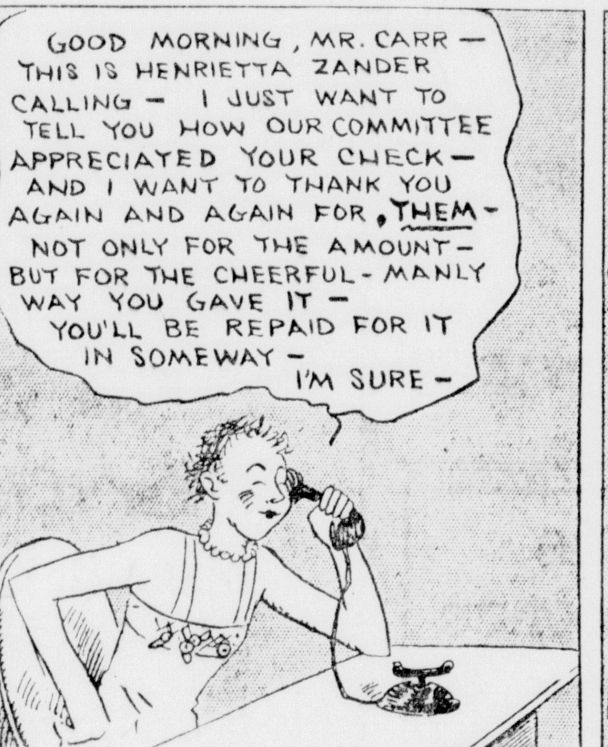

AND RIGHT NEXT DOOR TO THE OFFICE OF MR. STUREK! M-M-H-M-M. SO! THIS LOOKS AWFUL SPICIOUS! IT'D BE MIGHTY FUNNY IF A MAN DIDN'T KNOW THAT HIS NEXT DOOR NEIGHBOR WAS DOIN' ANYTHING SO PORTANT AS BUILDIN' A NEW FACTORY!

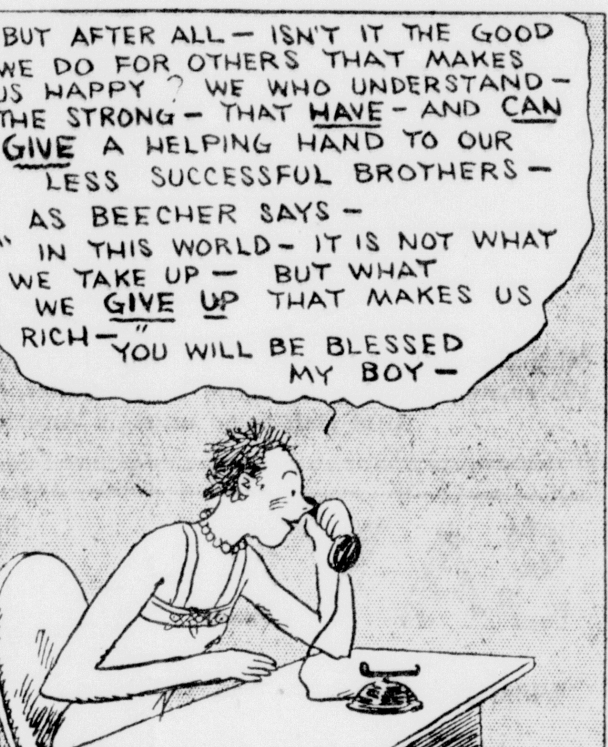

NO SIR! 'FORE I SEE MR. STUREK I'M GOIN' TO THINK TH'S OVER A BIT. MAYBE AUNT WON'T HAVE TO SELL AFTER ALL.

By LESLIE FORGRAVE

THE GUMPS—The Widow's Progress

GOOD MORNING, MR. CARR—THIS IS HENRIETTA ZANDER CALLING—I JUST WANT TO TELL YOU HOW OUR COMMITTEE APPRECIATED YOUR CHECK—AND I WANT TO THANK YOU AGAIN AND AGAIN FOR THEM—NOT ONLY FOR THE AMOUNT—BUT FOR THE CHEERFUL—MANY WAY YOU GAVE IT—YOU'LL BE REPAYED FOR IT IN SOMEWAY—I'M SURE—

BUT AFTER ALL—ISN'T IT THE GOOD WE DO FOR OTHERS THAT MAKES US HAPPY? WE WHO UNDERSTAND THE STRONG—THAT HAVE—AND CAN GIVE A HELPING HAND TO OUR LESS SUCCESSFUL BROTHERS—AS BEECHER SAYS—"IN THIS WORLD—IT IS NOT WHAT WE TAKE UP—BUT WHAT WE GIVE UP THAT MAKES US RICH—YOU WILL BE BLESSED MY BOY—

AND BY THE WAY—I'M INTERESTED IN THAT FACTORY OF YOURS—I'D LIKE TO COME DOWN THERE SOME DAY—AND SEE ALL THAT WONDERFUL MACHINERY—THE WHEELS—AND SEE THOSE THINGAMAGIGS IN ACTION—I'D LIKE TO SEE HOW THAT WONDERFUL BURGLAR ALARM IS MADE—I'M SURE IT MUST BE INTERESTING—MAY I COME SOME DAY? MAY I?

WHOOPEE! ANOTHER APPOINTMENT WITH TOM CARR—THIS TIME—TO TAKE A PEEP INTO THE MINT—NOT BAD—HENRIETTA—NOT BAD!

By SIDNEY SMITH

ETTA KETT—Happiness Ahead!!

GEE, BUT IT'S LONESOME AROUND THIS PLACE—I WISH THE HOUSE WAS HAUNTED—ANYTHING FOR COMPANY!

WELL!! WHO'S THE PERFECTLY DIVINE LITTLE HAND HOLDER THAT HAL IS TALKING TOO? MAYBE MY TROUBLES ARE OVER!!

STAN—BEND A KNEE TO THE MATER—MOTHER MEET STANTON GIDDLE—THE REASON WHY GIRLS TALK IN THEIR SLEEP

GOOD BYE BLUES!

By PAUL ROBINSON

MUGGS McGINNIS—Horseshoes!

NOW, WHO CAN TELL ME TH' NAME OF TH' MAN WHO DISCOVERED TH' POWER OF STEAM? SUPPOSE YOU TRY IT, MUGGS!

ARE YOU PAYING STRICT ATTENTION, MUGGS?

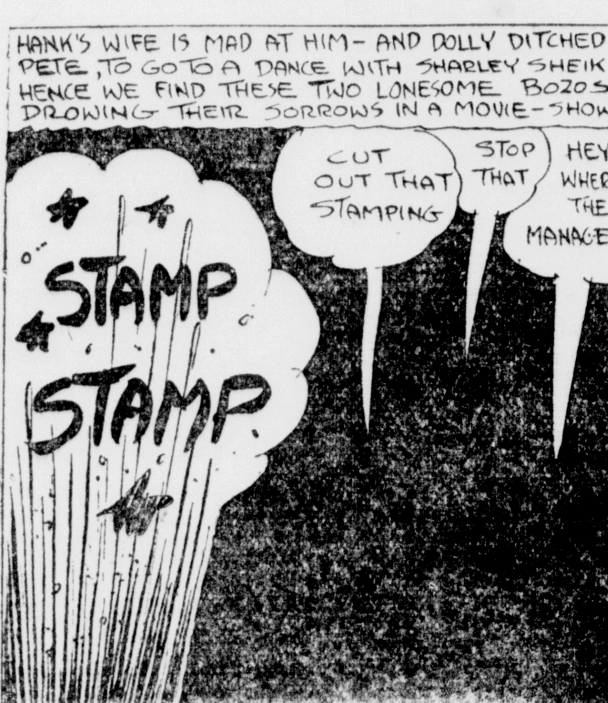

WHAT?

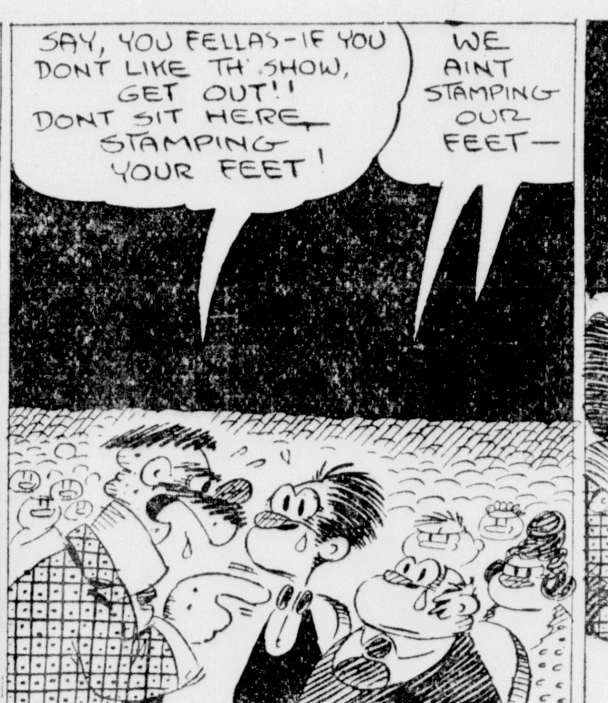

YES, THAT'S RIGHT! JAMES WATT!!—NOW TAKE YOUR SONG BOOKS!

By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE—No Cause for Argument

HANK'S WIFE IS MAD AT HIM—AND DOLLY DITCHED PETE, TO GO TO A DANCE WITH SHARLEY SHEIK—HENCE WE FIND THESE TWO LONESOME BOYS DROWNING THEIR SORROWS IN A MOVIE SHOW

SAY, YOU FELLAS—IF YOU DON'T LIKE TH' SHOW, GET OUT!! DON'T SIT HERE STAMPING YOUR FEET!

WE'RE CRACKING WALL—NUTS!!!

TONIGHT MOVIE SHOW

By SWAN

"CAP" STUBBS—It's Pop's Loss!

KIN I GO WITH POP TO TH' OFFICE, MOM?

WELL, I'M ALREADY, POP—ALREADY FOR WHAT!!

WHY, YES—I THOUGHT YOU WANTED HIM TO, DIDN'T YOU?

OH, WELL, TIPPIE! IF THAT'S TH' WAY HE FEELS ABOUT IT.

By EDWINA

By LESLIE FORGRAVE

NOW
VERY WELL
VE HIM
RE - I
BOTHERED WORKING

OW DID I
UNDER-

OH, WELL, TIPPIE!
IF THAT'S TH' WAY
HE FEELS ABOUT IT."

EDWINA

STRANGE MESSAGE
ADDS TO MYSTERY OF MISSING GIRLS

A collection of newspaper fragments, addresses, parts of documents and fragments of photographs received by mail Friday night by Richard Hurd, father of one of the missing girls, has strangely complicated the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Beatrice Hurd and Elizabeth Moore, 16-year-old Prospect, O., girls.

The girls have been missing since September 4 and relatives have traveled more than 3,000 miles in an effort to find some trace of them. The father of the missing girl came to Xenia several weeks ago and left a description of the girls.

A new angle, however, was added to the mystery with the receipt of an envelope, crammed full of meaningless papers, which appeared to have been sent by a depraved person. It was mailed September 23 but the postmark was only partly discernible.

The fact that the letter, although received by Mr. Hurd, was addressed to his wife's father, the late J. Q. Roudes, who has been dead forty years, constituted a most puzzling feature. The Hurd family lives in the house the Roudes once occupied.

Columbus police, to whom the collection was turned over for investigation by Mr. Hurd and E. E. Moore, father of the other girl, are frankly puzzled. They are unable to decide whether the girls have been kidnapped and have made an attempt to communicate with their parents, whether the message is the first step in a blackmail plot or whether the collection was sent by a crank.

Descriptions of the missing girls have been furnished every police department in Ohio and when the strange envelope was received, circulars were being prepared for distribution over the country.

The parents believe a letter the girls had written to them was intercepted, the letter destroyed and a new envelope addressed and stuffed with the scraps of paper.

NEW ANTIOCH COLLEGE SCIENCE BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION

Antioch College's new science building, gift of Charles P. Kettering of Dayton, is already beginning to make a notable change on the physical aspect of the campus as work on its superstructure nears completion.

To cost $350,000, this gift of a Dayton man to Antioch College will be one of the largest and finest science buildings in Ohio. It will be the most important addition to Antioch campus since the reorganization of the college eight years ago. The building will provide more than 200 rooms in which all the activities of the department of chemistry, physics, geology, biology and psychology can be housed, will contain 1,000,000 cubic feet and 70,000 square feet of floor space, and will be the equivalent of four stories in height, with a sub-basement in addition.

Important electrical work in the equipping of the new building is being done by a Dayton firm, the Keiser and Wagner Co., and generators and power switches are being installed under the direct supervision of the Dayton office of the General Electric Company.

Dr. C. S. Adams, head of the college's building committee and professor of chemistry, has designed many unusual features for the building.

Dr. Adams describes the building as of reinforced concrete construction with a red brick veneer. It will have a gable slate roof and will be in harmony with the new Antioch gymnasium, nearby, which was completed in the spring. A unique feature will be an arrangement whereby all plumbing will be immediately available either for additions or repairs. This is accomplished by installing hollow, removable walls along the corridors. Any part of the plumbing system can be reached by moving one of the corridor panels.

The building is of unit construction permitting of future additions or internal changes to meet changing conditions. In the sub-basement, will be two constant temperature rooms, built into six feet of solid rock and lined with cork. This will provide ideal conditions both for constant temperature work and experiments which would be affected by any vibrations.

A unique feature of the electrical equipment of the building will be a system for supplying low voltage direct current through two motor generator sets of 25 kilowatt and 6 kilowatt capacity, respectively, and a large storage battery. This supply will be mainly for the use of departments carrying on work where direct current is necessary such as quantitative analysis, electrolytic processes, metalurgical processes, electrical measurements and electrical engineering. The transfer panel of the low voltage distribution is so arranged that either D. C. or A. C. current can be used on any of the lines.

Another feature pointed out by Dr. Adams as unusual in the new Antioch building will be arrangement of the electrical equipment so that current as high as 200 to 400 amperes will be available, an unusually high capacity for a science building. It is thought that this supply may aid certain types of research work for which the building is partially designed. There will be twelve private research laboratories in the building.

In the attic of the building will be located thirty-one motors for the purpose of operating blowers located all over the building to carry off chemical fumes. At each control switch will be located a red pilot light which will remain lighted so long as the motor is functioning.

In the attic will also be located an 800 gallon distilled water storage tank. The water will be made available throughout the building by a bloc tin pipe system. It will be distilled by a Barnstead steam heated still, working automatically.

Other features of the new Antioch structure will be an automatic combination passenger and freight elevator, an automatic emergency lighting system that will go on in case of interruption to the regular power service, a greenhouse in the rear of the building for cultivating and protecting plants for the department of biology, two lecture rooms each with 150 seats and equipped with projecting machines, and specially planned and designed furniture for each room.

General contractors in charge of the work are Boyajohn and Barr Co., of Columbus, Ohio. Herbert Baumer, professor of design at Ohio State University, is responsible for the general aesthetic treatment of the building. The working architects are the Eastman and Bodke Co., of Springfield, O.

PYTHIAN LYCEUM
COURSE WILL OPEN

Novelty entertainment will be stressed in the program of the Gilbert Male Quartet, which will appear at the Knights of Pythias Hall at Alpha at 8 o'clock Friday night as the opening number on the Lyceum course sponsored by the Beavercreek Grange. Five numbers comprise the series.

The best songs, with sufficient variety to appeal to the popular taste, will be offered by the Gilbert Quartet, which will stick strictly to vocal numbers. Songs reminiscent of Civil War days will be presented in appropriate costumes and the listeners' memory will be refreshed by other selections leading up to the best of modern compositions.

Fletcher's CASTORIA
FOR QUICK, HARMLESS COMFORT
Children Cry for It
FOR CONSTIPATION, DIARRHEA, FEVERISHNESS

ORPHIUM
TONIGHT AND TUESDAY
Warner Bros. Present
MONTE BLUE
With Edna Murphy And Grant Withers In
A Thundering Railroad Melodrama!
"The Greyhound Limited"
Also "The Collegians" in two thrilling reels

Bijou
TONIGHT
"BLUE SKIES"
A six reel comedy drama with HELEN TWELVETREES
Also a two reel comedy
TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF THE
"KING OF KINGS"
Admission 15c and 25c

Phone 145
for Electric SERVICE Or REPAIR OF ANY KIND
MILLER ELECTRIC
34 West Main St.

Feeling Run Down?

Over 400,000 women and girls who were weak, "blue," nervous, run-down, and unable to do their work properly, have improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. By accurate record, 98 out of every 100 report benefit. You can be almost certain that it will help you too.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Then Suddenly a Clear Complexion Came
"The itching stopped and the pimples began to disappear, and in about a month they were gone," writes one woman after using Resinol. There are few complexion faults which will not yield to this simple treatment. The Ointment at night! Then wash off with Resinol Soap in the morning. The Soap, too, as a daily complexion aid. At all druggists.

For free sample of each, write Resinol, Dept. 54, Baltimore, Md.
Resinol

A "MOST BEAUTIFUL" OF RADIO

Olive Shea, 18, of New York, was selected from among more than 150 entries, covering the entire United States, as the "most beautiful staff radio artist in America."

SAVE The Difference
When you ship by truck, you save in two ways. No trucking to and from stations, cutting operations down to two. From your address to truck and truck to address.
Jesse Gilbert
186 W. Main St. Phone 304

Shagmoor
IF QUALITY COUNTS, YOU WANT A
Shagmoor
SMART, PRACTICAL AND DEPENDABLE
..for street wear
..for motoring
..for short train trips
..for transcontinental tours
..for European travel
..for the races
..for football games
..for aerial travel
..for yachting
..for shopping
..for Palm Beach
..for the Riviera
..for town and country
..for cold weather
..for most any occasion
"Shagmoor" Top Coats are confined in this city to this establishment exclusively.
Of the purest weather-proof wool—or of the softest, warmest alpaca fleece...

DEATH CLAIMS MRS.
JULIA CARROLL

Mrs. Julia Carroll, 77, wife of Charles Carroll, died at her home, 439 E. Market St., at 6:45 o'clock Sunday morning from a complication of ailments following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Carroll was born in Spring Valley November 14, 1851 but had lived in Xenia for the last forty years. She was a member of Trinity M. E. Church.

Surviving besides her second husband is one son, Milo Jackson, Springfield, and a sister, Mrs. Jacob LeValley, Xenia. The body was removed to the home of the sister, Mrs. LeValley, 25 Bellbrook Ave., where funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday with interment in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call anytime.

DO YOU FEEL SAFE?
Dayton
Thorobred Balloons
ON SLIPPERY STREETS
It's a lot better to trade your old tires in and put a few dollars in new Dayton Thorobreds than take any chances.
Xenia Auto Necessity Co.
"Tom and Dick 'The Tire Boys'"
Phone 533 For Road Service

COAL BARGAINS
Look These Prices Over
And Save Your Money
Miller's Creek Big Egg $6.25 per ton, delivered
Elkhorn, Ky. Lump $6.50 per ton, delivered
Island Creek, W. Va. Lump $7.00 per ton, Del.
Blue Diamond, Ky. Lump $7.00 per ton, Del.
Dana Lump $7.50 per ton, delivered
Pocahontas Forked Lump $7.75 per ton, Del.
Why pay more---our prices are always the lowest.
We handle nothing but high grade coal. Call up 523 and let us talk over your coal problems.
Lampert Coal Co.
NORTH DETROIT ST.

"E" BRAND
SELECTED PINK
SALMON
YOU'LL FIND NEW PLEASURE IN DISHES MADE WITH
"E" BRAND
SELECTED PINK
SALMON
Open a can of "E" BRAND SELECTED PINK SALMON, break apart the closely packed pink meat and see how smooth, fine textured and delicate it is! Salmon experts declare that no finer flavored salmon swims the icy waters of the Arctic sea. They are the first choice of the native Alaskans to whom salmon—instead of bread—is the "staff of life." For fine quality, superb flavor and absolute cleanliness and purity it is unexcelled. The best salmon for all general purpose uses. It costs less than any other salmon of the same grade.
FOR RICHLY COLORED HAND PACKED SALMON
ASK FOR "E" BRAND FANCY ALASKA
"E" TUNA FISH
Are you wishing for some new, especially tempting dish for luncheon or dinner? Then get a can of "E" BRAND TUNA FISH and serve it creamed, as a salad, or in any of the many delicious ways in which it is so easily prepared. Delicate, fine flavored, and as dainty as the white meat of chicken it is absolutely free from any strong fishy taste or odor. Include it in tomorrow's grocery order.
THE EAVEY CO.
WHOLESALE GROCERS
More Than 60 Years of Business Integrity
Back of All "E" Brand Products.
Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded

STRANGE MESSAGE ADDS TO MYSTERY OF MISSING GIRLS

A collection of newspaper fragments, addresses, parts of documents, and fragments of photographs received by mail Friday night by Richard Hurd, father of one of the missing girls, has strangely complicated the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Beatrice Hurd and Elizabeth Moore, 16-year-old Prospect, O. girls.

The girls have been missing since September 4 and relatives have traveled more than 3,000 miles in an effort to find some trace of them. The father of the missing Hurd girl came to Xenia several weeks ago and left a description of the pair.

A new angle, however, was added to the mystery with the receipt of an envelope, crammed full of meaningless papers, which appeared to have been sent by a deposed person. It was mailed September 23 but the postmark was only partly discernible.

The fact that the letter, although received by Mr. Hurd, was addressed to his wife's father, the late J. Q. Roudes, who has been dead forty years, constituted a most puzzling feature. The Hurd family lives in the house the Roudes once occupied.

Columbus police, to whom the collection was turned over for investigation by Mr. Hurd and E. E. Moore, father of the other girl, are frankly puzzled. They are unable to decide whether the girls have been kidnaped and have made an attempt to communicate with their parents, whether the message is the first step in a blackmail plot or whether the collection was sent by a crank.

Descriptions of the missing girls have been furnished every police department in Ohio and when the strange envelope was received, circulars were being prepared for distribution over the country.

The parents believe a letter the girls had written to them was intercepted, the letter destroyed and a new envelope addressed and stuffed with the scraps of paper.

PLEASANT GRANGE WILL OFFER RADIO PROGRAM THURSDAY

Pleasant Grange No. 28, Bowersville, will present a program over station WAIU, Columbus, Thursday evening, October 3. It is announced by Mrs. Howard Smith, lecturer.

The program is one of the series being given by Granges each week over this station. It follows:

Orchestra—"Post Commander," march, by Mackie-Boyer.

Quartette—Medley, by White, Wm. Linton, L. H. Downing, C. A. Devoe, Porter Jasper, Mary Kinnamon accompanist.

Talk—"The Grange as a Community Builder," C. A. Devoe.

Clarinet duet—Popular Selections, Charles Hite and L. H. Downing, Mildred Lewis, accompanist.

Reading—"House Cleaning," Charlotte Pugsley, juvenile grange member.

Vocal duet—"The Little Old Garden," by Hewitt, Raymond Smith and Mary Devoe, Mary Kinnamon, accompanist.

Orchestra—"Dancing All The Time," Mackie-Boyer.

Reading—"The Railroad Crossing," Helen Poland.

Some old time "fiddling," Ansel Bowermaster, violin, Charles Hite, banjo and L. H. Downing, piano.

Quartette—"Nebber Yo' Min' Ma Honey," by Rowles, Linton, Downing, Devoe and Jasper, Mary Kinnamon, accompanist.

Play, Mankers' "Scrap Book," by himself.

Orchestra—"Motor Boat Squadron," march, by Mackie-Boyer.

"Good Night Song," by Pleasant Grange.

SHALES STUDIED

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Supplementing a survey in 1923 of the coal formation clays of the state, a study of the shales of Ohio is being undertaken by the engineering experiment station, Ohio State University, in behalf of the ceramic industry of Ohio.

Feeling Run Down?

Over 400,000 women and girls who were weak, "blue," nervous, run-down, and unable to do their work properly, have improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. By accurate record, 98 out of every 100 report benefit. You can be almost certain that it will help you too.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Then Suddenly a Clear Complexion Came

"The itching stopped and the pimples began to disappear, and in about a month they were gone," writes one woman after using Resinol. There are few complexion faults which will not yield to this simple treatment. The Ointment at night! Then wash off with Resinol Soap in the morning. The Soap, too, as a daily complexion aid. At all druggists.

For free sample of each, write Resinol, Dept. 64, Baltimore, Md.

Resinol

NEW ANTIOCH COLLEGE SCIENCE BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION

Antioch College's new science building, gift of Charles P. Kettering of Dayton, is already beginning to make a notable change on the physical aspect of the campus as work on its superstructure nears completion.

To cost $350,000, this gift of a Dayton man to Antioch College will be one of the largest and finest science buildings in Ohio. It will be the most important addition to Antioch campus since the reorganization of the college eight years ago. The building will provide more than 200 rooms in which all the activities of the department of chemistry, physics, geology, biology and psychology can be housed, will contain 1,000,000 cubic feet and 70,000 square feet of floor space, and will be the equivalent of four stories in height, with a sub-basement in addition.

Important electrical work in the equipping of the new building is being done by a Dayton firm, the Kelso and Wagner Co., and general contractors in charge of the work are Boyalohn and Barr Co., of Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. C. S. Adams, head of the college's building committee and professor of chemistry, has designed many unusual features for the building.

Dr. Adams describes the building as of reinforced concrete construction with a red brick veneer. It will have a gable slate roof and will be in harmony with the new Antioch gymnasium, nearby, which was completed in the spring. A unique feature will be an arrangement whereby all plumbing will be immediately available either for additions or repairs. This is accomplished by installing hollow, removable walls along the corridors. Any part of the plumbing system can be reached by moving one of the corridor panels.

The building is of unit construction permitting of future additions or internal changes to meet changing conditions.

In the sub-basement, will be two constant temperature rooms, built into six feet of solid rock and lined with cork. This will provide ideal conditions both for constant temperature work and experiments which would be affected by any vibrations.

A unique feature of the electrical equipment of the building will be a system for supplying low voltage direct current through two motor generator sets of 25 kilowatt and 6 kilowatt capacity, respectively, and a large storage battery. This supply will be mainly for the use of departments carrying on work where direct current is necessary such as quantitative analysis, electrolytic processes, metallurgical processes, electrical measurements and electrical engineering.

The transfer panel of the low voltage distribution is so arranged that either D. C. or A. C. current can be used on any of the lines.

Another feature pointed out by Dr. Adams as unusual in the new Antioch building will be arrangement of the electrical equipment so that current as high as 200 to 400 amperes will be available, an unusually high capacity for a science building. It is thought that this supply may aid certain types of research work, for which the building is partially designed. There will be twelve private research laboratories in the building.

In the attic of the building will be located thirty-one motors for the purpose of operating blowers located all over the building to carry off chemical fumes. At each control switch will be located a red pilot light which will remain lighted so long as the motor is functioning.

In the attic will also be located an 800 gallon distilled water storage tank. The water will be made available throughout the building by a blue tin pipe system. It will be distilled by a Barnstead steam heated still, working automatically.

Other features of the new Antioch structure will be an automatic combination passenger and freight elevator, an automatic emergency lighting system that will go on in case of interruption to the regular power service, a greenhouse in the rear of the building for cultivating and protecting plants for the department of biology, two lecture rooms each with 150 seats and equipped with projecting machines, and specially planned and designed furniture for each room.

PYTHIAN LYCEUM COURSE WILL OPEN

Novelty entertainment will be stressed in the program of the Gilbert Male Quartet, which will appear at the Knights of Pythias Hall at Alpha at 8 o'clock Friday night as the opening number on the Lyceum course sponsored by the Beaver Creek Grange. Five numbers comprise the series.

The best songs, with sufficient variety to appeal to the popular taste, will be offered by the Gilbert Quartet, which will stick strictly to vocal numbers.

Songs reminiscent of Civil War days will be presented in appropriate costumes and the listeners' memory will be refreshed by other selections leading up to the best of modern compositions.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

FOR QUICK, HARMLESS COMFORT Children Cry for It

FOR CONSTIPATION, DARRHEAD, FEVERISHNESS

ORPHIUM

TONIGHT AND TUESDAY

Warner Bros. Present

MONTE BLUE

With Edna Murphy And Grant Withers In

A Thundering Railroad Melodrama!

"The Greyhound Limited"

Also "The Collegians" in two thrilling reels

Bijou

TONIGHT

"BLUE SKIES"

A six reel comedy drama with HELEN TWELVETREES

Also a two reel comedy

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF THE "KING OF KINGS"

Admission 15c and 25c

Phone 145 for Electric

SERVICE Or REPAIR OF ANY KIND

MILLER ELECTRIC

34 West Main St.

A "MOST BEAUTIFUL" OF RADIO

Olive Shea, 18, of New York, was selected from among more than 150 entries, covering the entire United States, as the "most beautiful staff radio artist in America."

SAVE The Difference

When you ship by truck, you save in two ways. No trucking to and from stations, cutting operations down to two. From your address to truck and truck to addressed.

Jesse Gilbert

136 W. Main St. Phone 304

Shagmoor

IF QUALITY COUNTS, YOU WANT A

SMART, PRACTICAL AND DEPENDABLE

..for street wear
..for motoring
..for short train trips
..for transcontinental tours
..for European travel
..for the races
..for football games
..for aerial travel
..for yachting
..for shopping
..for Palm Beach
..for the Riviera
..for town and country
..for cold weather
..for most any occasion

"Shagmoor" Top Coats are defined in this city to this establishment exclusively.

Of the purest weather-proof wool—or of the softest, warmest alpaca fleece..

JOBE'S

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. JULIA CARROLL

Mrs. Julia Carroll, 77, wife of Charles Carroll, died at her home, 439 E. Market St., at 6:45 o'clock Sunday morning from a complication of ailments following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Carroll was born in Spring Valley November 14, 1851 but had lived in Xenia for the last forty years. She was a member of Trinity M. E. Church.

Surviving besides her second husband is one son, Milo Jackson, Springfield, and a sister, Mrs. Jacob LeValley, Xenia.

The body was removed to the home of the sister, Mrs. LeValley, 25 Bellbrook Ave., where funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday with interment in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call anytime.

DO YOU FEEL SAFE?

Dayton Thorobred Balloons

ON SLIPPERY STREETS

It's a lot better to trade your old tires in and put a few dollars in new Dayton Thorobreds than take any chances.

Xenia Auto Necessity Co.

"Tom and Dick The Tire Boys"

Phone 533 For Road Service

COAL BARGAINS

Look These Prices Over And Save Your Money

Miller's Creek Big Egg $6.25 per ton, delivered
Elkhorn, Ky. Lump . $6.50 per ton, delivered
Island Creek, W. Va. Lump $7.00 per ton, Del.
Blue Diamond, Ky. Lump $7.00 per ton, Del.
Dana Lump . . . . . $7.50 per ton, delivered
Pocahontas Forked Lump $7.75 per ton, Del.

Why pay more---our prices are always the lowest. We handle nothing but high grade coal. Call up 523 and let us talk over your coal problems.

Lampert Coal Co.

NORTH DETROIT ST.

YOU'LL FIND NEW PLEASURE IN DISHES MADE WITH

"E" BRAND SELECTED PINK SALMON

Open a can of "E" BRAND SELECTED PINK SALMON, break apart the closely packed pink meat and see how smooth, fine textured and delicate it is! Salmon experts declare that no finer flavored salmon swims the icy waters of the Arctic sea. They are the first choice of the native Alaskans to whom salmon—instead of bread—is the "staff of life." For fine quality, superb flavor and absolute cleanliness and purity it is unexcelled. The best salmon for all general purpose uses. It costs less than any other salmon of the same grade.

FOR RICHLY COLORED HAND PACKED SALMON ASK FOR "E" BRAND FANCY ALASKA

"E" TUNA FISH

Are you wishing for some new, especially tempting dish for luncheon or dinner? Then get a can of "E" BRAND TUNA FISH and serve it creamed, as a salad, or in any of the many delicious ways in which it is so easily prepared. Delicate, fine flavored, and as dainty as the white meat of chicken it is absolutely free from any strong fishy taste or odor. Include it in tomorrow's grocery order.

THE EAVEY CO.

WHOLESALE GROCERS

More Than 60 Years of Business Integrity

Back of All "E" Brand Products.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded